British Women Travellers in the Long Nineteenth Century Marilyn D. Button, Jessica A. Sheetz-Nguyen, 2025-03-05 During the long nineteenth century British women reframed the masculine paradigm of the Grand Tour They created a feminist travel gaze intentionally or unintentionally that differed from that of male peers Unlike their brothers who went for personal edification women with means left their English homes for the great Italian cities of Florence Naples and Rome to escape personal disappointments and the social limitations imposed by parents spouses and society The anonymity of travel to a distant land and new freedoms fostered political and creative achievements including entrepreneurial journalism literary masterpieces and social advocacy for their gender which redefined the contours of the Anglo Italian cultural landscape The historical evidence presented here testifies to the life changing capacity of travel and firmly demonstrates how British women s history and literature enriches and broadens narratives about Britain and the World

The Life of J.D. Åkerblad Fredrik Thomasson,2013-01-07 Johan David kerblad 1763 1819 contributed to the decipherment of Egyptian hieroglyphs and Demotic and is known as a predecessor of Jean Fran ois Champollion This intellectual biography offers a new and less heroic interpretation of the first reading of the Egyptian scripts kerblad an exceptional linguist was a diplomat and orientalist who spent several decades living in the Ottoman Empire France and Italy Of humble birth he was a supporter of the French Revolution something that stymied his career His life cannot be understood in a purely Swedish national framework and this study firmly situates him as an international scholar The book discusses European expansion in the Eastern Mediterranean during the tumultuous decades around the year 1800 and traces kerblad s momentous life in relation to the debates on orientalism the tradition of classical studies and the history of science
