Matsuo, Basho, Asataro Miyamori, 2002-01-01 This volume features dozens of Basho s poems as well as works by his predecessors and ten of his disciples Kikaku Ransetsu Joso and Kyoroku among them Intended principally for readers with no knowledge of Japanese literature the book includes the original Japanese text a transliteration and English translations for each verse      Basho Basho, 2022-10-25 This is the essential English edition of the complete poems of the eminent Japanese master of the haiku Matsuo Bash Matsuo Bash 1644 1694 is arguably the greatest figure in the history of Japanese literature and the master of the haiku Bash The Complete Haiku of Matsuo Bash offers in English a full picture of the haiku of Bash 980 poems in all Andrew Fitzsimons translation is the first to adhere strictly to form all of the poems are translated following the syllabic count of the originals This book also translates a number of Bashō's headnotes to poems ignored by previous English language translators. In Fitzsimons' beautiful rendering, Bashō is much more than a philosopher of the natural world and the leading exponent of a refined Japanese sensibility. He is also a poet of queer love and eroticism of the city as well as the country, the indoors and the outdoors, travel and staying put, of lonesomeness as well as the desire to be alone. His poetry explores the full range of social experience in Edo Japan as he moved among friends and followers, high and low, the elite and the demi monde, the less fortunate, poor farmers, abandoned children, disregarded elders. Bashō, The Complete Haiku of Matsuo Bashō, reveals how this work speaks to our concerns today as much as it captures a Japan emerging from the Middle Ages. For dedicated scholars and those coming upon Bashō for the first time, Fitzsimons' elegant translation with an insightful introduction and helpful notes allows readers to enjoy these works in all their glory. Haikus of Four Seasons IV, Mayumi Itoh, 2024-11-02. This is the fourth bilingual haiku anthology written by local poets residing in the Greater Princeton Area and elsewhere. This collection specifically presents 92 original haikus written by the members of the Princeton Adult Haiku Society (PAHS) that was founded in 2021 in both English and Japanese so that readers can appreciate them in two languages. Each haiku has an appropriate season word per the Japanese calendar as well as an annotation where applicable. The essence of haiku is to elevate one's feelings to a more objective and larger perspective. This mental engagement can facilitate embracing empathy for others who are grieving for the loss of their families and friends and who are suffering from various forms of hardships and also can serve as a healing process for the grief and suffering of one's self. With this in mind, this haiku collection is dedicated to Kate Serge, a dear friend of one of the founding members of the PAHS, Dana Defonte. Moon Woke Me Up Nine Times, Matsuo Bashō, 2013-04-02. Vivid new translations of Bashō's popular haiku in a selected format ideal for newcomers as well as fans long familiar with the Japanese master. Bashō, the famously bohemian traveler through seventeenth-century Japan, is a poet attuned to the natural world as well as humble human doings. Piles of quilts, snow on distant mountains, I watch both, he writes. His work captures both the profound loneliness of one observing mind and the broad-ranging joy he finds in our connections to the larger community. David Young, acclaimed translator and Knopf poet, writes in his introduction to this selection: "This poet's consciousness affiliates itself with crickets, islands, monkeys, snowfalls, moonscapes, flowers, trees, and ceremonies. Waking and sleeping alone and in company, he moves through the world, delighting in its details." Young's translations are bright, alert, musically perfect, and rich in tenderness toward their maker. Haikus by Princetonians X, Mayumi Itoh, 2025-05-06. This is the tenth bilingual haiku anthology written by students at Princeton University, consisting of 85 original haikus. This collection categorizes them according to the twelve seasons as well as new year and yearend, that count as sub-seasons. This book presents each haiku in both Japanese and English so that non-Japanese speaking readers fully appreciate them with annotations where applicable. A Haiku Journey, Bashō Matsuo, 1974. An Introduction to Haiku, Harold Gould Henderson, 1967. Haiku, 1997. Haiku should be written as swiftly as a woodcutter fells a tree or a swordsman leaps at a dangerous enemy Basho the father of haiku poetry was of samurai stock himself and so wrote these words from experience the seventeenth century Yosa Buson in the eighteenth century and Kobayashi Issa in the early nineteenth century Robert Haas has written a lively and informed introduction provided brief examples by each poet of their work in the haibun or poetic prose form and included informal notes to the poems This is a useful and inspiring addition to The Essential Poets series
