Tree and Serpent: Early Buddhist Art in India John S. Guy, 2023-07-17 A pioneering study of the emergence of Buddhist art in southern India featuring vibrant photography of rare works many published here for the first time Named for two primary motifs in Buddhist art the sacred bodhi tree and the protective snake Tree Serpent Early Buddhist Art in India is the first publication to foreground devotional works produced in the Deccan from 200 BCE to 400 CE Unlike traditional narratives which focus on northern India where the Buddha was born taught and died this groundbreaking book presents Buddhist art from monastic sites in the south Long neglected this is among the earliest surviving bodies of Buddhist art and among the most sublimely beautiful An international team of researchers contributes new scholarship on the sculptural and devotional art associated with Buddhism and masterpieces from recently excavated Buddhist sites are published here for the first time including Kanaganahalli and Phanigiri the most important new discoveries in a generation With its exploration of Buddhism's emergence in southern India as well as of India's deep commercial and cultural engagement with the Hellenized and Roman worlds this definitive study expands our understanding of the origins of Buddhist art itself Esoteric Buddhism in Mediaeval Maritime Asia Andrea Acri, 2016-09-05 This volume advocates a trans regional and maritime focused approach to studying the genesis development and circulation of Esoteric or Tantric Buddhism across Maritime Asia from the seventh to the thirteenth centuries ce The book lays emphasis on the mobile networks of human agents Masters textual sources Texts and images Icons through which Esoteric Buddhist traditions spread Capitalising on recent research and making use of both disciplinary and area focused perspectives this book highlights the role played by Esoteric Buddhist maritime networks in shaping intra Asian connectivity In doing so it reveals the limits of a historiography that is premised on land based transmission of Buddhism from a South Asian homeland and advances an alternative historical narrative that overturns the popular perception regarding Southeast Asia as a periphery that passively received overseas influences Thus a strong point is made for the appreciation of the region as both a crossroads and rightful terminus of Buddhist cults and for the re evaluation of the creative and transformative force of Southeast Asian agents in the transmission of Esoteric Buddhism across mediaeval Asia Amaravati Jas Elsner, 2024-07-06 A visual exploration of the Buddhist stupa or reliquary mounds at one of ancient India's most remarkable monuments at Amar vat In this book Ja Elsner presents a fresh perspective on the rich visual culture of ancient South Asia connecting the stupa's artistic innovations with advancements in Buddhist philosophy and practice He offers new insights into early Buddhist art in South India as well as a new understanding of the relationship between early Buddhism and its material culture. The photographs collected here particularly those featuring objects from the British Museum in London reveal in detail how the stupa communicated Buddhist teachings and practices to its followers making this book an invaluable resource for students and scholars alike. Problems of Chronology in Gandhāran Art Wannaporn Rienjang, Peter Stewart, 2018-03-14 Since the beginning of Gandhāran studies in the nineteenth century chronology has been one of the most significant challenges to the understanding of Gandhāran art. Many other ancient societies including those of Greece and Rome have left a wealth of textual sources which have put their fundamental chronological frameworks beyond doubt. In the absence of such sources on a similar scale even the historical eras cited on inscribed Gandhāran works of art have been hard to place. Few sculptures have such inscriptions and the majority lack any record of find spot or even general provenance. Those known to have been found at particular sites were sometimes moved and reused in antiquity. Consequently the provisional dates assigned to extant Gandhāran sculptures have sometimes differed by centuries while the narrative of artistic development remains doubtful and inconsistent. Building upon the most recent cross disciplinary research debate and excavation this volume reinforces a new consensus about the chronology of Gandhāra bringing the history of Gandhāran art into sharper focus than ever. By considering this tradition in its wider context alongside contemporary Indian art and subsequent developments in Central Asia the authors also open up fresh questions and problems which a new phase of research will need to address. Problems of Chronology in Gandhāran Art is the first publication of the Gandhāra Connections project at the University of Oxford's Classical Art Research Centre which has been supported by the Bagri Foundation and the Neil Kreitman Foundation. It presents the proceedings of the first of three international workshops on fundamental questions in the study of Gandhāran art held at Oxford in March 2017. Hari Smriti H. Sarkar, 2006 Haribishnu Sarkar 1928-1987 Indian archaeologist contributed articles. Temples of the Indus Michael W. Meister, 2010-07-26 In Pakistan's northwest a sequence of temples built between the sixth and the tenth centuries provides a missing chapter in the evolution of the Hindu temple in South Asia. Combining some elements from Buddhist architecture in Gandhāra with the symbolically powerful curvilinear Nagara tower formulated in the early post Gupta period this group stands as an independent school of that pan-Indic form offering new evidence for its creation and original variations in the four centuries of its existence. Drawing on recent archaeology undertaken by the Pakistan Heritage Society as well as scholarship from the Encyclopaedia of Indian Temple Architecture project this volume finally allows the Salt Range and Indus temples to be integrated with the greater South Asian tradition. Chōla Murals P. S. Sriraman, 2011 This work is a comprehensive photographic documentation of the murals of Chola period of the eleventh century discovered in the dim passage around the sanctum of the Brihadisvara temple at Thanjavur, Tamilnadu in 1931.
