Happy As A Sand Boy Early Railway Posters:

Happy as a Sand-boy Beverley Cole, Richard Durack, National Railway Museum, 1990 The rivalry of railway companies and their changing attitudes to advertising from the 1870s to the 1920s is traced The book illustrates the development of the advertising poster with plates from the National Railway Museum's collection      Early Railway Posters Beverley Col, Richard Durack, 1990      Railway Posters Lorna Frost, 2012-07-20 Railway posters have huge appeal for the modern audience but just what explains this continuing interest Enduring images of iconic locomotives bathing beauties and characters such as Sunny South Sam are testament to the creativity of the railway company marketing departments and the posters tell us not only about railway history and technology architectural and engineering accomplishments but also about the cultural and social significance of the railways The influence of the railway industry on our cities and coastlines and on the development of leisure time and holiday resorts can be seen in the recurring images of ramblers bathers and idyllic tourist destinations This book explores the changing styles and functions of the railway poster from the early pre grouping days through to the inter war golden age and nationalised British Railways      Edwardian Culture Samuel Shaw, Sarah Shaw, Naomi Carle, 2017-11-22 Edwardian Culture Beyond the Garden Party is the first truly interdisciplinary collection of essays dealing with culture in Britain c 1895 1914 Bringing together essays on literature art politics religion architecture marketing and imperial history the study highlights the extent to which the culture and politics of Edwardian period were closely intertwined The book builds upon recent scholarship that seeks to reclaim the term Edwardian from prevalent restrictive usages by venturing beyond the garden party and the political rally to uncover some of the terrain that lies between The essays in the volume which deal with both famous writers such as J M Barrie and Arnold Bennett as well as many lesser known figures draw attention to the nuanced multiplicity of experience and cultural forms that existed during the period and highlight the ways in which a closer examination of Edwardian culture complicates our definitions of Victorian and Modern The book argues that the Edwardian era rather than constituting a coda to the Victorian period or a languid pause before modernism shook things up possessed a compelling and creative tenor of its own      The Invention of the English Landscape Peter Borsay, Rosemary Sweet, 2023-07-27 Since at least the Reformation English men and women have been engaged in visiting exploring and portraying in words and images the landscape of their nation The Invention of the English Landscape examines these journeys and investigations to explore how the natural and historic English landscape was reconfigured to become a widely enjoyed cultural and leisure resource Peter Borsay considers the manifold forces behind this transformation such as the rise of consumer culture the media industrial and transport revolutions the Enlightenment Romanticism and the Gothic revival In doing so he reveals the development of a powerful bond between landscape and natural identity against the backdrop of social and political change from the early modern period to the start of the Second World War Borsay's interdisciplinary approach demonstrates how human understandings of the natural world shaped the geography of England and uncovers a wealth of valuable material from novels and poems to paintings that expose historical understandings of the landscape This innovative approach illuminates how the English countryside and historic buildings became cultural icons behind which the nation was rallied during war time and explores the emergence of a post war heritage industry that is now a definitive part of British cultural life

The Image of Georgian Bath 1700-2000 Peter Borsay, 2000-07-06 This interdisciplinary study explores the evolution structure and uses of the image of Georgian Bath from its genesis in the eighteenth century to its renaissance in the twentieth century In recent decades there has been both a popular resurgence of interest in heritage and tradition and a growing academic awareness of the power of imagery in shaping the lives of individuals and societies There is perhaps no city in Britain so saturated in history and layered with historic imagery as Bath It therefore provides an ideal case study to investigate the dynamic fusion and impact of the forces of past and representation The dominant perception of Bath today is that of a classical and particularly Georgian city In this stimulating and scholarly study Peter Borsay examines the construction and development of this image Its principal components biography and architecture are explored together with the media through which it was constructed and transmitted as well as its commercial social political and psychological uses Dr Borsay concludes by relating the findings for Bath to current debates on towns heritage and the nature of history

Travel Marketing and Popular Photography in Britain, 1888-1939 Sara Dominici, 2017-10-05 This book explores how popular photography influenced the representation of travel in Britain in the period from the Kodak led emergence of compact cameras in 1888 to 1939 The book examines the implications of people s increasing familiarity with the language and possibilities of photography on the representation of travel as educational concerns gave way to commercial imperatives Sara Dominici takes as a touchstone the first fifty years of activity of the Polytechnic Touring Association PTA a London based philanthropic turned commercial travel firm As the book reveals the relationship between popular photography and travel marketing was shaped by the different desires and expectations that consumers and institutions bestowed on photography this was the struggle for the interpretation of the travel image

