Half The House A Memoir:

Half the House Richard Hoffman, 1995 The headlines that followed the hardcover publication of this unflinching memoir testify to its power Poet s memoirs lead to arrest of alleged child molester Author s writing on abuse brings new victims forward In a new afterword Richard Hoffman writes about the events his book set in motion the cries for help he received from men across the country and the talk he had with an eleven year old boy who thanked him for making it stop Against the backdrop of postwar blue collar America Half the House depicts a family s struggles to care for two terminally ill children recounts the sexual abuse to which the author at age ten was subjected by his coach and explores the ways in which grief and rage estrange those who need each other most A testament to the healing power of truth telling this spare poignang memoir Time offers heartening evidence to borrow William Faulkner s phrase of the human capacity to endure and prevail Washington Post

The Memoir and the Memoirist Thomas Larson, 2007 The memoir is the most popular and expressive literary form of our time Writers embrace the memoir and readers devour it propelling many memoirs by relative unknowns to the top of the best seller list Writing programs challenge authors to disclose themselves in personal narrative Memoir and personal narrative urge writers to face the intimacies of the self and ask what is true In The Memoir and the Memoirist critic and memoirist Thomas Larson explores the craft and purpose of writing this new form Larson guides the reader from the autobiography and the personal essay to the memoir a genre focused on a particularly emotional relationship in the author s past an intimate story concerned more with who is remembering and why than with what is remembered The Memoir and the Memoirist touches on the nuances of memory of finding and telling the truth and of disclosing one s deepest self It explores the craft and purpose of personal narrative by looking in detail at more than a dozen examples by writers such as Mary Karr Frank McCourt Dave Eggers Elizabeth Wurtzel Mark Doty Nuala O Faolain Rick Bragg and Joseph Lelyveld to show what they reveal about themselves Larson also opens up his own writing and that of his students to demonstrate the hidden mechanics of the writing process For both the interested reader of memoir and the writer wrestling with the craft The Memoir and the Memoirist provides guidance and insight into the many facets of this provocative and popular art form

Family Trouble Joy Castro, 2020-03-01 Whenever a memoirist gives a reading someone in the audience is sure to ask How did your family react Revisiting our pasts and exploring our experiences we often reveal more of our nearest and dearest than they might prefer This volume navigates the emotional and literary minefields that any writer of family stories or secrets must travel when depicting private lives for public consumption Essays by twenty five memoirists including Faith Adiele Alison Bechdel Jill Christman Judith Ortiz Cofer Rigoberto Gonz lez Robin Hemley Dinty W Moore Bich Minh Nguyen and Mimi Schwartz explore the fraught territory of family history told from one perspective which from another angle in the family drama might appear quite different indeed In her introduction to this book Joy Castro herself a memoirist explores the ethical dilemmas of writing about family and offers practical strategies for this tricky but necessary subject A sustained and
