Future Of African Cities Challenges And Priorities In Urban Development:

The Future of African Cities Catherine Farvacque-Vitkovi?,1998-01-01 The growth of Africa s cities has outstripped local capacities of management absorption and financing Yet cities do not have to be a drain on the national economy on the contrary they can add new dynamism to the process of economic growth This book addresses two basic questions What have we learned Where are we going It takes stock of two decades of experience in urban development proposes a common sense priority agenda for the urban sector in the region and suggests some operational tools to carry it out Adapt du r sum de l auteur

African Artificial Intelligence Mark Nasila,2024-05-27 Artificial intelligence AI is upending life work and play as we know it and it s only just getting started The rise of AI is a milestone on par with the discovery of fire the invention of the wheel and the creation of the internet In short AI is going to change everything For some that s an exciting prospect For others it s terrifying However you feel about AI there s no escaping it whether you re in a global metropolis or a farmer in rural KwaZulu Natal Dr Mark Nasila has been watching AI s ascent for over a decade studying its effects on everything from agriculture and aviation to healthcare education entertainment crime prevention energy management policy creation finance and anything in between and applying them to his role at one of South Africa s most successful financial institutions First National Bank a division of FirstRand Group African Artificial Intelligence is a comprehensive and fascinating journey tracing the rise of AI and its evolution into the emerging technology underpinning all others from connected devices and smart chatbots to the metaverse Mark combines unexpected use cases and tales of cutting edge innovation with a unique and potent argument harnessing AI to solve Africa s problems requires embracing it from an African perspective African nations can t afford to simply import AI solutions from afar Instead Mark contends they need to rework remix and refine AI so it s able to meet uniquely African challenges in uniquely African ways and to take advantage of the once in a generation opportunity AI represents for every industry sector and person everywhere

Renewing Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Deryke Belshaw,the late Arthur Ian Livingstone,2005-06-29 Renewing Development in Sub Saharan Africa reviews the debates and brings together specialist contributions to provide a clear guide to the major complexities of African development They lay the foundation for designing a range of individual country specific policy sets in which the strategic components are prioritized according to each country s constraints and opportunities The emphasis of the book is on the identification of effective strategies that will enable individual countries to most effectively exploit their growth opportunities and to meet poverty reducing and other key equity objectives

Urban Planning Challenges and Innovations in Sub-Saharan Africa Abubakari Ahmed,Millicent A. Akaateba,Bernard A. A. Akanbang,2025-07-16 Urban planning practice in Sub Saharan Africa increasingly encounters complexities due to the confluence of urbanisation climate change and their interconnected drivers and consequences The potential effect of these complexities on achieving the sustainable development goals is significant This book explores the unique challenges faced by rapidly growing cities in Sub Saharan Africa including urban crime informality land governance development control and the degradation of green spaces as well as how these issues are addressed in planning education and emerging innovations The book presents various case studies from selected African countries emphasising contemporary urban challenges and innovative strategies including implementing artificial intelligence which is being adopted to tackle these issues Chapters analyse the significance of reflective planning hybrid governance international development and technological advancements in influencing the future trajectory of urban development planning By providing a comprehensive overview of these issues this book serves as a crucial resource for urban planners policymakers scholars and students dedicated to the sustainable development of cities in Sub Saharan Africa

Urban Governance Voice and Poverty in the Developing World Nick Devas,2014-10-14 Poverty and governance are both issues high on the agenda of international agencies and governments in the South With urban areas accounting for a steadily growing share of the world s poor people an international team of researchers focused their attention on the hitherto little studied relationship between urban governance and urban poverty In their timely and in depth examination of ten cities in Africa Asia and Latin America they demonstrate that in many countries the global trends towards decentralization and democratization offer new opportunities for the poor to have an influence on the decisions that affect them They also show how that influence depends on the nature of those democratic arrangements and decision making processes at the local level as well as on the ability of the poor to organize The study involved interviews with key actors within and outside city governments discussions with poverty groups community organizations and non governmental organizations NGOs as well as analyses of data on poverty services and finance This book presents insights conclusions and practical examples that are of relevance for other cities It outlines policy implications for national and local governments NGOs and donor agencies and highlights ways in which poor people can use their voice to influence the various institutions of city governance For the City Yet to Come AbdouMaliq Simone,2004-10-07 A study of how colonial and postcolonial legacies manifest in African cities and African urban planning Better Cities, Better World Catherine Farvacque-Vitkovic,Mihaly Kopanyi,2019-07-30 The planet is becoming increasingly urban In many ways the urbanization wave and the unprecedented urban growth of the past 20 years have created a sense of urgency and an impetus for change Some 54 percent of the world population 3.9 billion people lives in urban areas today thus it has become clear that business as usual is no longer possible This new configuration places great expectations on local governments While central governments are subject to instability and political changes local governments are seen as more inclined to stay the course Because they are closer to the people the voice of the people is more clearly heard for a truly democratic debate over the choice of neighborhood investments and city wide policies and programs as well as the decision process on the use of public funds and taxpayers money In a context of skewed financial resources and complex urban challenges which range from the provision of basic traditional municipal services to the newer agenda of social inclusion economic development city branding emergency response smart technologies and green investment more cities are searching for more effective and innovative ways to deal with new and old problems Better Cities Better World A Handbook on Local Governments Self Assessments is at the heart of this debate It recognizes the complex past current and future challenges that cities face and outlines a bottom line no nonsense framework for data based policy dialogue and action a common language that for the first time helps connect the dots between public investments programming Urban Audit Self Assessment and financing Municipal Finances Self Assessment It helps address two key questions too often bypassed when it comes to municipal infrastructure and services financing Are we doing the right things Are we doing things right Better Cities Better World A Handbook on Local Governments Self Assessments offers a bit of everything for everyone Central governments will be attracted by the purposefulness and clarity of these tools their impact on local government capacity and performance building and how they improve the implementation of transformative actions for policy change City leaders and policy makers will find the sections on objectives and content instructive and informative with each issue placed in its context and strong connections between data and municipal action Municipal staff in charge of day to day management will find that the sections on tasks and the detailed step by step walk through the process give them the pragmatic knowhow that they need Cities partners such as bilateral and multilateral agencies banks and funds utility companies civil society and private operators will find the foundations for more effective collaborative partnerships

