Walker,1977 Black Economic Development American Assembly, 35th, New York, 1969,1969 Growth, Equity, And Self-reliance Ampah G. Johnson,2019-04-02 This book explores what is for many African countries a new and controversial policy of relying on private actors rather than on government organizations to foster economic growth and development The contributors explore key issues such as the impact of private enterprise on the development process small and medium sized businesses as a vehicle for growth and strategies for the expansion of markets and trade The contributors analyze the historical social cultural and economic obstacles to the development of private enterprise in Africa the roles of government women and business organizations access to capital and the function of financial institutions private initiative and agriculture the use of skilled and semi skilled labor and technology transfer Arguing that private sector forces are crucial to African socioeconomic development the contributors recommend economic policy reform establishment of more private enterprises and encouragement of new domestic and foreign investment Entrepreneurship-centered Economic Development Wylin Jenelle Dassie,1998 Financing Black Economic Development Timothy Mason Bates,William D. It focuses on issues relating to gender class and ethnic identity such as neo natal mortality school dropout and horticultural and agribusiness exports Variations in these areas point to opportunities for changing performance reducing reducing inequalities learning from other policy experiences and escaping the ties of structure and the legacies of a colonial past African Economic Development rejects teleological illusions and Eurocentric prejudice criticizing a range of orthodox and heterodox economists for their cavalier attitude to evidence Instead it shows that seeing the contradictions of capitalism for what they are fundamental and enduring may help policy officials protect themselves against the misleading idea that development can be expected to be a smooth linear process or that it would be if certain impediments were removed Drawing on decades of research and policy experience this book combines careful use of available evidence from a range of African countries with economic insights to make the policy case for specific types of public sector investment

Woodson,1987 African Economic Development ,2020 This book challenges conventional wisdoms both about economic performance and about policies for economic development in African countries Its starting point is the striking variation in economic performance unevenness and inequalities form a central fact The authors highlight not only differences between African countries but also variations within countries differences often organized around distinctions of gender class and ethnic identity For example school dropout and neonatal mortality have been reduced particularly for some classes of women in some areas Horticultural and agribusiness exports have grown far more rapidly in some countries than others These variations and many others point to opportunities for changing performance reducing inequalities learning from other African policy experiences and escaping the ties of structure and legacies of a colonial past The book rejects teleological illusions and Eurocentric prejudice but does pay close attention to the results of policy in more industrialized parts of the world Seeing the contradictions of capitalism for what they are fundamental and enduring may help policy officials protect themselves against the misleading idea that development is likely to be a smooth linear process or that it would be were certain impediments removed The authors criticize a wide range of orthodox and heterodox economists especially for their cavalier attitude to statistical sources Drawing on decades of research and policy experience they combine careful use of available evidence from a range of African countries with heterodox political economy insights mainly derived from Kalecki Kaldor and Hirschman to make the policy case for specific types of public sector investment
