The Habit Elizabeth Kuhns, 2005-04-19 Curiosity about nuns and their distinctive clothing is almost as old as Catholicism itself The habit intrigues the religious and the nonreligious alike from medieval maidens to contemporary schoolboys to feminists and other social critics The first book to explore the symbolism of this attire The Habit presents a visual gallery of the diverse forms of religious clothing and explains the principles and traditions that inspired them More than just an eye opening study of the symbolic significance of starched wimples dark dresses and flowing veils The Habit is an incisive engaging portrait of the roles nuns have and do play in the Catholic Church and in ministering to the needs of society From the clothing seen in an eleventh century monastery to the garb worn by nuns on picket lines during the 1960s habits have always been designed to convey a specific image or ideal The habits of the Benedictines and the Dominicans for example were specifically created to distinguish women who consecrated their lives to God other habits reflected the sisters desire to blend in among the people they served The brown Carmelite habit was rarely seen outside the monastery wall while the Flying Nun turned the white winged cornette of the Daughters of Charity into a universally recognized icon And when many religious abandoned habits in the 1960s and 70s it stirred a debate that continues today Drawing on archival research and personal interviews with nuns all over the United States Elizabeth Kuhns examines some of the gender and identity issues behind the controversy and brings to light the paradoxes the habit represents For some it epitomizes oppression and obsolescence for others it embodies the ultimate beauty and dignity of the vocation Complete with extraordinary photographs including images of the nineteenth century nuns silk bonnets to the simple gray dresses of the Sisters of Social Service this evocative narrative explores the timeless symbolism of the habit and traces its evolution as a visual reflection of the changes in society

Curious Obsessions in the History of Science and Spirituality Rachael Kohn, 2020-12-09 The frontiers of religion and science have always been pushed forward by curious and obsessed individuals like the monk who kept banned books in a secret library under the nose of the pope the explorers who searched for the lost tribes of Israel but found a new continent instead the eccentric doctor and a mad monk who intuited scientific truths well before future generations would prove their theories correct the archaeologists who discovered the goddess just in time for feminism the utopians who never quite found what they were looking for and a current flock of priests and nuns who go wherever knowledge takes them It is a delicious quirk of history that individuals dismissed by their contemporaries as eccentrics and troublemakers are often those with the most impact on the world Curious Obsessions in the History of Science and Spirituality is a captivating look at the famous and the forgotten who emerged in times of extreme change and social disruption to change science and spirituality for ever During our current Covid19 pandemic this collection is highly relevant to a world still seeking novel answers to the human condition and also drawn to old theories long ago debunked

The Site of the Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus in Singapore
Sandra Hudd, 2016-06-17 The Site of the Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus in Singapore Entwined Histories of a Colonial Convent and a Nation 1854 2015 explores key issues and developments in colonial and postcolonial Singapore by examining one particular site in central Singapore the former Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus established in 1854 and now a food and entertainment complex The Convent was an early provider of social services and girls education almost a mini city within walls including a thriving community of schools an orphanage and a women s refuge World War II and the Japanese occupation followed by the creation of the new Republic of Singapore presented a new set of challenges but it was the convent s size and prime location that made it attractive for urban redevelopment in the 1980s and led to government acquisition demolition of some buildings and the remainder put out to private tender The chapel and the former nuns residence are classified as National Monuments but in line with government policy of adaptive re use of heritage sites the complex now contains bars and restaurants and the deconsecrated chapel is used for wedding receptions and events Tracking the physical and usage changes of the site this book works to make sense of that eventful journey a paradoxical journey that moves only in time not in space and includes abandoned babies French nuns Japanese bombings and twenty first century dance parties In a society that has undergone massive change economically and socially and above all transitioned from a small colonial enterprise to a wealthy independent city state those physical changes and differing usages of the Convent site over the years track the changes in the nation The wider ongoing tensions between heritage conservation and the modern global city are explored by examining what has been chosen for preservation the quintessentially Singaporean hybridity of the commercial reuse of historic buildings as well as the nostalgia for what has been lost

Veiled Desires
Maureen Sabine, 2013-08-22 Ingrid Bergman s engaging screen performance as Sister Mary Benedict in The Bells of St Mary s made the film nun a star and her character a shining standard of comparison She represented the religious life as the happy and rewarding choice of a modern woman who had a complete understanding of both erotic and spiritual desire How did this vibrant and mature nun figure come to be viewed as girlish and na ve Why have she and her cinematic sisters in postwar popular film so often been stereotyped or selectively analyzed so seldom been seen as women and religious In Veiled Desires a unique full length in depth look at nuns in film Maureen Sabine explores these questions in a groundbreaking interdisciplinary study covering more than sixty years of cinema She looks at an impressive breadth of films in which the nun features as an ardent lead character including The Bells of St Mary's 1945 Black Narcissus 1947 Heaven Knows Mr Allison 1957 Sea Wife 1957 The Nun's Story 1959 The Sound of Music 1965 Change of Habit 1969 In This House of Brede 1975 Agnes of God 1985 Dead Man Walking 1995 and Doubt 2008 Veiled Desires considers how the beautiful and charismatic stars who play chaste nuns from Ingrid Bergman and Audrey Hepburn to Susan Sarandon and Meryl Streep call attention to desires that the veil concealed and the habit was thought to stifle In a theologically and psychoanalytically informed argument Sabine responds to the critics who have pigeonholed the film nun as the obedient daughter and religious handmaiden of a patriarchal church and the respectful audience who revered her as an icon of spiritual perfection Sabine provides a framework for a more complex and holistic picture of nuns onscreen by showing how the films dramatize these women's Christian call to serve sacrifice and dedicate themselves to God and their erotic desire for intimacy agency achievement and fulfillment
