Murder

by the Clock Rufus King, 2025-01-07 NYPD's Lieutenant Valcour investigates how a philandering husband could have been murdered twice in one night in this Jazz Age whodunit. The body of Herbert Endicott is discovered by his wife at 8:37 PM dead in his walk-in closet. The circumstances seem suspicious but there is no evidence of foul play so Lieutenant Valcour, New York's most astute investigator, orders an autopsy on site. The doctor discovers a faint heartbeat and with an injection of adrenaline Endicott is alive again. But just a few hours later he has been shot dead this time for good. From this puzzling set up an atmospheric and tense mystery ensues with Valcour's research turning up more questions than answers. Before twenty-four hours are up the solution will be uncovered. Fans of S.S. Van Dine's Philo Vance will appreciate the introspective

Lieutenant Valcour who makes his series debut in Murder by the Clock. Undiluted Hocus-Pocus Martin Gardner, 2013-09-30 The autobiography of the beloved writer who inspired a generation to study math and science. Martin Gardner wrote the Mathematical Games column for Scientific American for twenty-five years and published more than seventy books on topics as diverse as magic, religion, and Alice in Wonderland. Gardner's illuminating autobiography is a candid self-portrait by the man evolutionary theorist Stephen Jay Gould called our single brightest beacon for the defense of rationality and good science against mysticism and anti-intellectualism. Gardner takes readers from his childhood in Oklahoma to his varied and wide-ranging professional pursuits. He shares colorful anecdotes about the many fascinating people he met and mentored and voices strong opinions on the subjects that matter to him most from his love of mathematics to his uncompromising stance against pseudoscience. For Gardner, our mathematically structured universe is undiluted hocus pocus, a marvelous enigma. In other words, Undiluted Hocus Pocus offers a rare intimate look at Gardner's life and work and the experiences that shaped both.
