Roses of the Dreamer Benjamin Granger, 2012-11-21 Two people who are at a library in Stapleton CA discover an ancient book that they believe may have been written by Leonardo DaVinci When they read through the book they realize that it may actually hold the secret to time travel When they discover that the book may hold the secret to time travel they decide they must keep it out of the wrong hands When they realize it also holds a secret about the past in their community they go on a journey through the past Through the writings in the book they soon know that they must protect it at all costs but suspicions rise The book starts off with the inventor Da Vinci creating a plan for a time travel mechanism Although he attempts to create the plans he soon realizes that he will be discovered by the authorities soon and must be on his way After the preface of the book it then moves to two young men at a library in Stapleton CA who discover a book at the library Although it looks normal at first they soon realize that contains some specific writings that are hidden within the books contents Even though they start to think it s an interesting book they do not realize just yet what power that it holds After a while they take the book home with them and attempt to decipher it and soon figure it that it s not just a book but a rather a real gateway that was possibly invented by Leonardo Da Vinci to time travel A History of Moonville, Ohio and a Collection of Its Haunting Tales William M. Cullen, 2013-09-25 A History of Moonville Ohio and a Collection of its Haunting Tales Revised Edition is an updated version of a previous work the author had published back in 2008 This revised edition contains more detailed history about Moonville and its surrounding towns such as Zaleski on how they came to be most notably that Moonville was named by the railroad after a general store proprietor rather than the man who had actually founded the town and that Zaleski was named after a Polish French financier who never came to America to see his namesake town This revised edition also contains more haunting tales of what had happened to some of those who had lived and worked in this remote mining town in eastern Vinton County Ohio mainly covering those who had been involved in train accidents surrounding the still standing tunnel as these trains came barreling through the area plus there are a few tales of murder as well There are also a few light hearted tales most notably that of a well known English author who had passed through Moonville on his way to tour America back in the late 1860s as well as a story about some feisty sisters in Athens who took on the expanding railroad There are human interest elements in all of this most notably to me is the story of the Dexters who had been enslaved in Virginia escaping in the 1860s having made their way to Moonville in order to live out their lives in freedom This book is about preserving the history of a mining town that began back in the 1850s thriving for nearly fifty years before it began its long slide into history though not completely forgotten for it had been once a vital part of Ohios history especially in the days leading up to the American Civil War and that is why I wrote and revised this work for Moonvilles history is a part of Ohios history The Key to the Map Bruce Chudacoff,2016-05-13 A squad of terrorists eagerly waits in a small Jerusalem home at midnight Their mission is to plant a radioactive device under the Temple Mount and cause catastrophic damage to the Dome of the Rock which will be blamed on the Israelis igniting the final struggle for dominance and control over the Holy Land Across the sea in Rome Jake Greene a retired Homeland Security operations executive and his daughter Rebecca Gould an anthropologist stumble upon an antique map and a strange medallion They are immediately thrust into a world of ancient secrets modern warfare and government conspiracy As they begin to decipher the mysteries surrounding these objects they meet and join forces with David Robinson whose family is sworn to help someone who will one day appear to him holding the medallion They are caught up in a thrilling search for the lost Ark of the Covenant They must find a way to foil the terrorists find the Ark and conceal it from a world not yet ready for its discovery
