Embezzled Heaven:

Embezzled Heaven Franz Werfel, 1940 This book tells the story of an Austrian cook Teta who attempts to buy herself into heaven in a round about way by paying for her nephew's clerical education Teta assumes that when her nephew becomes a priest his grateful prayers will prove her salvation Neither her plans nor her nephew turn out as she'd expected

Understanding Franz Werfel Hans Wagener, 1993 Describes the life work of the Austrian poet novelist who heralded the German Expressionist movement in 1911 wrote some of Europe's most widely read novels in the 1930s enjoyed popular success in the 1940s with the film adaptations of his best selling novels Exile and Otherness Alexander Stephan, 2005 In recent years Culture Studies Anthropology German Studies History Political Psychology and other fields have used the concept of exile in close connection with terms like migration border crossing identity and transnationality Views of a homogeneous culture and of centrality collide with ideas like multiculturalism pluralism creolization and the globalization of differences A transit culture inhabited by the flaneur and the nomad is supposed to have replaced citizenship in a nation At the same time there can be no doubt that the experience of those writers artists and intellectuals who were driven out of Germany and Europe by the Nazis was in many ways unique This book investigates the exile experience in a theoretical and comparative way by exploring the possibilities and limitations of concepts like diaspora de localization and transit culture for understanding the lives and works of German and Austrian refugees from Nazi persecution It revisits the interaction of the exiles with the culture of their host countries in light of recent debates about migration and identity studies and it analyzes texts paintings and other methods of artistic expression which connect the experience of the refugees of 1933 with postmodern notions of de localization hybridity and marginalization The Fortunes of German Writers in America Wolfgang Iser, James N. Hardin, Günther Holst, 1992 Franz Werfel: A Life in Prague, Vienna, and Hollywood Peter Stephan Jungk, 2019-08-18 Czech born playwright novelist and poet Franz Werfel 1890-1945 became internationally famous and a special target of the Nazis after he wrote The Forty Days of Musa Dagh the first novel about the Armenian Genocide He later published the Catholic classic The Song of Bernadette written after a deeply religious experience in Lourdes a stop on his escape route to the United States through occupied France Born into a wealthy family of Prague Jews Werfel was torn between his Jewish identity and his attraction to Catholicism between high art and popular success He was friends with Franz Kafka and Max Brod in his youth and later part of a larger Central European intellectual circle that included Sigmund Freud and Martin Buber He married Alma Schindler Mahler Gropius widow of composer Gustav Mahler and ex wife of Bauhaus architect Walter Gropius The couple fled Nazi occupied Vienna in 1938 and became part of the German exile community of California They lived in Beverly Hills where Werfel died a successful Hollywood screenwriter This lovely book is more than a biography a meditation on art history and human life John Simon New York Times Book Review An exemplary biography Edward Timms The Times Literary Supplement Jungk's description of how he researched his subject is highly suspenseful and reads like a detective story Der Spiegel This exemplary biography recalls Werfel's career and its vanished settings as part of the cultural history of the West Mr Jungk also provides a searing picture of Werfel's wife the famous Alma Mahler Gropius Werfel The New Yorker This biography ostensibly the story of a life is really a broad panorama of culture and history It is Jungk's genius to seduce us into following him into Werfel's world and to keep us there completely enthralled Die Welt

The Heavens Declare Alice O. Howell, 2013-09-20 In The Heavens Declare author and astrologer Alice O Howell proclaims We are not confronting the end of the world but the end of the Age of Pisces Integrating two major disciplines of astrology and Jungian depth psychology Howell's latest title reveals the fascinating connection between astrology and the evolution of the Collective Unconscious C G Jung's theory that the unconscious mind is shared by all humans and contains archetypes and universal mental predispositions not grounded in physical experience Written in the form of thought provoking letters to her analyst friend Howell's natural wit and charm compliment the text Exploring the synchronicity between myth history religion and the evolution of humankind over the past five astrological ages spanning some 12 000 years she presents the current tasks and the potential traps humanity now faces Howell also provides her audience with a deeper understanding and method of healing the individual psyche She illustrates that an astrologer serves as a type of psychologist who analyzes the position of the stars and planets within an individual's astrological chart for the purpose of understanding his or her psychological makeup the personal challenges he or she may face and the possible solutions to overcoming those obstacles

Religious Feeling and Religious Commitment in Faulkner, Dostoyevsky, Werfel and Bernanos Jeremy Smith, 2016-07-28 First published in 1988 the aim of this study is to define the role of religious meaning in the modern novel and to demonstrate that the novel can successfully express a religious feeling but not a religious commitment Through the analysis of four novels by Faulkner Dostoyevsky Werfel and Bernanos the work explains why novels with a single definite commitment tend to be implausible and lacking in aesthetic unity This book will be of interest to those studying religion in 19th Century literature

Franz Werfel: The Faith of an Exile Lionel Steiman, 2010-10-30 Franz Werfel was born in Prague in 1890 and died in Beverly Hills in 1945 a popular and artistic success in Europe and America Despite his Jewish birth and upbringing he was attracted to Christianity at any early age and although he never formally converted he celebrated his own vision of it in his entire life's work The originality of that peculiar faith and the response it engendered in Werfel's work as he lived through the horrific end of Jewish life in Europe are treated here Werfel was not a systematic thinker and while his writing contains much that is philosophical and theological his eclecticism and idiosyncrasy render any attempt to trace the specific origins of his thought or its relation to the work of contemporary philosophers and theologians highly problematic Thus this work is neither biography nor intellectual history in the strict sense it goes beyond melding the concerns of both genres into a thoughtful comprehensive portrait of faith at work Of interest to historians of the twentieth century as well as to students of that intriguing zone that lies between faith and art but is neither or both
