of tenements in their home cities abroad Once in Toronto many lived in unsanitary conditions in makeshift shantytowns or cramped shared houses in downtown neighbourhoods such as The Ward To then move to a self contained cottage or rowhouse was the result of an unimaginably strong hope for the future and a commitment to family life Through the stories of eight families who lived in these Modest Hopes authors Don Loucks and Leslie Valpy bring an important but forgotten part of the Toronto narrative to life They illuminate the development of Toronto s working class neighbourhoods such as Leslieville Corktown and others and explain the designs and architectural antecedents of these undervalued heritage properties

Blue Jays 1, Expos 0 David Luchuk, 2009-08-11 The 2001 2002 offseason was a tumultuous one for Major League Baseball The commissioner s move to contract two teams voted on and approved by league owners in a 28 2 vote left fans in several cities fearing for the future of their teams The Montreal Expos with a recent history of poor play and even poorer attendance seemed an obvious choice Canada s only other big league franchise the Toronto Blue Jays had voted in favor of the commissioner s proposal but seemed as likely a candidate as either of the teams targeted by owners This book examines the 2002 season of the Expos and the Blue Jays setting events against the backdrop of a long nurtured urban rivalry between Montreal and Toronto Chapters cover the summer of 2002 month by month supplementing on and off field events with a wealth of historical background and showing how competition placed the Expos and Blue Jays as well as their two host cities on permanently divergent paths

Reordering the Natural World Annabelle Sabloff, 2001-02-15 In Reordering the Natural World Annabelle Sabloff argues that the everyday practices of contemporary capitalist society reinforce the conviction that we are profoundly alienated from the rest of nature At the same time she reveals the often disguised affinities and sense of connection urban Canadians manifest in their relations with animals and the natural world Sabloff reflects on how the discipline of anthropology has contributed to the prevailing Western perception of a divide between nature and culture She suggests that the present ecological crisis has resulted largely from the ways in which Western societies have construed nature as a cultural system Since new ideas about nature may be critical in changing humanity s destructive interactions with the biosphere Reordering the Natural World is invaluable in exploring how urban Canadians develop and sustain their current relationship with the macrocosm and in considering whether these relationships might be altered by reconceptualizing anthropology itself as an integral part of natural history With this unique text Sabloff not only provides provocative insight into the study of relations between humans and the natural world she lays the cornerstone for building an entirely new structure for the study of anthropology itself