A Guide to the World Bank, 2003 The World Bank Group works in more than 100 developing economies and is one of the world's largest sources of development assistance In 2002 the institution provided US 19.5 billion in loans to its client countries This guide reviews the organisation's history objectives and operations and looks at the five institutions that make up the World Bank Group the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development IBRD the International Development Association IDA the International Finance Corporation IFC the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency MIGA and the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes ICSID

Street Addressing and the Management of Cities Catherine Farvacque-Vitkovi?, 2005 There has been a dramatic demographic shift from rural areas to cities in sub-Saharan African countries over the last few decades This continuing urbanisation trend has created new challenges for local governments in terms of managing urban services since over half of the city streets in these countries have no names or addresses and the problem is particularly acute in the poorest neighbourhoods This publication examines the use of street addressing initiatives to address this problem giving information on current and future applications considering examples of use in many African countries and setting out a methodological guide for implementing such initiatives

Regional Economic Outlook, May 2006, Sub-Saharan Africa International Monetary Fund. Thirty Years of World Bank Shelter Lending Robert M. Buckley, Jerry Kalarickal, 2006-01-01 As England s Industrial Revolution started the process of urbanization that has since characterized development throughout the world a poet worried about the dark satanic mills that were such a fundamental part of this revolution However despite his misgivings he also suggested that it was necessary for societies to arm themselves with chariots of fire and other weapons so that they could master this process In a somewhat more prosaic poetic vein World Bank President Robert McNamara launched the bank s shelter assistance programs saying that If cities do not begin to deal more constructively with poverty poverty may begin to deal more destructively with cities These concerns would appear to have even more resonance today as the population of cities in developing countries increasing by unprecedented levels of more than 1 billion people per year for the next 15 years This magnitude suggests the scale of the increase in the investment in shelter needed to meet the needs of this growing population

Land Issues for Urban Governance in Sub-Saharan Africa Robert Home, 2020-11-11 Sub Saharan Africa faces many development challenges such as its size and diversity rapid urban population growth history of colonial exploitation fragile states and conflicts over land and natural resources This collection contributed from different academic disciplines and professions seeks to support the UN Habitat New Urban Agenda passed at Habitat III in Quito Ecuador in 2016 It will attract readers from urban specialisms in law geography and other social sciences and from professionals and policy makers concerned with land use planning surveying and governance Among the topics addressed by the book are challenges to governance institutions how international development is delivered building land management capacity funding for urban infrastructure land based finance ineffective planning regulation and the role of alternatives to courts in resolving boundary and other land disputes Issues of rights and land titling are explored from perspectives of human rights law the right to development and women s rights of access to land and land tenure regularization Particular challenges of housing planning and informality are addressed through contributions on international real estate investment community participation in urban settlement upgrading housing delivery as a partly failing project to remedy apartheid s legacy and complex interactions between political power money and land Infrastructure challenges are approached in studies of food security and food systems urban resilience against natural and man made disasters and informal public transport

Governance on the Ground Patricia Louise McCarney, Richard E. Stren, 2003-09-15 Governance on the Ground describes people at a local level working through municipal institutions to take more responsibility for their own lives and environment This study reports what social scientists in eight local networks found when they chose their own subjects for a worldwide comparative study of institutional reform at the local level Governance on the Ground is the culminating product of the Global Urban Research Initiative a major 10 year research effort that created a worldwide network of some 400 social scientists The topics these scholars cover include fiscal innovation infrastructure projects social development housing harbor development and political party participation Material comes from Chile Colombia Mexico Brazil Sudan Zimbabwe South Africa Lebanon Israel Egypt Bangladesh India Vietnam Indonesia Thailand and the Philippines All chapters present governance at a local level in a period characterized by decentralization and democratization when many governments were improving local accountability and transparency and people were actively participating in public forums especially through institutions of civil society Many chapters show the close connection between social science and actual policy formation and implementation in the developing world

The Afterlife Is Where We Come From Alma Gottlieb, 2015-10-31 When a new baby arrives among the Beng people of West Africa they see it not as being born but as being reincarnated after a rich life in a previous world Far from being a tabula rasa a Beng infant is thought to begin its life filled with spiritual knowledge How do these beliefs affect the way the Beng rear their children In this unique and engaging ethnography of babies Alma Gottlieb explores how religious ideology affects every aspect of Beng childrearing practices from bathing infants to protecting them from disease to teaching them how to crawl and walk and how widespread poverty limits these practices A mother of two Gottlieb includes moving discussions of how her experiences among the Beng changed the way she saw her own parenting Throughout the book she also draws telling comparisons between Beng and Euro American parenting bringing home just how deeply culture matters to the way we all rear our children All parents and anyone interested in the place of culture in the lives of infants and vice versa will enjoy The Afterlife Is Where We Come From This wonderfully reflective text should provide the impetus for formulating research possibilities about infancy and toddlerhood for this century Caren J Frost Medical Anthropology Quarterly Alma Gottlieb's careful and thought provoking account of infancy sheds spectacular light upon a much neglected topic It makes a strong case for the central place of babies in anthropological accounts of religion Gottlieb's remarkably rich account delivered after a long and reflective period of gestation deserves a wide audience across a range of disciplines
