Eyes Of The Skin Architecture And The Senses:

The Eyes of the Skin Juhani Pallasmaa, 2012-04-17 THE EYES OF THE SKIN First published in 1996 The Eyes of the Skin has become a classic of architectural theory It asks the far reaching question why when there are five senses has one single sense sight become so predominant in architectural culture and design With the ascendancy of the digital and the all pervasive use of the image electronically it is a subject that has become all the more pressing and topical since the first edition s publication in the mid 1990s Juhani Pallasmaa argues that the suppression of the other four sensory realms has led to the overall impoverishment of our built environment often diminishing the emphasis on the spatial experience of a building and architecture s ability to inspire engage and be wholly life enhancing For every student studying Pallasmaa s classic text for the first time The Eyes of the Skin is a revelation It compellingly provides a totally fresh insight into architectural culture This third edition meets readers desire for a further understanding of the context of Pallasmaa s thinking by providing a new essay by architectural author and educator Peter MacKeith This text combines both a biographical portrait of Pallasmaa and an outline of his architectural thinking its origins and its relationship to the wider context of Nordic and European thought past and present The focus of the essay is on the fundamental humanity insight and sensitivity of Pallasmaa s approach to architecture bringing him closer to the reader This is illustrated by Pallasmaa s sketches and photographs of his own work The new edition also provides a foreword by the internationally renowned architect Steven Holl and a revised introduction by Pallasmaa himself

The Eyes of the Skin Juhani Pallasmaa, 2024-03-11 THE EYES OF THE SKIN Explore the relationship between architecture and the sensory experience with the fourth edition of this groundbreaking work First published in 1996 The Eyes of the Skin is a classic of architectural theory It asks the far reaching question why when there are five senses is one single sense sight so predominant in architectural culture and design With the ascendancy of the digital and the all pervasive use of the image electronically the subject is all the more pressing and topical since the first edition s publication Juhani Pallasmaa argues that the suppression of the other four sensory realms has led to the overall impoverishment of our built environment often diminishing the emphasis on the spatial experience of a building and architecture s ability to inspire engage and be wholly life enhancing For a student reading this text for the first time The Eyes of the Skin is a revelation It provides a fresh compelling insight into architectural culture which continues to inspire more than a quarter century after its initial publication The fourth edition of The Eyes of the Skin also features The author s latest views on the emphasis of place unfocused perception and existential experience Updates and clarifications throughout to reinforce how our sense of self in the world remains our most important sense with the greatest architectural impact An updated Foreword that touches on the current understanding of the seminal importance of the existential sense The Eyes of the Skin is a must read for all architecture students who will find its insights transformative

The Eyes of the Skin Juhani Pallasmaa, 2012-05-14 THE EYES OF THE SKIN First published in 1996 The Eyes of the Skin has become a classic of architectural theory It asks the far reaching question why when there are five senses has one single sense sight become so predominant in architectural culture and design With the ascendancy of the digital and the all pervasive use of the image electronically it is a subject that has become all the more pressing and topical since the first edition s publication in the mid 1990s Juhani Pallasmaa argues that the suppression of the other four sensory realms has led to the overall impoverishment of our built environment often diminishing the emphasis on the spatial experience of a building and architecture s ability to inspire engage and be wholly life enhancing For every student studying Pallasmaa s classic text for the first time The Eyes of the Skin is a revelation It compellingly provides a totally fresh insight into architectural culture This third edition meets readers desire for a further understanding of the context of Pallasmaa s thinking by providing a new essay by architectural author and educator Peter MacKeith This text combines both a biographical portrait of Pallasmaa and an outline of his architectural thinking its origins and its relationship to the wider context of Nordic and European thought past and present The focus of the essay is on the fundamental humanity insight and sensitivity of Pallasmaa s approach to architecture bringing him closer to the reader This is illustrated by Pallasmaa s sketches and photographs of his own work The new edition also provides a foreword by the internationally renowned architect Steven Holl and a revised introduction by Pallasmaa himself Parables for the Virtual Brian Massumi, 2002-04-09 A major theoretical rethinking of intellectual models of embodiment movement and sensation

