Happy Talk Fred Graham, 1990-03-01 An award winning print and television journalist takes readers on his own journey to fame fortune and disillusionment as a lead reporter and media star Photographs Happy Talk Fred P. Graham, 1990 An award winning print and television journalist takes readers on his own journey to fame fortune and disillusionment as a lead reporter and media star Photographs This Business of Broadcasting Leonard Mogel, 2004 This guide provides industry background and career advice in a three part arrangement The first on television covers organizational structures within the networks and stations programming syndication new technology and the structures of cable television The second part on radio focuses programming formats advertising formats advertising Confessions of a Television Reporter Debi Gallo, 2017-09-27 Meet the gritty sexy world of television news and the serenity of life in Italy Denise DiBella is a successful beautiful and intelligent no nonsense broadcast news and sports reporter Through her colorful exploits she paints a vivid picture about the highs lows and loves of life within the news business Working in New York City the number one television market in the country Denise thought she made it to the top and had it all by the time she reached the age of 29 But something happened upon arriving at the pinnacle of success and she started to realize the tremendous costs she paid to reach such lofty heights Denise begins to question What's next when you finally reach your dream How do you know when enough is enough if all you see is more pain and more sacrifice Where do you find the strength to journey forward when your heart tells you it's time to move on And should you just let it all go and take a leap of faith hoping it will pay off After taking a bold jump Denise moves to Italy armed with only her cat and two suitcases There she finds answers but different ones than what she expects Even after moving across an ocean Denise asks No matter how far you run can you ever really escape yourself Go along with Denise while she reports on her wild ride through loss divorce affairs of the heart addiction and so much more in Confessions of a Television Reporter Jimmy Carter National Historic Site and Preservation District, Georgia William Patrick O'Brien, 1991 Robert Pierpoint Tony Silvia, 2014-07-15 This is the first biography of journalist Robert Pierpoint a contemporary of Edward R Murrow hired by him to cover the Korean War for CBS He went on to cover the White House through six presidents In more than 40 years with the network he covered the Kennedy assassination Watergate Nixon's resignation and the State Department culminating in memorable reporting for CBS Sunday Morning He was the winner of two Emmy Awards for investigative reporting and helped shape the careers of many of today's journalists including Bob Schieffer Dan Rather Lesley Stahl and Diane Sawyer Covering the United States Supreme Court in the Digital Age Richard Davis, 2014-08-11 This book examines the relationship between justices and the press including coverage of the institution and the effects of coverage on public opinion Walter Cronkite Doug James, 1991 A biography of Walter Cronkite emphasizing his career in television news Kirkus Reviews, 1990 Adult books are categorized by genre i.e. fiction mystery science fiction nonfiction Along with bibliographic information the expected date of publication and the names of literary agents for individual titles are provided Starred reviews serve several functions In the adult section they mark potential bestsellers major promotions book club selections and just very good books in the children s section they denote books of very high quality The unsigned reviews manage to be discerning and sometimes quite critical The Supreme Court and the Press Joe Mathewson,2011-01-25 Throughout its history the Supreme Court has had a contentious relationship with the press Yet as Joe Mathewson shows the Court and the Press provide crucial services for each other as well the press educates the public about the Court s actions and the court is charged with protecting the freedoms on which the press relies In The Supreme Court and the press Mathewson charts the history of this complex dynamic from the court s early neglect of the First Amendment through the press s coverage of today s most controversial cases With this history in mind Mathewson brings his expertise as a Journalist and lawyer to bear in offering a diagnosis of the current situation as well as offering solutions to the present shortcomings in the relationship between these two essential institutions Book Jacket

