Haifa Transformation Of An Arab Society 1918-1939:

Haifa May Seikaly, 2000-11-17 This text looks at the process by which the Arab community of Haifa was transformed during a crucial period in the history of modern Palestine by British mandatory rule the advent of Zionism and internal dynamics The author considers the social and economic structure of Haifa before 1918 and examines the process of change which took place She looks at the attempts by the Arab community to cope with increasingly unfavourable economic and political conditions showing how the impotence of the leadership and hardship caused popular grievances and culminated in the revolt of 1936-1939 which had its breeding ground in Haifa

Haifa May Seikaly, 2002 The Middle East and the Making of the Modern World Cyrus Schayegh, 2017-08-28 How do historians make sense of the spatial layeredness of the past Cyrus Schayegh argues that the modern world's ultimate socio-spatial feature is not the oft-studied processes of globalization or state formation or urbanization but rather the fast-paced mutually transformative intertwinements of cities, regions, states and global circuits

The Birth of the Palestinian Refugee Problem Revisited Benny Morris, 2004 This book explores the realities behind the Palestinian exodus of 1948 during the Arab-Israeli war

Palestinian Village Histories Rochelle Davis, 2011 This book chronicles the local histories written by modern Palestinians about their villages that were destroyed in the 1948 war

One Palestine, Complete Tom Segev, 2013-05-10 A panoramic and provocative history of life in Palestine during the three strife-torn but romantic decades when Britain ruled and the seeds of today's conflicts were sown Tom Segev's acclaimed works 1949 and The Seventh Million overturned accepted views of the history of Israel Now Segev explores the dramatic period before the creation of the state when Britain ruled over one Palestine complete as noted in the receipt signed by the High Commissioner and when its promise to both Jews and Arabs that they would inherit the land set in motion the conflict that haunts the region to this day Drawing on a wealth of untapped archival materials Segev reconstructs a tumultuous era 1917 to 1948 of limitless possibilities and tragic missteps He introduces the legendary figures General Allenby Lawrence of Arabia David Ben-Gurion as well as an array of pioneers secret agents diplomats and fanatics He tracks the steady advance of Jews and Arabs toward confrontation and with his hallmark originality puts forward a radical new argument that the British far from being pro-Arab as commonly thought consistently favored the Zionist position and did so out of the mistaken and anti-Semitic belief that Jews turned the wheels of history Rich in unforgettable characters sensitive to all perspectives One Palestine Complete brilliantly depicts the decline of an empire the birth of one nation and the tragedy of another

Electrical Palestine Fredrik Meiton, 2019-01-15 Electricity is an integral part of everyday life so integral that we rarely think of it as political In Electrical Palestine Fredrik Meiton illustrates how political power just like electrical power moves through physical materials whose properties govern its flow At the dawn of the Arab-Israeli conflict both kinds of power were circulated through the electric grid that was built by the Zionist engineer Pinhas Rutenberg in the period of British rule from 1917 to 1948 Drawing on new sources in Arabic Hebrew and several European languages Electrical Palestine charts a story of rapid and uneven development that was greatly influenced by the electric grid and set the stage for the conflict between Arabs and Jews Electrification Meiton shows was a critical element of Zionist state building The outcome in 1948 therefore of Jewish statehood and Palestinian statelessness was the result of a logic that was profoundly conditioned by the power system a logic that has continued to shape the area until today

Basra, the Failed Gulf State Reidar Visser,2005 Is Iraq artificial on the verge of disintegrating All too often the answers to this question ignore Iraq's own history In fact the literature on indigenous attempts at dismembering Iraq is surprisingly patchy especially with regard to the oil rich south This book presents for the first time an actual case of southern Iraqi separatism a daring bid to turn Basra into a pro British mercantile mini state The study uncovers the dynamics and limits of southern separatism casts new light on the victory of Iraqi nationalism in the south and discusses the challenges of post 2003 regionalism in a federal Iraq Debunking the Myths of Colonization Samar Attar,2010-04-13 Debunking the Myths of Colonization examines Salman Rushdie's thesis on the paradoxical nature of colonialism and its horrific impact on the psyche of the colonized It probes Frantz Fanon's theories concerning the relationship between colonizers and colonized and attempts to apply these theories to modern Arabic literature Like Rushdie and Fanon many Arab writers have embarked on a journey to the metropolis of their ex colonial masters Due to their encounter with English or French culture they have written memoirs poems or fictions in which they have represented themselves and the other Their representations differ markedly according to their own make up as human beings their class education experiences and gender Yet what brings them together is their love hate relationship with the ex colonizer In the case of the Palestinian writers however there is only bitterness and bewilderment at Israel as a colonizing power in the 21st century and its Jewish citizens who were once victims in Europe but now have turned into victimizers The War for Palestine Eugene L. Rogan,Avi Shlaim,2001 The Arab