Synesthesia and the Arts Dani Cavallaro, 2013-10-16 This study explores the relationship between synesthesia the experience of a sensation in one perceptual domain triggering a sensation in another perceptual domain and the arts including painting photography music and literature Its aim is twofold to introduce readers as yet unfamiliar with synesthesia to this intriguing phenomenon by focusing on its impact on the creation and reception of art and to alert readers already conversant with synesthesia in its many manifestations to its potential to encourage fresh ways of approaching art of understanding the part played by our bodies in its production and receipt and by extension of reassessing our position in nature as humans

The Architect's Brain Harry Francis Mallgrave, 2009-12-21 The Architect s Brain Neuroscience Creativity and Architecture is the first book to consider the relationship between the neurosciences and architecture offering a compelling and provocative study in the field of architectural theory Explores various moments of architectural thought over the last 500 years as a cognitive manifestation of philosophical psychological and physiological theory Looks at architectural thought through the lens of the remarkable insights of contemporary neuroscience particularly as they have advanced within the last decade Demonstrates the neurological justification for some very timeless architectural ideas from the multisensory nature of the architectural experience to the essential relationship of ambiguity and metaphor to creative thinking

Nonhuman Photography Joanna Zylińska, 2024-07-02 A new philosophy of photography that goes beyond humanist concepts to consider imaging practices from which the human is absent as both subject and agent Today in the age of CCTV drones medical body scans and satellite images photography is increasingly decoupled from human agency and human vision In Nonhuman Photography Joanna Zylińska offers a new philosophy of photography going beyond the human centric view to consider imaging practices from which the human is absent Zylińska argues further that even those images produced by humans whether artists or amateurs entail a nonhuman mechanical element that is they involve the execution of technical and cultural algorithms that shape our image making devices as well as our viewing practices At the same time she notes photography is increasingly mobilized to document the precariousness of the human habitat and tasked with helping us imagine a better tomorrow With its conjoined human nonhuman agency and vision Zylińska claims photography functions as both a form of control and a life shaping force Zylińska explores the potential of photography for developing new modes of seeing and imagining and presents images from her own photographic project Active Perceptual Systems She also examines the challenges posed by digitization to established notions of art culture and the media In connecting biological extinction and technical obsolescence and discussing the parallels between photography and fossilization she proposes to understand photography as a light induced process of fossilization across media and across time scales

Time and Space Maria do Rosário Monteiro, Mário S. Ming Kong, Maria João Pereira Neto, 2023-11-09 The texts presented in Proportion Harmonies and Identities PHI Time and Space were compiled to establish a multidisciplinary platform for presenting interacting and disseminating research It also aims to foster awareness and discussion on Time and Space focusing on different visions relevant to Architecture Arts and Humanities Design and Social Sciences and its importance and benefits for the sense of identity both individual and communal The idea of Time and Space has been a powerful motor for development since the Western Early Modern Age Its theoretical and practical foundations have become the working tools of scientists philosophers and artists who seek strategies and policies to accelerate the development process in different contexts

The senses in interior design John Potvin, Marie-Ève Marchand, Benoit Beaulieu, 2023-09-05 The senses in interior design examines how sight touch smell hearing and taste have been mobilised within various forms of interiors The chapters explore how the body navigates and negotiates the realities of designed interiors and challenge the traditional focus on star designers or ideal interiors that have left sensorial agency at the margins of design history From the sensually gendered role of the fireplace in late sixteenth century Italy to the synaesthetic d cors of Comte Robert de Montesquiou and the sensorial stimuli of Aesop stores each chapter brings a new perspective on the central role that the senses have played in the conception experiences and uses of interiors

