allusions to dead mothers dying mothers mad mothers stepmothers abortions stillbirths miscarriages and infant death in the novels of Jean Rhys and the poems and prose of H D Drawing on American and French feminist theory she suggests that Rhys H D and other modernist women writers rather than just characterizing women s experience are encoding the mother in relation to language The dead mother is a trope for textlessness a trope that also serves to inscribe the repression of the female speaking writing subject Challenging a number of assumptions of critical discourse in which the father traditionally functions as the guardian of the symbolic Kloefer shows how thematic violence toward the female body is accompanied by the rupturing of conventional language an act that both reconstitutes the abandoned mother and turns the violence against the androcentric discourse that has denied her In the work of both Rhys and H D Kloefer uncovers a startling and unsettling incestuous language between mother and daughter which relies not only on the unspoken but on the unspeakable Anyone interested in literary modernism will find The Unspeakable Mother fascinating reading as will students and scholars in the fields of psychoanalytic criticism and feminist theory
