Founders, Classics, Canons Peter Baehr, 2017-07-05 Founders classics and canons have been vitally important in helping to frame sociology's identity Within the academy today a number of positions feminist postmodernist postcolonial question the status of tradition In Founders Classics Canons Peter Baehr defends the continuing importance of sociology's classics and traditions in a university education Baehr offers arguments against interpreting defending and attacking sociology's great texts and authors in terms of founders and canons He demonstrates why in logical and historical terms discourses and traditions cannot actually be founded and why the term founder has little explanatory content Equally he takes issue with the notion of canon and argues that the analogy between the theological canon and sociological classic texts though seductive is mistaken Although he questions the uses to which the concepts of founder classic and canon have been put Baehr is not dismissive On the contrary he seeks to understand the value and meaning these concepts have for the people who employ them in the cultural battle to affirm or attack the liberal university tradition remained marginalized and obscured Drawing on a wide range of published and unpublished documents from the industrial revolution Sewing Fighting and Writing is a Foucauldian genealogy of the Parisian seamstress Looking at the assemblage of radical practices in work politics and culture it explores the constitution of the self of the seamstress in the era of early industrialization and revolutionary events and considers her contribution to the socio political and cultural formations in modernity Teaching Durkheim Terry F.