Architectural Science and the Sun Dason Whitsett, Matt Fajkus, 2018-04-17 Architectural Science and the Sun synthesizes physics climate program and perception to provide a foundation in the principles of architectural science related to the sun solar geometry solar analysis and design techniques passive design principles and daylighting Part analytical handbook part inspiration source for schematic design the content comprises a critical component of effective sustainable design Beyond the purely technical aspects of these topics Architectural Science and the Sun begins with the premise that great architecture goes beyond energy performance and the visual aesthetic to engage all of the senses Given that the stimuli to which our senses respond are physical phenomena such as light heat and sound the designer must manipulate these parameters through the craft of building form and technology to create the desired qualitative experience This book is designed to help the reader develop that skill Making Sense of Contemporary British Muslim Novels

Claire Chambers,2019-04-23 This book is the sequel to Britain Through Muslim Eyes and examines contemporary novelistic representations of and by Muslims in Britain It builds on studies of the five senses and sensuous geographies of postcolonial Britain and charts the development since 1988 of a fascinating and important body of fiction by Muslim identified authors It is a selective literary history exploring case study novelistic representations of and by Muslims in Britain to allow in depth critical analysis through the lens of sensory criticism It argues that for authors of Muslim heritage in Britain writing the senses is often a double edged act of protest Some of the key authors excoriate a suppression or cover up of non heteronormativity and women s rights that sometimes occurs in Muslim communities Yet their protest is especially directed at secular culture s ocularcentrism and at successive British governments efforts to surveil control and suppress Muslim bodies The Routledge Handbook of the Senses in the Ancient Near East Kiersten Neumann,Allison Thomason,2021-09-30

This Handbook is a state of the field volume containing diverse approaches to sensory experience bringing to life in an innovative remarkably vivid and visceral way the lives of past humans through contributions that cover the chronological and geographical expanse of the ancient Near East It comprises thirty two chapters written by leading international contributors that look at the ways in which humans through their senses experienced their lives and the world around them in the ancient Near East with coverage of Anatolia Egypt the Levant Mesopotamia Syria and Persia from the Neolithic through the Roman period It is organised into six parts related to sensory contexts Practice production and taskscape Dress and the body Ritualised practice and ceremonial spaces Death and burial Science medicine and aesthetics and Languages and semantic fields In addition to exploring what makes each sensory context unique this organisation facilitates cross cultural and cross chronological as well as cross sensory and multisensory comparisons and discussions of sensory experiences in the ancient world In so doing the volume also enables considerations of senses beyond the five sense model of Western philosophy sight hearing touch taste and smell including proprioception and interoception and the phenomena of synaesthesia and kinaesthesia The Routledge Handbook of the Senses in the Ancient Near East provides scholars and students within the field of ancient Near Eastern studies new perspectives on and conceptions of familiar spaces places and practices as well as material culture and texts It also allows scholars and students from adjacent fields such as Classics and Biblical Studies to engage with this material and is a must read for any scholar or student interested in or already engaged with the field of sensory studies in any period Designing for Autism Spectrum Disorders Kristi Gaines,Angela Bourne,Michelle

Introducing Architectural Theory Korydon Smith,Miguel Guitart,2013-05-20 This is the most accessible architectural theory book that exists Korydon Smith presents each common architectural subject such as tectonics use and site as though it were a conversation across history between theorists by providing you with the original text a reflective text and a philosophical text He also introduces each chapter by highlighting key ideas and asking you a set of reflective questions so that you can hone your own theory which is essential to both your success in the studio and your adaptability in the profession These primary source texts which are central to your understanding of the discipline were written by such architects as Le Corbusier Robert Venturi and Adrian Forty The appendices also have guides to aid your reading comprehension to help you write descriptively analytically and disputationally and to show you citation styles and how to do library based research More than any other architectural theory book about the great thinkers Introducing Architectural Theory teaches you to think as well

Nordic Modernism William C Miller,2016-08-31 Modernism was instrumental in the development of twentieth and twenty first century Scandinavian architecture for it captured a progressive urbane character that was inextricably associated with and embraced the social programmes of the Nordic welfare states Recognized internationally for its sensitivity and responsiveness to place and locale and its thoughtful use of materials and refined detailing Nordic architecture continues to evolve and explore its modernist roots This new book covers the romantic and classical architectural foundations of Nordic modernism the development of Nordic Functionalism the maturing and expansion of Nordic modern architecture in the post war period international influences on Scandinavian modernism at the end of the twentieth century and finally the global and local currents found in contemporary Nordic architecture Superbly illustrated with 100 colour images