Israeli conflict is one of the most intense and intractable international conflicts of modern times This book is about the historical roots of that conflict It re examines the history of 1948 the war in which the newly born state of Israel defeated the Palestinians and the regular Arab armies of the neighbouring states so decisively The book includes chapters on all the principal participants on the reasons for the Palestinian exodus and on the political and moral consequences of the war The chapters are written by leading Arab Israeli and western scholars who draw on primary sources in all relevant languages to offer alternative interpretations and new insights into this defining moment in Middle East history The result is a major contribution to the literature on the 1948 war It will command a wide audience from among students and general readers with an interest in the region Germany's Covert War in the Middle East Curt Prüfer,2017-12-11 Ultimately these cross purposes brought disaster pulling a fatally weak and woefully unprepared Ottoman state into a global war and unleashing vicious internal ethnic repression that brought it defeat and dismemberment The diaries and official reports of German spy and propagandist Curt Prüfer translated here into English in their entirety for the first time chronicle the complexities of the fragile Ottoman German alliance from the perspective of a participant. Much like fellow soldier scholar T. E. Lawrence, Prufer and his colleagues tried to steal the loyalties of the Muslim subjects of the opposing sides. The book explores these episodes of sabotage, subversion, and subterfuge from managing spies to preparing for the attack on the Suez Canal in 1915 and in the process sheds light onto the ways World War I played out across the Middle East. Complemented throughout by in-depth and meticulously researched footnotes, this primary source collection is an invaluable addition to the extant corpus of late Ottoman and World War I historical documents.

Palestine Nur Masalha, 2018-08-15 This rich and magisterial work traces Palestine's millennia-old heritage, uncovering cultures and societies of astounding depth and complexity that stretch back to the very beginnings of recorded history. Starting with the earliest references in Egyptian and Assyrian texts, Nur Masalha explores how Palestine and its Palestinian identity have evolved over thousands of years from the Bronze Age to the present day. Drawing on a rich body of sources and the latest archaeological evidence, Masalha shows how Palestine's multicultural past has been distorted and mythologised by Biblical lore and the Israel-Palestinian conflict. In the process, Masalha reveals that the concept of Palestine, contrary to accepted belief, is not a modern invention or one constructed in opposition to Israel but rooted firmly in ancient past. Palestine represents the authoritative account of the country's history.

A Confiscated Memory Yfaat Weiss, 2011-12-27 Yfaat Weiss tells the story of an Arab neighborhood in Haifa that later acquired iconic status in Israeli memory. In the summer of 1959, Jewish immigrants from Morocco rioted against local and national Israeli authorities of European origin. The protests of Wadi Salib generated for the first time a kind of political awareness of an existing ethnic discrimination among Israeli Jews. However, before that, Wadi Salib existed as an impoverished Arab neighborhood. The war of 1948 displaced its residents, even though the presence of the absentees and the Arab name still linger. Weiss investigates the erasure of Wadi Salib's Arab heritage and its emergence as an Israeli site of memory. At the core of her quest lies the concept of property as she merges the constraints of former Arab ownership with requirements and restrictions pertaining to urban development and the emergence of its entangled memory. Establishing an association between Wadi Salib's Arab refugees and subsequent Moroccan evacuees, Weiss allegorizes the Israeli amnesia about both eventual stories: that of the former Arab inhabitants and that of the riots of 1959 occurring at different times but in one place. Describing each in detail, Weiss uncovers a complex, multilayered and hidden history. Through her sensitive reading of events, she offers an uncommon perspective on the personal and political making of Israeli belonging.