Reporting from Washington Donald A. Ritchie,2005-03-15 Beginning with 1932 when a newly elected FDR energized the sleepy capital Ritchie highlights the dramatic changes in journalism that have occurred in the last seven decades We meet legendary columnists and investigative reporters as well as the pioneers of radio television cable television and internet news We also learn about the efforts of female and black reporters to break into what had long been a bastion of white maleness the press corps From Walter Winchell to Matt Drudge the people who cover Washington politics are among the most colorful and influential in American news Reporting from Washington offers an unforgettable portrait of these figures as well as of the dramatic changes in American journalism in the twentieth century The Publishers Weekly ,1990 Handbook of Media Management and Economics Alan B. Albarran,Sylvia M. Chan-Olmsted,Michael O. Wirth,2006 This handbook provides a synthesis of current work and research in media management and economics and establishes an agenda for future activities It will serve as a foundational resource for scholars and students in media management and economics Political Communication Ethics Robert E. Denton Jr.,2000-05-30 This essay collection examines ethical concerns related to the traditional areas of political communication including campaigns media discourse and advertising as well as new technologies including the Internet In total the collection provides one of the few volumes to examine political ethics from an academic perspective rather than from a moralistic or rule orientation Bruce Gronbeck provides an assessment of presidential campaigns arguing that ethical judgments of citizens are based on candidates actions and motives character and competence Ronald Lee explores the ethics of campaign discourse and he charts the relationship between presidential candidates projection of civic virtue and the political arrangements that dictate the course of the campaign itself Steven Goldzwig and Patricia Sullivan examine what happens to discourse when the divide between the haves and have nots translates into a local community disconnected from virtual politics The nature types and impact of the growing use of hate speech in contemporary politics is explored by Rita Whillock while Robert Denton investigates television as an instrument of governing and its impact on the nature of democracy Gary Woodward looks at the ethics of political journalism and Lynda Lee Kaid analyzes the ethical issues raised by political advertising in all forms Clifford Jones looks at the impact of campaign finance rules on campaign communication strategy Gary Selnow explores the ethics of politics on the Internet and Robert Denton concludes by examining the relationship between constitutional authority and public morality An important text for students as well as scholars investigating contemporary American politics The Daily Planet Patricia Aufderheide,2000-01-01 The Daily Planet is a long awaited selection of Patricia Aufderheide s most important critical essays updated and organized thematically to demonstrate the breadth of her thinking on media and film public telecommunications policy and contemporary society The result is a pithy and provocative exploration of the culture of daily life under capitalism Here Aufderheide demonstrates criticism that is both activist and analytical She probes the processes that shape our culture by examining diverse subjects including the struggle to create quality children s television programming the meaning of Paul Harvey the evolution of the war film over the past thirty years and the ways journalism is changed by the Internet and other new technologies Throughout Aufderheide foregrounds democratic values displaying the penetrating insights that have made her a leading public intellectual and commentator on contemporary culture Covering the Courts S. L.

Alexander,2004-09-08 News coverage of law can be a daunting task for any journalist especially in a time when public interest in media coverage of the courts has greatly intensified The second edition of Covering the Courts provides the most up to date resources for journalists and students Detailed descriptions of each step of the judicial process along with tips from top journalists allow for a comprehensive analysis of courtroom activities This handbook also addresses the complex issues surrounding the free press fair trial controversy pre trial publicity and the various types of news coverage allowed across the country New discussions include recent high profile trials such as US v Microsoft the 2000 presidential election and cases relating to the terrorist attacks of 9 11 This book is a substantial resource for journalism students and journalists covering the modern legal system

The Reader's Digest DeWitt Wallace,Lila Acheson Wallace,1991 Jim Kobak's
Kirkus Reviews ,1990 Television News Anchors Thomas Fensch,1993 These articles chart the development of television news Part One examines the early years of the network news Part Two discusses the ethical and other questions facing broadcast journalism Part Three profiles 21 prominent network journalists The Electronic Grapevine Diane L.

Borden,Kerric Harvey,2013-11-05 The widespread use of the Internet as a tool for gathering and disseminating information raises serious questions for journalists and their readers about the process of reporting information Using virtual sources and publishing online is changing the way in which journalism takes place and its effect on the society it serves USE LAST THREE PARAGRAPHS ONLY FOR GENERAL CATALOGS The Electronic Grapevine explores the use of online media by reporters in the United States and examines the impact that usage may have on how journalism is framed in the cultural sphere as well as how it is conducted in the professional one It contains a mix of material examining how it feels to do online journalism how it affects those who consume it different ways that media scholars go about trying to understand it better and the likely social and cultural impact of Internet like technologies on the public at whom all this electronic information is eventually aimed Drawing from the emerging scholarly work in the field and from the real life experiences of working journalists Borden and Harvey collect contributions that examine why journalists use the Internet what changes it makes in how they approach their jobs and what differences they see in conducting their daily newsgathering with this medium rather than other methods The volume also analyses when and why journalists do not use online media and what the impact of the decision to use or not use the Internet may mean for the outer world whose perceptions of itself are so often shaped by journalistic portrait This series of thought provoking original essays explores the impact of computer based information and communication services on traditional journalistic routines and practices and thereby addresses a critical gap in the scholarly literature on communication law and culture Distinguishing between linkage devices like the Internet and database resources such as LEXIS NEXIS America Online and others this book examines the ways in which both types of online services may reshape and redefine not only the products of journalistic effort but the newsgathering process itself