Advances in Ergonomics In Design, Usability & Special Populations: Part I Marcelo Soares,Francisco Rebelo,2022-07-19 Successful interaction with products tools and technologies depends on usable designs and accommodating the needs of potential users without requiring costly training In this context this book is concerned with emerging ergonomics in design concepts theories and applications of human factors knowledge focusing on the discovery design and understanding of human interaction and usability issues with products and systems for their improvement This book will be of special value to a large variety of professionals researchers and students in the broad field of human modeling and performance who are interested in feedback of devices interfaces visual and haptic user centered design and design for special populations particularly the elderly We hope this book is informative but even more that it is thought provoking We hope it inspires leading the reader to contemplate other questions applications and potential solutions in creating good designs for all Coming to Senses José Roberto Pellini, Melisa A. Salerno, Andrés Zarankin, 2015-10-05

Every culture conceives of the senses in different ways establishing their own models and sensory hierarchies Despite the importance of the senses in human experience archaeology has generally neglected the sensory dimension of the material world In response to this lacuna the contributions to this volume incorporate all the senses in imaginative scenarios in order to stimulate new ways of seeing and conceptualising archaeology and bring back the self to this science The international character of the essays brought together here including researchers and case studies from across the globe provides a variety of perspectives on this topic from a number of scales of analysis The book will appeal to a wide range of readers including academic researchers and the general public concerned with archaeology history anthropology and sociology and will provide readers with a greater understanding of the dynamics of the senses the relationship between narratives and societies and the cultural world The Step Is the Foot Anthony Howell, 2019-06-30 This inquiry into the relationship between the step in dance and the foot in verse invites the reader into a tapestry woven by its crossed paths A duel career as a dancer and as a poet allows the author to follow his interest in the dance origins of scansion and link it to how the foot connects lyric writing to an exiled sense through the felt tread of its rhythm This is to rediscover the physical feeling of poetry the fulcrum of a relationship that goes back to the Greek chorus when every phrase was danced The author shows how verse and the dance emerged together as we initially developed bipedalism and speech Written in a discursive style which allows the author to wander whenever digression seems appropriate the book offers the reader an entertaining compendium of anecdotes notions and quotes concerning the relation between our words and our movements Walking in itself may have ushered in predication syntax putting one word in front of another as one put one foot in front of another Did song emerge separately from language and stimulate ritual dance among women who linked their steps to sounds The link of speech with movement is explored in ancient art in theatre and in military drill and psychoanalysis From the ballet to performance art the author traces the evolution of recent creativity free verse finding a parallel in Mick Jagger dancing freely on his own in the 60s while performance artists used the freedom of conceptual art to explore action phrases linking task orientated movement with verbal articulation Modern Architecture Graham Livesey, 2024-11-15 Modern Architecture

The Basics examines technological stylistic socio political and cultural changes that have transformed the history of architecture since the late 18th century Broad definitions of modernity and postmodernity introduce the book which comprises 24 short thematic chapters looking at the concepts behind the development of modern and postmodern architecture These include major historical movements key figures and evolving building typologies There is also an emphasis on the changing city during the 19th and 20th centuries Approaches to representation and its impacts on architecture are studied along with the changing global role of architecture as cultural expression The book introduces new topics including gender race postcolonialism and indigeneity An undaunting contemporary and inclusive account of modern architectural history this is a must read for all students of architecture as well as those outside the discipline approaching the subject for the first time

Ecologies of Invention Andy Dong, John Conomos, Brad Buckley, 2018-08-30 Ecologies of Invention is the first collection of essays that brings together writers and scholars of international standing to examine assumptions underlying notions of inventiveness The writers explain how inventiveness borne out of aesthetic ambitions is impacting on and changing our culture and society describing the articulation of inventive capacities across disciplines and across multiple scales from personal capacities to the social spatial and network configurations that drive people to produce inventions
