A Successful Novel Must Be in Want of a Sequel M. Carmen Gomez-Galisteo, 2018-04-13 What happened after Mr Darcy married Elizabeth Bennet in Pride and Prejudice? Where did Heathcliff go when he disappeared in Wuthering Heights? What social ostracism would Hester Prynne of The Scarlet Letter have faced in 20th century America? Great novels often leave behind great questions and sequels seek to answer them. This critical analysis offers fresh insights into the sequels to seven literary classics including Jane Austen's Sense and Sensibility, the Brontë sisters' Jane Eyre, Louisa May Alcott's Little Women, and Daphne du Maurier's Rebecca.

The Palgrave Handbook of Neo-Victorianism Brenda Ayres, Sarah E. Maier, 2024-01-20 This handbook offers analysis of diverse genres and media of neo-Victorianism including film and television adaptations of Victorian texts, authors' life stories, graphic novels, and contemporary fiction set in the nineteenth century. Contextualized by Sarah E. Maier and Brenda Ayres in a comprehensive introduction, the collection describes current trends in neo-Victorian scholarship of novels, film, theatre, crime, empire, postcolonialism, Gothic materiality, religion, and science amongst others. A variety of scholars from around the world contribute to this volume by applying an assortment of theoretical approaches and interdisciplinary focus in their critique of a wide range of narratives from early neo-Victorian texts such as A. S. Byatt's Possession (1963) and Jean Rhys's Wide Sargasso Sea (1966) to recent steampunk, from musical theatre to slumming, and from The Alienist to queerness in their investigation of how this fiction reconstructs the past, informed by and reinforcing the present.

The Birth of Wuthering Heights E. Chitham, 2016-01-08 In The Birth of Wuthering Heights, Edward Chitham explores the sources of Emily Brontë's inspiration and the ways in which she composed her poetry and her one major novel. This key study discusses the probable content of her unfinished second novel and also makes use of new discoveries to show that Emily Brontë was not only well read in the classics but that she had also made her own translations of Virgil and Horace. It also foregrounds the publishing history of Wuthering Heights, revealing how the original text was almost doubled in size from its first submission to a publishers and its final acceptance This book published for the first time in paperback provides a fascinating insight into Emily Brontë's mind and working methods Neo-Victorian Cannibalism Tammy Lai-Ming Ho, 2019-02-04 This Pivot examines a body of contemporary neo Victorian novels whose uneasy relationship with the past can be theorised in terms of aggressive eating including cannibalism Not only is the imagery of eating repeatedly used by critics to comprehend neo Victorian literature the theme of cannibalism itself also appears overtly or implicitly in a number of the novels and their Victorian prototypes thereby mirroring the cannibalistic relationship between the contemporary and the Victorian Tammy Lai Ming Ho argues that aggressive eating or cannibalism can be seen as a pathological and defining characteristic of neo Victorian fiction demonstrating how cannibalism provides a framework for understanding the genre's origin its conflicted ambivalent and violent relationship with its Victorian predecessors and the grotesque and gothic effects that it generates in its fiction The Meaning of Superhero Comic Books Terrence R. Wandtke, 2014-01-10 For decades scholars have been making the connection between the design of the superhero story and the mythology of the ancient folktale Moving beyond simple comparisons and common explanations this volume details how the workings of the superhero comics industry and the conventions of the medium have developed a culture like that of traditional epic storytelling It chronicles the continuation of the oral traditional culture of the early 20th century superhero industry in the endless variations on Superman and shows how Frederic Wertham's anti comic crusade in the mid 1950s helped make comics the most countercultural new medium of the 20th century By revealing how contemporary superhero comics like Geoff Johns Green Lantern and Warren Ellis's The Authority connect traditional aesthetics and postmodern theories this work explains why the superhero comic book flourishes in the new traditional shape of our acutely self conscious digital age The Bibliography of Regional Fiction in Britain and Ireland, 1800-2000 Keith D. M. Snell, 2017-03-02 Pioneering and interdisciplinary in nature this bibliography constitutes a comprehensive list of regional fiction for every county of Ireland Scotland Wales and England over the past two centuries In addition other regions of a usually topographical or urban nature have been used such as Birmingham and the Black Country London The Fens the Brecklands the Highlands the Hebrides or the Welsh border Each entry lists the author title and date of first publication The geographical coverage is encompassing and complete from the Channel Islands to the Shetlands An original introduction discusses such matters as definition bibliographical method popular readerships trends in output and the scholarly literature on regional fiction Mrs Dalloway Mark Hussey, 2025-05-13 The first book in the Biography of a novel series offers a compelling account of Virginia Woolf's masterpiece The fourth and best known of Virginia Woolf's novels Mrs Dalloway is a modernist masterpiece that has remained popular since its publication in 1925 Its dual narratives follow a day in the life of wealthy housewife Clarissa Dalloway and shell shocked war veteran Septimus Warren Smith capturing their inner worlds with a vividness that has rarely been equalled Mrs Dalloway Biography of a novel offers new readers a lively introduction to this enduring classic while providing Woolf lovers with a wealth of information about the novel's writing, publication and reception. It follows Woolf's process from the first stirrings in her diary through her struggles to create what was quickly recognised as a major advance in prose fiction. It then traces the novel's remarkable legacy to the present day. Woolf wrote in her diary that she wanted her novel to give life, death, sanity, insanity to criticise the social system to show it at work at its most intense. Mrs Dalloway Biography of a novel reveals how she achieved this ambition, creating a book that will be read by generations to come.

