Eli Lotar:

Eli Lotar , City Gorged with Dreams Ian Walker,2002 The author analyses how the Surrealists utilised the tactics of documentary and how Surrealist ideas in turn influenced the development of documentary photography This is a study of what Louis Aragon called surrealist realism the exploration of the real life surreality of the city Georges Bataille Benjamin Noys,2000-05-20 Cover Title Page Copyright Contents Acknowledgements Abbreviations Introduction 1 The Subversive Image 2 Inner Experience 3 Sovereignty 4 The Tears of Eros 5 The Accursed Share Conclusion Notes and References Bibliography Index Living Dangerously Hans Schoots,2000 Highly prized biography of one of the Netherlands most famous and controversial filmmakers Elective Affinities Catriona MacLeod,Véronique Plesch,Charlotte Schoell-Glass,2009 This volume presents the impressive range of scholarly affinities approaches and subjects that characterize today s word and image studies The essays were first presented in 2005 at an international conference Photography and Ontology Donna West Brett,Natalya Lusty,2018-09-03 This edited collection explores the complex ways in which photography is used and interpreted as a record of evidence as a form of communication as a means of social and political provocation as a mode of surveillance as a narrative of the self and as an art form What makes photographic images unsettling and how do the re uses and interpretations of photographic images unsettle the self evident reality of the visual field Taking up these themes this book examines the role of photography as a revelatory medium underscored by its complex association with history memory experience and identity Rites of Realism Ivone Margulies,2003-03-27 A collection of essays rethinking and reviving realism as a focus for film theory particularly emphasizing the relation of the genre to issues of the body Science is Fiction Andy Masaki Bellows,Jean Painlevé,Marina McDougall,Brigitte Berg,2001 Essays examining the work of maverick scientific documentary filmmaker Jean Painleve The City Symphony Phenomenon Steven Jacobs,Eva Hielscher,Anthony Kinik,2018-07-20 The 1920s and 1930s saw the rise of the city symphony an experimental film form that presented the city as protagonist instead of mere decor Combining experimental documentary and narrative practices these films were marked by a high level of abstraction reminiscent of high modernist experiments in painting and photography Moreover interwar city symphonies presented a highly fragmented oftentimes kaleidoscopic sense of modern life and they organized their urban industrial images through rhythmic and associative montage that evoke musical structures In this comprehensive volume contributors consider the full 80 film corpus from Manhatta and Berlin Die Sinfonie der Grosstadt to lesser known cinematic explorations Jacques Prévert Claire Blakeway,1990 Focusing on the career of the surrealist poet Jacques Prevert this book explores the stylistic and thematic currents that prevailed in French films of the 1930s Prevert s involvement with the surrealists his contribution to the avant grade theatre company Groupe Octobre and his unique collaboration with Marcel Carne are examined DADA, Surrealism, and the Cinematic Effect R. Bruce Elder,2015-10-15 This book deals with the early intellectual reception of the cinema and the manner in which art theorists philosophers cultural theorists and especially artists of the first decades of the twentieth century responded to its advent While the idea persists that early writers on film were troubled by the cinema's lowly form this work proposes that there was another largely unrecognized strain in the reception of it Far from anxious about film's provenance in popular entertainment some writers and artists proclaimed that the cinema was the most important art for the moderns as it exemplified the vibrancy of contemporary life This view of the cinema was especially common among those whose commitments were to advanced artistic practices Their notions about how to recast the art media or the forms forged from those media's materials and the urgency of doing so formed the principal part of the conceptual core of the artistic programs advanced by the vanguard art movements of the first half of the twentieth century This book a companion to the author's previous Harmony and Dissent examines the Dada and Surrealist movements as responses to the advent of the cinema

Race, Anthropology, and Politics in the Work of Wifredo Lam Claude Cernuschi, 2019-05-31 This book reinterprets Wifredo Lam's work with particular attention to its political implications focusing on how these implications emerge from the artist's critical engagement with 20th century anthropology Field work conducted in Cuba including the witnessing of actual Afro-Cuban religious ritual ceremonies and information collected from informants enhances the interpretive background against which we can construe the meanings of Lam's art In the process Claude Cernuschi argues that Lam hoped to fashion a new hybrid style to foster pride and dignity in the Afro-Cuban community as well as counteract the acute racism of Cuban culture

Paper Cities Susana S. Luis Buñuel Jo Evans, Breixo Viejo, 2019-10-31 Luis Buñuel A Life in Letters provides access for the first time to an annotated English language version of around 750 of the most important and most widely relevant of these letters Buñuel 1900-1983 came to international attention with his first films Un Chien Andalou with Dalí 1929 and Le gé d Or 1930 two surprisingly avant-garde productions that established his position as the undisputed master of Surrealist filmmaking He went on to make 30 full-length features in France the US and Mexico and consolidated his international reputation with a Palme d'Or for Viridiana in 1961 and an Academy Award in 1973 for The Discreet Charm of the Bourgeoisie. He corresponded with some of the most famous writers, directors, actors and artists of his generation and the list of these correspondents reads like a roll call of major twentieth-century cultural icons: Fellini, Truffaut, Vigo, Aragon, Dalí, and yet none of this material has been accessible outside specialist archives and a very small number of publications in Spanish and French.