Living in Mandatory Palestine Roberta R. Greene, Shira Hantman, Yair Seltenreich, Mustafa Abbasi, Nancy Greene, 2017-10-16 This book, the product of a series of 40 interviews with Israelis and Palestinians, describes everyday life in Galilee during the Mandate period. The individual narratives are skillfully embedded in larger historical and social histories by a team of authors who come from diverse academic backgrounds. It offers a glimpse into Israelis and Palestinians' experiences of war and peace and sheds new light on the challenges facing Israeli society today. This work is ideal for scholars and students of the social sciences particularly those interested in the psychological repercussions of political and social events

Syria and Bilad al-Sham under Ottoman Rule Peter Sluglett, Stefan Weber, 2010-07-12 This volume honours the work of Abdul Karim Rafeq the foremost historian of Ottoman Syria Rafeq's principal contribution to the study of the social history of Syria between the sixteenth and nineteenth centuries lies in his pioneering use of the resources of the Islamic court records the sijillat in the makama al-shariyya for the writing of social and economic history Rafeq has been the guide and mentor of many of his own contemporaries as well as of younger scholars in the Arab world Europe and North America The volume attempts to follow and complement the major themes in the socio-economic history of Bilad al-Sham which have animated Rafeq's scholarship since the 1960s

Palestine's Christians and the Nationalist Cause Erik Freas, 2024-12-23 This book provides an historical overview of Palestine's Christian communities and their role in the Palestinian nationalist movement during the late Ottoman and British mandatory periods More than being a history of Palestine's Christian Arabs the book focuses on Palestine's Christians during the formative period of Palestinian Arab national identity attentive to the broader topic of the relationship between nationalism and religion in this case between Arab identity and Islam Whereas until recently historians have tended to assume that national and religious identities are distinct and mostly mutually exclusive things more recent scholarship has addressed the fact that often there exists considerable overlap between the two though it should be noted often in ways that are not by any means inherently exclusive of those not belonging to the majority faith as is the case here The relationship is also an ever-changing one hence the final chapter of the book which functions as something of an epilogue regarding the current status of Palestine's Christians vis-à-vis their place in the nationalist cause and relationship with the broader Muslim population The book will be of interest to historians and scholars focused on the modern Middle East Palestinian history Muslim-Christian inter-communal relations and the relationship between nationalism and religion

Britain and Jordan Tancred Bradshaw, 2012-03-30 In the wake of the establishment of the State of Israel in 1948 it has often been alleged King Abdullah I of Jordan and the Zionist movements colluded to partition Mandate Palestine between them while Great Britain the retreating imperial power gave them tacit approval to do so Here Tancred Bradshaw challenges these allegations looking at the complex and often strained relations between the emerging states of Jordan Israel and the at first hegemonic and then crumbling British Empire Using a wide range of primary sources which have previously been largely ignored Britain and Jordan offers an essential re-examination of the relationships which were to shape the Middle East as it is today It thus contains vital analysis for anyone involved in the study of the Middle East its politics and history as well as the demise of Britain's empire in the region

Encyclopedia of the Palestinians Philip Mattar, 2005 Presents the history of modern Palestine and biographies of important Palestinians

Coffins on Our Shoulders Dan Rabinowitz, Khawla Abu-Baker, 2005-09-12 This highly original historical and political analysis of the Arab-Israeli conflict combines the unique perspectives of two prominent segments of the Middle Eastern puzzle Israeli Jews and the Palestinian citizens of Israel

Written jointly by an Israeli anthropologist and a Palestinian family therapist born weeks apart to two families from Haifa Coffins on Our Shoulders merges the personal and the political as it explores the various stages of the conflict from the 1920s to the present. The authors weave vivid accounts and vignettes of family history into a sophisticated multidisciplinary analysis of the political drama that continues to unfold in the Middle East. Offering an authoritative inquiry into the traumatic events of October 2000 when thirteen Palestinian citizens of Israel were killed by Israeli police during political demonstrations, the book culminates in a radical and thought provoking blueprint for reform that few in Israel, in the Arab world and in the West can afford to ignore.

Restitution and Memory Dan Diner, Gotthard Wunberg, 2007-04-01

The myriad debates on restitution and memory which have been going on in Europe for decades indicate that World War II never ended. It is still very much with us, paradoxically re-invoked by the events of 1989-90 and the expansion of Europe to the east in the aftermath of the collapse of communism and economic globalization. The growing privatization and reprivatization in Eastern Europe revive pre-war memories that lay buried under the blanket of collectivization and nationalization of property after 1945. World War II did not only result in the death and destruction on a large scale but also in a far-reaching revolution of existing property relations. This volume offers an assessment of the problematic of restitution and its close interconnection with the discourses of memory that have recently emerged.
