"Manet, Wagner, and the Musical Culture of Their Time" Therese Dolan, 2017-07-05 How did the tumult caused by German composer Richard Wagner result in the first modernist painting In the first full length book dedicated to the study of Edouard Manet and music art historian Therese Dolan demonstrates that the 1862 painting Music in the Tuileries represents the progressive musical culture of his time heretofore read by scholars predominantly through the words of Charles Baudelaire Dolan sees in this painting's radical style the conceptual shift to modernism in both painting and music a transition that she convincingly argues received a strong impetus from Manet's Music in the Tuileries and Wagner's controversial Tannhäuser which premiered the previous year. Supplemental to analysis of the painting, Dolan incorporates discussion of texts by Théophile Gautier, Champfleury, and Baudelaire who are represented in the painting. This book incorporates studies of the major artistic, literary, and musical figures of nineteenth-century France. It represents an important contribution to an understanding of French culture in the third quarter of the nineteenth century, a period of intense literary, artistic, and musical activity that formed the crucible for modernism.

Political Economy, Linguistics and Culture Jürgen Backhaus, 2007-12-21. During the late 19th and throughout the 20th century, social sciences in general and economics in particular have undergone enormous progress. This has led to something of an embarrassment of riches. While certain topics have been fully researched to the point where the marginal benefit from further research is approaching zero, others have remained largely under-researched or were being ignored altogether. It is this discrepancy which prompted the research paradigm of Crossing Bridges. For this volume, ten authors have joined forces to address the problem of under-researched topics, focussing in particular on gaps in interdisciplinary research between economics and other social sciences such as linguistics, art, and cultural history. Making use of interdisciplinary methods and approaches, the book makes a case for stronger bonds between the different fields of social science.

Art Books Wolfgang M. Freitag, 1997. Expanded to twice as many entries as the 1985 edition and updated with new publications, new editions of previous entries, titles missed the first time around, more of the artist's own writings, and monographs that deal with significant aspects or portions of an artist's work, though not all of it. The listing is alphabetical by artist, and the index by author. The works cited include analytical and critical, biographical and enumerative; their formats range from books and catalogues raisonnés to exhibition and auction sale catalogues. A selection of biographical dictionaries containing information on artists is arranged by country. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc., Portland, OR.

"Rival Sisters, Art and Music at the Birth of Modernism, 1815-1915" James H. Rubin, 2017-07-05. Introducing the concept of music and painting as rival sisters during the nineteenth century, this interdisciplinary collection explores the productive exchange from rivalry to inspiration to collaboration between the two media in the age of Romanticism and Modernism. The volume traces the relationship between art and music from the opposing claims for superiority of the early nineteenth century to the emergence of the concept of synesthesia around 1900. This collection puts forward a more complex history of the relationship between art and music than has been described in earlier works, including an intermixing of models and distinctions between approaches to them. Individual essays from art history, musicology, and literature examine the growing influence of art upon music and vice versa in the works of Berlioz, Courbet, Manet, Fantin Latour, Rodin, Debussy, and the Pre-Raphaelites among other artists.
