The Lightning That Strikes the Neighbors' House Nick Lantz, 2010-04-01 Nick Lantz explores the transformative power of tragic and miraculous experiences through these poems that illuminate near misses of tragedy and transcendence His gaze is both roving and microscopic the Challenger explosion Bigfoot a love letter written from inside a missile silo a mother naming and re naming a family s short lived pets and a plea for post 9 11 redemption Lantz never lets his subjects or his readers off the hook plunging head first into worlds that are both eccentric and familiar alarming and hopeful Finalist Foreword

Magazine s Poetry Book of the Year Fragments in Us Dennis Trudell, 1996 In this collection of poems spanning thirty years of work Dennis Trudell writes about the dense humanity of cities about Chicago basketball an inner city fire about Vietnam and Central America about sons and parents Above all he writes about the humility ad humanity we gain from recognizing our ties to all our fellow sojourners on this earth noticing the strangers and neighbors are often brave and resilient and lovely beyond reason Borrowed Dress Cathy A. Colman, 2001 With wry humor and unflinching honesty Cathy Colman crosses the terrain of love family and art asking why we resist becoming the person we truly are Ejo

Derick Burleson, 2000 In 1994 the worst episode of genocide since the Holocaust of the Second World War ravaged the Central African country of Rwanda Derick Burleson lived there and taught at the National University during the two years leading up to the genocide The poems in this collection explore the cataclysm in a variety of forms and voices through the culture myths and customs he absorbed during this time Ejo meaning yesterday and tomorrow in Kinyarwanda celebrates in language both lyrical and austere the lives of the friends Burleson made in Rwanda those who survived to tell their own stories and those whose voices were silenced The Year We Studied Women Bruce Snider, 2003 In this intimate first collection Bruce Snider explores the intricacies of memory loss and identity in poems about everything from algebra to sperm to lipstick A farmer finds the body of a dead child a boy watches his mother get ready for a date a woman with cancer shops for a wig an overweight sister shares a cupcake with her little brother In the book s longest and most complex poem a tarot card reading excavates the relationship between a son and his distant often violent father Sometimes funny always big hearted and inventive Snider catalogues the minutiae of daily life with language that is plainspoken yet strongly imagistic weaving together both public and private moments as he maps one man s longing for transformation It s an attempt to reconcile it all past and present fear and desire self and sexuality making the barest symbols of maleness and femaleness into their own deeply personal language Poets & Writers , 2008 The Low End of Higher Things David Clewell, 2003 The

Low End of Higher Things by David Clewell is a collection of poems that explores various topics with a narrative energy and multi layered curiosity One of the highlights is an elegy for a federal agent who jumped out a window under the influence of LSD The poems are known for their engagement with subjects that might not seem high but are elevated by Clewell s poetic treatment Falling Brick Kills Local Man Mark Kraushaar, 2009-02-02 Falling Brick Kills Local Man is a daring and inventive collection of narrative poems rich with thoughtful and precise language Mark Kraushaar writes about what moves him whether that is the war in Iraq the notion of synchronicity the retelling of children s stories or a problem of recollection Often inspired by newspaper stories or witnessed scenes these poems are a refreshingly honest exploration of our interconnected and multifaceted world Finalist Poetry Midwest Book Awards About Crows Craig Blais, 2013-05-17 An unsentimental and at times disquieting first collection the poems of About Crows excavate self family race location sex art and religion to uncover the artifacts of a succession of traumas that the speaker does not always experience firsthand but carries with him to refashion into some new importance This is a book of half states broken affiliations and dislocation The speaker leads the reader through the fragments of a flooded town that grows increasingly elusive the more one looks for it through a succession of Seoul love motels that further displace the outsider to unclaimed margins transformed into sites of creative invention through galleries of artwork where movement color and image are renewed through ekphrasis and through the world of the metatextual long poem The Cult Poem where good and bad moral binaries tangle into a rat s nest of our best and worst spiritual ambitions The poems and sequences of About Crows are marked by their artistic balance of the sublime and the profane of polyphony syntactical complexity clashing images cagey humor and unsettling sincerity all trying desperately to connect
