Guys A Play:

Men at Play Michael Robidoux, 2001-03-16 Players dedicate their lives to the goal of playing professional hockey and teams demand total commitment from their players giving them complete control over almost all aspects of the players lives With the enormous labour turnover in the AHL and the surplus labour pool players are extremely vulnerable they must perform well or be replaced by the scores of other men willing to do the same job With limited education and limited life skills players seldom meet people who are not connected to the game and when they do they do so with trepidation The constructed universe of the game consumes the players so that in spite of any wealth they may accumulate they often know nothing other than the game and have invested everything in an occupation where their services quickly become obsolete Far from the sensational memoirs of those few players who make it to the top Robidoux's Men at Play offers a bracing inside look at the dynamics of the fastest game on earth

Play Like a Man, Win Like a Woman Gail Evans, 2001-09-11 An honest and practical handbook that reveals important insights into relationships between men and women and work Play Like a Man Win Like a Woman is a must read for every woman who wants to leverage her power in the workplace Women make up almost half of today's labor force but in corporate America they don't share half of the power Only four of the Fortune 500 company CEOs are women and it's only been in the last few years that even half of the Fortune 500 companies have more than one female officer A major reason for this Most women were never taught how to play the game of business Throughout her career in the super competitive male dominated media industry Gail Evans one of the country's most powerful executives has met innumerable women who tell her that they feel lost in the workplace almost as if they were playing a game without knowing the directions In this book she reveals the secrets to the playbook of success and teaches women at all levels of the organization from assistant to vice president how to play the game of business to their advantage Men know the rules because they wrote them but women often feel shut out of the process because they don't know when to speak up when to ask for responsibility what to say at an interview and a lot of other key moves that can make or break a career Sharing with humor and candor her years of lessons from corporate life Gail Evans gives readers practical tools for making the right decisions at work Among the rules you will learn are How to Keep Score at Work When to Take a Risk How to Deal with the Imposter Syndrome Ten Vocabulary Words That Mean Different Things to Men and Women Why Men Can be Ugly and You Can't When to Quit Your Job