Wuthering Heights - Ed. Heywood Emily Brontë, 2001-12-14 Critics often comment on the importance of landscape in Wuthering Heights and in this edition Christopher Heywood locates the text more precisely than previous editions, amid Yorkshire's limestone north and moorland south, drawing out the importance of the region's slaveholding society. Heywood also makes an important contribution to scholarship, arguing persuasively for a re-structuring of the chapter and section breaks. Finally, this edition includes a variety of appendices that help to illuminate the novel's historical background.

Literary Afterlife Bernard A. Drew, 2010-03-08 This is an encyclopedic work arranged by broad categories and then by original authors of literary pastiches in which fictional characters have reappeared in new works after the deaths of the authors that created them. It includes book series that have continued under a deceased writer's real or pen name, undisguised offshoots issued under the new writer's name, posthumous collaborations in which a deceased author's unfinished manuscript is completed by another writer, unauthorized pastiches and biographies of literary characters. The authors and works are entered under the following categories: Action and Adventure Classics 18th Century and Earlier Classics 19th Century Classics 20th Century Crime and Mystery Espionage Fantasy and Horror Humor Juveniles 19th Century Juveniles 20th Century Poets Pulps Romances Science Fiction and Westerns. Each original author entry includes a short biography, a list of original works and information on the pastiches based on the author's characters.

Reclaiming Difference Carine M. Mardorossian, 2005 In Reclaiming Difference Carine Mardorossian examines the novels of four women writers: Jean Rhys (Dominica, UK), Maryse Condé (Guadeloupe, USA), Edwidge Danticat (Haiti, USA) and Julia Alvarez (Dominican Republic, USA), showing how their writing has radically reformulated the meanings of the national, geographical, sexual and racial concepts through which postcolonial studies has long been configuring difference. Coming from the anglophone, francophone and hispanophone Caribbean, these writers all stage and identify with transcultural experiences that undermine the usual classification of literary texts in terms of national and regional literatures and by doing so they challenge the idea that racial and cultural identities function as stable points of reference in our unstable world. Focusing on the transformations that have taken place in postcolonial studies since the field began to focus on theory, Mardorossian highlights not only how these writers make use of the styles of creolization and hybridity that have dominated Caribbean and postcolonial studies in recent years but also how they distinguish themselves from the movement's leading figures by offering new articulations of the ties that link race and nation to gender and class. She illuminates how these writers extend the notion of hybridity away from racial and cultural differences in isolation from each other to a set of crisscrossing categories that challenge our simpler normative figurations For scholars in postcolonial studies Caribbean studies literary feminist studies and studies in comparative literature Reclaiming Difference represents a new phase in postcolonial studies that calls for a fundamental rethinking of the field's terminology and assumptions

Nineteenth-century Women at the Movies Barbara Tupa Lupack, 1999 Eleven essays analyze the adaptations of novels by eight popular writers such as Jane Austen and Harriet Beecher Stowe and examine the ways in which those writers' themes are reinterpreted updated and often misconstrued by the filmmakers who bring them to the screen No index Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

The Emotional Experience of Adoption Debbie Hindle, Graham Shulman, 2008-04-10 This book demonstrates how psychoanalytic understanding and treatment can contribute to thinking about and working with adopted children and their families It illustrates how psychoanalytic psychotherapy can help both as a treatment and as a distinctive source of understanding for children who are either in the process of being adopted or already adopted

Prequels, Coquels and Sequels in Contemporary Anglophone Fiction Armelle Parey, 2018-09-03 This book offers to delineate a key phenomenon in contemporary Anglophone fiction novel expansion when the plot and characters from a finished novel are retrieved to be developed in new adventures set before after or during the narrative time of the source text If autographic and allographic sequels are almost as old as literature prequels that imagine the anteriority of a narrative and coquels that develop secondary characters in the same story time as the source text are more recent The overall trend for novel expansion spread in the mid 1980s and 1990s and has since shown no sign of abating This volume is organised following three types of relationships to the source texts even if these occasionally combine to produce a more complex structure This book comprises 11 essays preceded by an introduction that examines narrative strategies aesthetic ethical and political tendencies underlying these novel expansions Following the overview provided in the introduction the reader will find case studies of prequels coquels and sequels before a final chapter that encompasses them all and more
