Gotham Book Finalist 2024 NASW Science in Society Journalism Award Finalist 2024 PEN Hessel Tiltman Prize Finalist 2024 An incredible story the writing is phenomenal John Green author of Everything Is Tuberculosis New York City 1929 A sanatorium a deadly disease and a dire nursing shortage In the pre antibiotic days when tuberculosis stirred people's darkest fears killing one in seven white nurses at Sea View New York's largest municipal hospital began quitting en masse Desperate to avert a public health crisis city officials summoned Black southern nurses luring them with promises of good pay a career and an escape from the strictures of Jim Crow But after arriving they found themselves on an isolated hilltop in the remote borough of Staten Island yet again confronting racism and consigned to a woefully understaffed sanatorium dubbed the pest house where it was said that no one left alive Spanning the Great Depression and moving through World War II and beyond this remarkable true story follows the intrepid young women known by their patients as the Black Angels For twenty years they risked their lives working under appalling conditions while caring for New York's poorest residents who languished in wards waiting to die or became guinea pigs for experimental surgeries and often deadly drugs But despite their major role in desegregating the New York City hospital system and their vital work in helping to find the cure for tuberculosis at Sea View these nurses were completely erased from history The Black Angels recovers the voices of these extraordinary women and puts them at the center of this riveting story celebrating their legacy and spirit of survival

Radical Educators Rearticulating Education and Social Change Jennifer Gale de Saxe, Tina Y. Gourd, 2018-10-03 This book is a collection of six case studies of teacher agency in action centering on voices of educators who engaged in activist work throughout the history of education in the US Through a lens of teacher agency and resistance chapter authors explore the stories of individual educators to determine how particular historical and cultural contexts contributed to these educators' activist efforts By analyzing specific modes and methods of resistance found within diverse communities throughout the last century of US education this book helps to identify and place into theoretical and historical context an underemphasized narrative of professional teacher activists within American education American Book Publishing Record, 1977-03-31 Here's quick access to more than 490 000 titles published from 1970 to 1984 arranged in Dewey sequence with sections for Adult and Juvenile Fiction Author and Title indexes are included and a Subject Guide correlates primary subjects with Dewey and LC classification numbers These cumulative records are available in three separate sets

Changing Representations of Minorities, East and West Larry E. Smith, John Rieder, 1996-01-01 Leonard Covello and the Making of Benjamin Franklin High School Michael C. Johanek, John L. Puckett, 2007 What is the mission of American public education As a nation are we still committed to educating students to be both workers and citizens as we have long proclaimed or have we lost sight of the second goal of encouraging students to be contributing members of a democratic society In this enlightening book John Puckett and Michael Johanek describe one of America's most notable experiments in community education In the process they offer a richly contextualized history of twentieth century efforts to educate students as community minded citizens Although student test scores now serve to measure schools achievements the authors argue compellingly that the democratic goals of citizen centered community schools can be reconciled with the academic performance demands of contemporary school reform movements Using the twenty year history of community centered schooling at Benjamin Franklin High School in East Harlem as a case study and reminding us of the pioneering vision of its founder Leonard Covello they suggest new approaches for educating today s students to be better public citizens

Landmarks of African American History James Oliver Horton,2005-03-24 In Landmarks of African American History James Oliver Horton chooses thirteen historic sites to explore the struggles and triumphs of African Americans and how they helped shape the rich and varied history of the United States Horton begins with the first Africans brought to Jamestown Virginia and the start of slavery in the colonies that became the United States Boston s Old State House provides the backdrop to the martyrdom of Crispus Attucks the former slave killed in the Boston Massacre the confrontation with British troops that led to the American Revolution After the Civil War former slaves settled the desolate area of Nicodemus Kansas and turned it into a thriving community The USS Arizona Memorial in Pearl Harbor Hawaii and Boston s Old State House illustrate African American contributions to the defense of their country and reveal racial tensions within the military And the black students who demanded service at Woolworth s racially segregated lunch counter in Greensboro North Carolina launched the sit in movement and advanced the fight for civil rights Horton brings together a wide variety of African American historical sites to tell of the glory and hardship of the great achievement and determination of the people and events that have shaped the values ideals and dreams of our nation

Making a Promised Land Paula J. Massood,2013-01-22 Making a Promised Land examines the interconnected histories of African American representation urban life and citizenship as documented in still and moving images of Harlem over the last century Paula J Massood analyzes how photography and film have been used over time to make African American culture visible to itself and to a wider audience and charts the ways in which the Mecca of the New Negro became a battleground in the struggle to define American politics aesthetics and citizenship Visual media were first used as tools for uplift and education With Harlem s downturn in fortunes through the 1930s narratives of black urban criminality became common in sociological tracts photojournalism and film These narratives were particularly embodied in the gangster film which was adapted to include stories of achievement economic success and later in the century a nostalgic return to the past Among the films discussed are Fights of Nations 1907 Dark Manhattan 1937 The Cool World 1963 Black Caesar 1974 Malcolm X 1992 and American Gangster 2007 Massood asserts that the history of photography and film in Harlem provides the keys to understanding the neighborhood s symbolic resonance in African American and American life especially in light of recent urban redevelopment that has redefined many of its physical and demographic contours Sustainable Food System

Assessment Alison Blay-Palmer,Damien Conaré,Ken Meter,Amanda Di Battista,Carla Johnston,2019-11-22 Sustainable Food System Assessment provides both practical and theoretical insights about the growing interest in and response to measuring food system sustainability Bringing together research from the Global North and South this book shares lessons learned explores intended and actual project outcomes and highlights points of conceptual and methodological convergence Interest in assessing food system sustainability is growing as evidenced by the Milan Urban Food Policy Pact and the importance food systems initiatives have taken in serving as a lever for attaining the UN Sustainable Development Goals This book opens by looking at the conceptual considerations of food systems indicators including the place based dimensions of food systems indicators and how measurements are implicated in sense making and visioning processes Chapters in the second part cover operationalizing metrics including the development of food systems indicator frameworks degrees of indicator complexities and practical constraints to assessment The final part focuses on the outcomes of assessment projects including impacts on food policy and communities involved highlighting the importance of building connections between sustainable food systems initiatives The global coverage and multi scalar perspectives including both conceptual and practical aspects make this a key resource for academics and practitioners across planning geography urban studies food studies and research methods It will also be of interest to government officials and those working within NGOs The Open Access version of this book available at <https://www.routledge.com/Sustainable-Food-System-Assessment-Lessons-from-Global-Practice/Blay-Palmer-Conare-Meter-Battista-Johnston/p/book/9781032083933> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