Dressaged Animality Lisa Moravec, 2024-10-09. The book applies a productive interdisciplinary lens of art history, performance and animal studies for approaching political economy issues, critiquing anthropomorphic worldviews and provoking thoughts around animal and human nature that spark impulses for an innovative performance aesthetics and ethics. It combines Marxist analysis with feminist and posthumanist methodology to analyse the relation between societal dressage and bodily animality that humans and animals share. Within this original theoretical framework, the book develops the concept of dressaged animality as a mode of critique to analyse the social and political function of interdisciplinary forms of contemporary performances. Drawing on archival and primary research, the book theorises and historicises more than 15 performance practices in which animality is allegorically staged through humans, danced, real or filmically mediated animals. It focuses on Rose English's pioneering approach to performance making as well as on overlooked performances by other renowned and largely unknown American, Mike Kelley, Kate Foley, Robert Morris, Bruce Nauman, Yvonne Rainer, Diana Thater, British Mark Wallinger, Rose English and European artists Tamara Grcic, Judith Hopf, Joseph Beuys, Bartabas from the late 1960s until the late 2010s. While various types of artistic practice are framed as forms of critique, for example protest art, interventionist strategies, institutional critique, the book maps an original performance theory in art which shows that contemporary artistic performances can also take up a critique of societal dressage. This study will be of great interest to students and scholars in art history, theatre, dance and performance studies and ecology as well as to artists and curators working with performance.

Photographs, Museums, Collections Elizabeth Edwards, Christopher Morton, 2015-05-19. The status of photographs in the history of museum collections is a complex one. From its very beginnings, the double capacity of photography as a tool for making a visual record on the one hand and an aesthetic form in its own right on the other has created tensions about its place in the hierarchy of museum objects. While major collections of art photography have grown in status and visibility, photographs not designated art are often invisible in museums. Yet almost every museum has photographs as part of its ecosystem, gathered as information, corroboration or documentation, shaping the understanding of other classes of objects and many of these collections remain uncatalogued and their significance unrecognised. This volume presents a series of case studies on the historical collecting and usage of photographs in museums. Using critically informed empirical investigation, it explores substantive and historiographical questions such as what is the historical patterning in the way photographs have been produced, collected and retained by museums. How do categories of the aesthetic and evidential shape the history of collecting photographs What has been the work of photographs in museums What does an understanding of photograph collections add to our understanding of collections history more broadly What are the methodological demands of research on photograph collections The case studies cover a wide range of museums and collection types from art galleries to maritime museums national collections to local history museums and international perspectives including Cuba France Germany New Zealand South Africa and the UK Together they offer a fascinating insight into both the history of collections and collecting and into the practices and poetics of archives across a range of disciplines including the history of science museum studies archaeology and anthropology

The Making of Visual News Thierry Gervais, Gaëlle Morel, 2020-09-23 The Making of Visual News sets out to show how photography has changed the way we read report and sell the news It investigates how photographs first became news images at the end of the nineteenth century and how magazines in the USA the UK France and Germany have put them to use ever since Drawing on a wide selection of images author Thierry Gervais in collaboration with Gaëlle Morel analyses news photographs in the context of their original presentation in print Highly illustrated the book contains 85 full colour magazine layouts and spreads offering the reader a view of how photographs were and are used in print publications including Life Picture Post the Berliner Illustrierte Zeitung and VU It examines how photographs were employed to attract new readers throughout the twentieth century arguing that photography was the main tool by which news editors sought to communicate the news and attract a broader readership Looking beyond the roles of photographer and journalist this study also highlights the contributions of picture editors and artistic directors by commissioning photographs and incorporating images into magazine layouts these figures played critical but often overlooked roles in the construction of visual news even as they crafted unique styles for their publications Charting changes in technology and reportage as well as broader social and political histories The Making of Visual News offers new insight into the history of photojournalism making this an essential resource for students and scholars of photojournalism and the history of photography media and culture
