Halfway To Asia:

Asia in the Old and New Cold Wars Kenneth Paul Tan, 2023-02-06 This is a collection of essays marking the 30th anniversary of the historic Cold War's formal conclusion in 1991. It enriches Cold War studies, a field dominated by Political Science, International Relations, and History, with insights from Sociology, Anthropology, Cultural Studies, and Film and Media Studies. Through critical analysis of newspaper and magazine articles, films, novels, art exhibits, museums, and other commemorative sites that engage with the themes of conflict, violence, trauma, displacement, marginalization, ecology, and identity, the book provides rich and diverse perspectives on the complex relationship between the historic Cold War and its legacies on the one hand, and on the other, their impact on Asia, its plural histories and peoples, and their shifting identities, ideological beliefs, and lived experiences. Today we often speak of an Asian century and witness intensifying concerns over new cold wars or Cold War 2.0. A United States in decline and a China on the rise create conditions for a new superpower rivalry, with a trade war already being fought between the two competitors. Russia continues to flex its geopolitical muscles, launching a full-scale invasion of neighbouring Ukraine in 2022, as its strongman leadership yearns nostalgically for the good old days of the USSR. As grand narratives and strategies of the Cold War jostle to make sense of high-level geopolitical events, this book descends to the level of lived experience, zooming in on ordinary and marginalized peoples whose lives and livelihoods have been affected over the decades by the Cold War and its legacies. Sunset, 1918 Congressional Record United States. Congress, 1967 Regional Integration in South Asia: What Role for Trade Facilitation? Tsunehiro Otsuki, Flowering Plants. Eudicots Klaus Kubitzki, 2010-12-10 This volume, the tenth in the series, comprises modern treatments for the families and genera of the eudicot orders Sapindales and Cucurbitales. The circumscription of the orders, families, and genera conforms to the most recent systematic studies. The family treatments include descriptions of the families and the genera, classification keys, discussions of relationships, and data on their morphology, reproductive biology, distribution, ecology, and economic importance. Sapindales and Cucurbitales, as understood in this volume, comprise 16 families with 637 genera and roughly 9,240 species. Sapindales include large tropical and southern temperate tree families such as the Anacardiaceae, Sapindaceae, these in the modern circumscription which includes Aceraceae and Hippocastanaceae, Meliaceae, and Rutaceae, which have long been considered to be closely related. Cucurbitales represent a relatively new ordinal concept, apart from some small woody groups; the order contains two large families, Cucurbitaceae and Begoniaceae, which are predominantly and likely basically herbaceous. A detailed treatment of the tropical and southern temperate woody family Myrtaceae, itself comprising 142 genera and 6,700 species, is an addendum to the treatment of the Myrtales in Vol IX of this series. American Art in Asia Michelle Lim, Kyunghye Pyun, 2022-05-05 This book challenges existing notions of what is American and/or Asian art, moving beyond the identity issues that have dominated art world conversations of the 1980s and the 1990s, and aligning with new trends and issues in contemporary art today, e.g. the Global

South labor environment and gender identity Contributors examine both historical and contemporary instances in art practices and exhibition making under the rubric of American art in Asia The book complicates existing notions of what constitutes American art Asian American and American Asian art As today's production and display of contemporary art takes place across diffused borders under the fluid conditions of a globalized art world since transformed by the COVID 19 pandemic new contexts and art historical narratives are forming that upend traditional Euro American mappings of center margins migratory patterns and community engagement The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history American studies Asian studies and visual culture

Life Imprisonment in Asia Dirk van Zyl Smit, Catherine Appleton, Giao Vucong, 2022-11-30 Life imprisonment is the punishment most often imposed worldwide for what societies regard as the most serious offences Yet in Asia the phenomenon has never been studied systematically Life Imprisonment in Asia fills this major gap It brings together thirteen new essays on life imprisonment in key jurisdictions in the region Each chapter consolidates what is known about the law and practice of life imprisonment in the jurisdiction and then explores aspects of the imposition or implementation of life sentences that the authors regard as particularly problematic In some instances the main issue is the imposition of life sentences by the courts and their relationship to the death penalty In others the focus is on the treatment of life sentenced prisoners In many instances the most prominent question is whether life sentenced prisoners should be released and if so according to what processes In the overview chapter the editors place the complex picture that emerges of life imprisonment in Asia in a global context and point to reforms urgently required to ensure that Asian life sentences meet international human rights standards Life Imprisonment in Asia should be read by everyone who has an interest in just punishments for serious offences not only in Asia but throughout the world It will be an invaluable tool for lawyers criminologists policy makers and penal reform advocates in the region and beyond