Railway Posters 1923-1947 Beverley Cole, Richard Durack, 1992 Between 1923 and 1947 the railway poster in Britain was in its heyday These were the years of the so called Big Four companies the Great Western Railway Southern Railway London Midland and Scottish Railway and London and North Eastern Railway In the competition for passengers each of the companies developed its own distinctive style of poster advertising This book contains over 200 of the most striking and innovative designs of the period

Designing the Seaside Fred Gray, 2006 In Designing the Seaside Fred Gray provides a history of seaside architecture from the 18th century to the present day investigating leisure entertainment taste fashion and gender and shows how the seaside even became a hotbed for moral and sexual issues from the early use of bathing machines to twentieth century beauty pageants and naturist groups He relates the evolution of resort architecture to sweeping changes in how seaside nature was experienced and used by holidaymakers The book also traces the history of the coastal resort with examples ranging from Regency Sidmouth to Victorian Scarborough and early 20th century Morecambe as well as assessing seaside developments in the USA and Continental Europe from Coney Island and Santa Barbara to Nice and Trouville Featuring many colourful informative and often entertaining photographs drawings guidebook illustrations postcards and publicity posters from resorts around the world Designing the Seaside is a thoroughly readable as well as a visually fascinating account of changing attitudes to holidaymaking and its setting BOOK JACKET

Travel, Tourism and Art Tijana Rakić, Jo-Anne Lester, 2016-02-17 Art in its many forms has long played an important role in people's imagination experience and remembrance of places cultures and travels as well as in their motivation to travel Travel and tourism on the other hand have also inspired numerous artists and featured in many artworks The fascinating relationships between travel tourism and art encompass a wide range of phenomena from historical Grand Tours during which a number of travellers experienced or produced artwork to present day travel inspired by art artworks produced by contemporary travellers or artworks produced by locals for tourist consumption Focusing on the representations of touristic places locals travellers and tourists in artworks the role of travel and tourism in inspiring artists as well as the role of art and artwork in imagining experiencing and remembering places and motivating travel and tourism this edited volume provides a space for an exploration of both historical and contemporary relationships between travel tourism and art Bringing together scholars from a wide range of disciplines and fields of study including geography anthropology history philosophy and urban cultural tourism art and leisure studies this volume discusses a range of case studies across different art forms and locales

Resorts and Ports Peter Borsay, John K. Luxury Railway Travel Martyn Pring, 2019-10-30 Reads like an extravagant time travel through Britain's opulence era where train travel was just as stylish and fanciful as the elite class themselves Manhattan with a Twist Martyn Pring has carried out considerable research tracing the evolution of British luxury train travel weaving railway social and travel history threads around a number of Britain's mainline routes traditionally associated with glamorous trains Drawing on contemporary coverage he chronicles the luxury products and services shaped by railway companies and hospitality businesses for Britain's burgeoning upper and middle classes and wealthy overseas visitors particularly Americans who demanded more civilized and comfortable rail travel. By Edwardian times a pleasure palace industry emerged as entrepreneurs, hotel proprietors, local authorities and railway companies all collaborated developing upscale destinations, building civic amenities, creating sightseeing and leisure pursuits and in place making initiatives to attract prosperous patrons. Luxury named trains delivered sophisticated and fashionable settings encouraging a golden age of civilized business and leisure travel. Harkening back to the inter war years, modern luxury train operators now redefine and capture the allure and excitement of dining and train travel experiences. Martyn's extraordinarily beautiful book is more than a collection of classic railway posters; it describes a way of life that's now lost in the mists of the twentieth century. As a piece of social history, this book is faultless and a precious reminder of luxury and class distinction, a fabulous book. Exceptional Books Monthly. A comprehensive account of luxury hotel trains, dining trains and the presentations of heritage railways brings the story to its unexpected conclusion; this is a lively take on a neglected topic. BackTrack. An Historical Geography of Recreation and Tourism in the Western World 1540-1940 J. Towner, 1996-11-05. Bringing together a wide range of material from a number of different disciplines, this book provides a historical and geographical approach to the field of recreation and tourism. Cornwall Ella Westland, 1997. This work provides a historical analysis of Cornwall and its culture.
