Smith,2005-06-22 Children make up one of cinema s largest audiences yet from its infancy cinema has in the minds of moral watchdogs accompanied penny papers comic books and mobile phones as a threat to children s health morality and literacy Mobilising original research and writing with energy and wit Sarah J Smith explores the recurring debates in Britain and America about how children use and respond to the media She focuses on a key example the controversy surrounding children and cinema in the 1930s Arguing that children are agents in their cinema viewing not victims she uncovers children s distinct cinema culture and reveals the ways in which they subverted or circumvented official censorship to regulate their own viewing of a variety of films including Frankenstein and King Kong In an era when children are seen to be at risk in so many ways this involving book is a refreshing and illuminating read for all those interested in its subject Grande Dame Guignol Cinema Peter Shelley,2009-10-21 This critically analytical filmography examines 45 movies featuring grande dames in horror settings Following a history of women in horror before 1962 s What Ever Happened to Baby Jane which launched the Grande Dame Guignol subgenre of older women featured as morally ambiguous leading ladies are all such films mostly U S that came after that landmark release The filmographic data includes cast crew reviews synopses and production notes as well as recurring motifs and each role s effect on the star s career Henry Bumstead and the World of Hollywood Art Direction Andrew Horton,2010-01-01 From a hotel in Marrakech in The Man Who Knew Too Much to small town Alabama in To Kill a Mockingbird to Mission Control in Space Cowboys creating a fictional yet wholly believable world in which to film a movie has been the passion and life s work of Henry Bumstead one of Hollywood s most celebrated production designers In a career that has spanned nearly seventy years Bumstead has worked on more than one hundred movies and television films His many honors include Academy Awards for Art Direction for To Kill a Mockingbird and The Sting as well as nominations for Vertigo and The Unforgiven This popularly written and extensively illustrated book tells the intertwining stories of Henry Bumstead's career and the evolution of Hollywood art direction Andrew Horton combines his analysis of Bumstead's design work with wide ranging interviews in which Bumstead talks about working with top directors including Alfred Hitchcock George Roy Hill Robert Mulligan and Clint Eastwood as well as such stars as Paul Newman Robert Redford Doris Day Jimmy Stewart Sidney Poitier Bill Cosby Jerry Lewis and James Cagney Numerous production drawings storyboards and film stills illustrate how Bumstead's designs translated to film This portrait of Bumstead's career underscores an art director's crucial role in shaping the look of a film and also tracks the changes in production design from the studio era through location shooting to today's use of high tech special effects

Patterns of Bias in Hollywood Movies John W. Cones, 2012 It's pretty broadly recognized that Hollywood movies contain patterns of bias but it's not just people of color or women who are hurt by this Many groups within America's multicultural society have complained over the years about negative and stereotypical portrayals of their own group members in motion pictures produced or released through the Hollywood based studios Yet as an expert on the U S film industry points out such complaints have had little impact on consistent patterns of bias in movies This book takes a broader look at the nature of negative and stereotypical movie portrayals and tracks patterns of such one sided depictions over a longer period time As a result the patterns of bias and the source the problem become more clear The problem appears to be that most of the people who have green light authority in the U S film industry for either the production and or distribution of a motion picture share a common ethnic religious cultural background Thus the stories of their cohort and those of all other ethnic religious and or cultural groups whose members seldom achieve positions of power Hollywood are being filtered through the cultural sensibilities of a single group John Cones suggests that the solution could lie in increasing diversity at the highest levels in the U S film industry This work grew out of the observed frustration of film industry critics who have pointed out examples of bias and stereotyping in specific movies over the years only to be rebuffed by the simplistic studio arguments that such films reflect the real world and that moviegoers vote with their pocket books It can be shown that there is a consistent pattern to the choices Hollywood studio executives make with respect to the movies produced and released and the specific content of those movies and it becomes obvious that Hollywood is selectively portraying reality Moviegoers only have limited options among all of the possibilities that could be portrayed on the silver screen This book differs from other studies touching on bias in motion pictures Most such books focus on the treatment of a single ethnic religious cultural racial or other readily identifiable interest group but this study attempts to provide an overview and to identify patterns over time When the patterns of bias in motion picture content are sufficiently demonstrated and documented it becomes easier to identify the source of the bias and to explain why such bias exists

ARBA Guide to Biographical Resources, 1986-1997 Robert L. Wick, Terry Ann Mood, 1998 This single source guide to selected biographical dictionaries and directories covers the entire spectrum of biographical sources serial and nonserial that have been published in the last ten years In each entry the book gives complete bibliographic information along with price and a critical evaluation Most entries have been selected from American Reference Books Annual ARBA between 1986 and 1997 Organized in two broad categories International and National Biographies and Biographies in Professional Fields listings are also easily accessed through detailed author title and subject indexes This work will be valuable to reference librarians researchers and others who require information on the lives of individuals from all fields of study and all time periods and of particular use to those involved in the library acquisition process

Adaptations Deborah Cartmell, Imelda Whelehan, 2013-06-17 Adaptations considers the theoretical and practical difficulties surrounding the translation of a text into film and the reverse process the novelisation of films Through three sets of case studies the contributors examine the key debates surrounding adaptations whether screen versions of literary classics can be faithful to the text if something as capsulated as Jane Austens irony can even be captured on film whether costume dramas always of their own time and do adaptations remake their parent text to reflect contemporary ideas and concerns Tracing the complex alterations which texts experience between different media Adaptations is a unique exploration of the relationship between text and film

Exiles in Hollywood Gene Phillips, 1998-07 The book deals with five European film directors who were forced to remain in exile in the wake of the rise of Hitler and who subsequently enriched the American motion picture industry with a reservoir of new talent that had been nurtured in Europe The directors treated are Fritz Lang William Wyler Otto Preminger Fred Zinnemann and Billy Wilder
