Harmony And Strife Contemporary Perspectives East West:

Harmony and Strife Shuxian Liu, Robert Elliott Allinson, 1988 This volume is intended for professional philosophers and laymen with an interest in East West studies and comparative philosophy and religion The central focus is the concept of comparing perspectives from both the Eastern and the Western philosophical traditions on harmony and strife The unique and happy result is an East West anthology which is directed at analyzing a single philosophical problem which is of importance to both traditions Unlike many anthologies which tend to be collections of isolated and unrelated essays the Editors focus on a single theme has resulted in a unified volume which maintains a high continuity of interest throughout The Editors have carefully culled and organized essays from a select group of philosophers from the United States West Germany Japan Australia Beijing Taipei and Hong Kong Harmony and strife are analyzed as systematic concepts in Western philosophy as parts of classical Chinese thought as central concepts in Buddhism as metaphysical concepts as dialectical concepts and even as null concepts The Editors have taken great care so that a continuity and a coherence of presentation is achieved despite the striking variety of perspectives from which harmony and strife are analyzed It is both unusual and important to have such a systematic and thorough investigation of a topic of paramount social and philosophical significance by some of the leading minds of the day Besides the essays included are eminently readable The volume is likely to become a standard work in this area for some years to come

Neo-Confucian Ecological Humanism Nicholas S. Brasovan, 2017-03-27 In this novel engagement with Ming Dynasty philosopher Wang Fuzhi 1619-1692 Nicholas S Brasovan presents Wang's neo-Confucianism as an important theoretical resource for engaging with contemporary ecological humanism Brasovan coins the term person in the world to capture ecological humanism's fundamental premise that humans and nature are inextricably bound together and argues that Wang's cosmology of energy qi gives us a rich conceptual vocabulary for understanding the continuity that exists between persons and the natural world The book makes a significant contribution to English language scholarship on Wang Fuzhi and to Chinese intellectual history with new English translations of classical Chinese Mandarin and French texts in Chinese philosophy and culture This innovative work of comparative philosophy not only presents a systematic and comprehensive interpretation of Wang's thought but also shows its relevance to contemporary discussions in the philosophy of ecology such as the tsunami disaster continue to demonstrate Professor Allinson's thesis that valuing human lives is the core of ethical management. His unique comparison of the ideas of the power of Fate and High Technology, his penetrating analysis of the very concept of an accident demonstrate how concepts rule our lives. His wide-ranging investigation of court cases and government documents from the seventeenth through the twentieth centuries and from places as diverse as the USA, UK, and New Zealand provide ample supporting evidence for the universality and the power of explanation of his thesis. Saving Human Lives will have an impact beyond measurement on the field of management ethics.

The Cambridge History of China: Volume 5, Sung China, 960-1279 AD, Part 2 John W. Chaffee, Denis Twitchett, 2015-03-05 This is the second of two volumes on the Sung Dynasty which together provide a comprehensive history of China from the fall of the Tang Dynasty in 907 to the Mongol conquest of the Southern Sung in 1279. With contributions from leading historians in the field, Volume 5 Part Two paints a complex portrait of a dynasty beset by problems and contradictions but one which despite its military and geopolitical weakness was nevertheless economically powerful, culturally brilliant, socially fluid, and the most populous of any empire in global history to that point. In this much anticipated addition to the series, the authors survey key themes across ten chapters, including government, economy, society, religion, and thought, to provide an authoritative and topical treatment of a profound and significant period in Chinese history.

Not Grown Up Forever Ching Man Lam, 2007 This book is based on a Chinese conception of adolescent development which is a model that incorporates culture and migration as two essential components of its framework. This framework is based on the notion that there is a dynamic interplay between culture and migration in Chinese immigrant families that contributes to adolescent development. In the specific migration context, indigenous Chinese notions are reinforced and intensified; these notions thus develop particular meanings and contribute distinctive themes to both the processes and outcomes of adolescent development. The Chinese conception of adolescent development, the author proposes, acknowledges the unique experiences of Chinese immigrants, takes account of the personal meaning of parents and adolescents, and incorporates ideas from Chinese culture.

An Introduction to Hanfei's Political Philosophy Henrique Schneider, 2018-11-27 This is the first book to make the philosophy of Hanfei available at an introductory level. This fascinating thinker not only directly influenced the first Chinese Empire but also embodied the strongest alternative to Confucianism in Chinese thought. Even today, his thinking influences China. It introduces key concepts and arguments in Hanfei's legalist philosophy. It also contextualizes this thinking within Chinese history and in a comparative approach. The book will appeal to a wide audience interested in Chinese political philosophy as well as to historians, social, and political scientists.

Organizational Power and Ethical Subjectivity Youzheng Li, 2019-03-18 This collection of articles discusses the basic epistemological issues facing the global theoretical humanities in terms of cross-cultural points of view. The topics discussed especially concern theoretical semiotics, institutional restrictions of current humanities scholarship, and comparative historical semiotics as well as the more applicable and empirical, rational directed humanist ethics. The text is characterized by its hermeneutic dialogue between contemporary western theories and traditional Chinese intellectual history that will be instructive and informative for scholars and theoretical readers of all branches in both the western and non western humanities It emphasizes the great significance of the theoretical humanities in our times and their urgent task should lie in collectively reconstructing a more rationalized humanist scientific foundation for a new type of human sciences through critically reorganizing all intellectual sources of mankind From Taoism to Einstein Olof G. Lidin, 2021-06-22 Ki emerged first and is the thread that runs through the millennia of Chinese philosophy Ri was added later in Sung times and together ki and ri became the mainstay and core of Chinese beliefs in Sun 960 1279 Ming 1279 1644 and Ch ing 1644 1911 times In this remarkable and inspirational study researched over many years the author takes the view that ki can profitably be compared with European philosophy In China the ki thread appears as an original primal ki genki which is the source of all things and affairs The search is for the whole In Greece and later in Europe the thinking goes in the opposite direction it searches for the exact truth in the independent units of the cosmos the atoms the truth being found in the part The study has three separate but interrelated parts Part I delineates the ki and ri philosophy as it developed in China Part II presents Confucian study and learning in Tokugawa Japan 1600 1868 Part III finishes with conclusions about things East and West and the situation in today s world From Taoism to Einstein will have wide appeal to students of Eastern religion and philosophy as well as students of East Asian history and political science and Chinese and Japanese studies in general
