Don't ever talk about anything you have seen or heard concerning someone's death outside the walls of our home. Mourning families need to know they can trust our integrity and our ability to keep confidentiality. For the author's family, these admonitions were ingrained in the children's minds at an early age. This book gives an insightful view of every facet of the funeral from the time a death call is received until the funeral is completed. Stories of days in the ambulance business in conjunction with the funeral home are also related. The funeral director's role, the spouse's role, the children's role, and how the children thrived in an atmosphere of death are shared with the reader. How funeral directors cope with stress and how wives cope with their husbands during these times are revealed. Years later, following a tragic death, three people look back and share their stories of moving from despair to recovery. Interspersed through every chapter are stories and vignettes shared by many funeral directors throughout the Midwest concerning the lifestyle for the family living in the funeral home and true incidents of specific funerals. Some stories are sad, others are tragic, a few are humorous. Embracing faith, hope, and love is a primary requisite for healing. Intended audience: General readers of all ages, funeral home directors, hospice patients, mortuary students, and people who have had a loved one die by natural means or tragedy. McClure Funeral Home, Sentinel, Washita County, Oklahoma, Funeral Services McClure Funeral Home (Sentinel, Oklahoma), 1993 Funeral directors. This volume outlines the belief that nursing homes can and should support the physical, psychological, and social needs of residents and that residents can thrive in nursing homes when these needs are met. The book's contributors explore the role that palliative or comfort care plays in enhancing the quality of life of nursing home residents as well as the medical, familial, psychological, cultural, and financial issues that influence decision making about end of life care. The book is designed to be a tool to prepare social workers to advocate for a greater incorporation of palliative care and psychosocial care into the culture of nursing home care. The book includes discussions of the psychosocial needs of nursing home residents and families, the financing of long-term care and end of life care, ethical issues in chronic care and end of life trends and characteristics in nursing home care, rituals and grief at end of life, and considerations for the future. Each chapter includes case examples to further illustrate points made. Johnson Co, KY, 2001. A project of the Johnson County Historical and Genealogical Society.
