Nadine Attewell

Hare Sitting Up:

Women in Love David Herbert Lawrence, 1922 Growing up in the sheltered society of 1920s England Gudrun and Ursula know little about the ways of love So when they pursue thrilling torrid affairs with a notorious playboy and a brooding philanderer what they discover about their lovers and themselves may be more all consuming and dangerously volatile than they ever dared imagine Container Monthly Packet of Evening Readings for Members of the English Church (earlier "for Younger Members of the English Church") ,1894 Hare Sitting Up John Innes Mackintosh Stewart (Schriftsteller), 1959 Be Ruled by Me, and Other Stories Nick Fox, 2024-10-11 There is no single unifying theme to the 22 stories in this collection Many have an element of fantasy Two stories involve the intrusion of a historical period the Peasants Revolt Jacobean England into our present day world another features a wholly imaginary world Sometimes the inspiration comes from folklore such as a shapeshifting hare or pagan aspects of a harvest festival In one story the fantasy is based on a dream another describes a frightening train journey Memory is often important people look back on their younger lives trying to make sense of the past Structure is crucial in a short story Some of these are narrated in a caf a pub or a club The reaction of the listeners is significant Sometimes characters are reading an old journal a series of letters a recommended book or a poem set for homework How do they respond Three stories may be categorised as flash fiction They comprise only about 250 words each and are attempts to develop the possibilities of this format The Armburgh Papers Joan Armburgh, Robert Armburgh, 1998 Newly discovered family correspondence to stand alongside the Paston letters and Stonor papers Torn Ear Geoffrey Malone, 2011-11-03 The wind carried the scent of blood far into the night while the vixen still pawed at the broken little bodies on the pile of earth But Torn Ear survives the game keeper s attack Slowly his mother introduces him to the fox s world the skills of hunting and how to avoid danger Then he is on his own Until he meets Velvet and they have cubs of their own But again man intervenes and his favourite cub is threatened Torn Ear must rescue her but will he escape the clutches of the game keeper this time The Lone Hand: November 1907-April 1908 ,1908 Journal of Mammalogy ,1924 Cariology Ernest Newbrun, 1924 Kafka's Creatures Marc Lucht, Donna Yarri, 2010-06-22 There are few literary authors in whose work animals and other creatures play as prominent a role as they do in Franz Kafka s Exploring multiple dimensions of Kafka s incorporation of nonhuman creatures into his writing this volume is the first collection in English of essays devoted to illuminating this important and ubiquitous dimension of his work The chapters here are written by an array of international scholars from various fields and represent a diversity of interpretive approaches In the course of exploring the roles played by nonhuman animals and other creatures in Kafka s writing they help make sense of the literary and philosophical significance of his preoccupation with animals and make clear that careful investigation of those creatures illuminates his core concerns the nature of power the inescapability of history and guilt the dangers promise and strangeness of the alienation endemic to modern life the human propensity for cruelty and oppression the limits and conditions of humanity and the risks of dehumanization the nature of authenticity family life Jewishness and the nature of language and art Thus the essays in this volume enrich our understanding of Kafka s work as a whole Especially striking is the extent to which the articles collected here bring into focus the ways in which Kafka anticipated many of the recent developments in contemporary thinking about nonhuman animals
