Harambee! Grace Kuto, 1994-05-07 Harambee! Grace Kuto, 2008 Food Culture in Sub-Saharan Africa Fran Osseo-Asare, 2005-06-30 East African notably Ethiopian cuisine is perhaps the most well known in the States This volume illuminates West southern and Central African cuisine as well to give students and other readers a solid understanding of how the diverse African peoples grow cook and eat food and how they celebrate special occasions and ceremonies with special foods Readers will also learn about African history religions and ways of life plus how African and American foodways are related For example cooking techniques such as deep frying and ingredients such as peanuts chili peppers okra watermelon and even cola were introduced to the United States by sub Sahara Africans who were brought as slaves Africa is often presented as a monolith but this volume treats each region in turn with representative groups and foodways presented in manageable fashion with a truer picture able to emerge It is noted that the boundaries of many countries are imposed so that food culture is more fluid in a region Commonalities are also presented in the basic format of a meal with a starch with a sauce or stew and vegetables and perhaps some protein typically cooked over a fire in a pot supported by three stones Representative recipes a timeline glossary and evocative photos complete the narrative We'Moon, '98 Musawa, 1997-07
