Improving Transitions to Adulthood for Youth Served by the Foster Care System Robin Nixon,Maria Garin Jones,2000 The transition from foster care to adult independence brings many unexpected challenges This document reports on the experiences of young adults as they leave the foster care system It identifies community based organizations CBOs that provide support and services to these adults and relates opinions of both in order to identify what is needed to strengthen the service system and to build the capacity of CBOs working with former foster youth The Child Welfare League of America CWLA surveyed organizations that provide services to young and older adults after they have left foster care The results were used to create a service directory for former foster youth social workers and other CBOs in need of resources for assisting former foster youth in addition to building a foundation of information about local community support for foster youth This report includes recommendations for building capacity at the local levels and for strengthening the overall service system to facilitate successful long term outcomes for foster youth JDM      Someone There for Me National Court Appointed Special Advocates Organization,2004 Many children travel through the foster care system completely alone with no one to help them get the support they need and or to help them fight for their rights both in court and in the foster care system Some children however are lucky enough to be represented by a court appointed special advocate or a guardian ad litem volunteers who devote themselves to helping children who cannot help themselves Someone There for Me tells the stories of these children and the people who helped them to navigate the foster care system and build a future for themselves Written in the youths own words these stories are an inspiration to everyone who wants to help children and demonstrate the difference just one person can make      Voices of Foster Youth Sue D. Hobbs,Jennifer M. Krebsbach,Rakel P.

Larson,Christine R. Wells,Karen J. Saywitz,2024-06-25 This important book offers unique insight into the experience of foster youth from 27 countries around the world It provides a systematic review of literature reporting the experiences of youth in care addressing a wide range of key topics in this multidisciplinary field and presenting the views and perceptions of these young people Including a meta analysis on contact with birth parents it examines youth s experiences of the foster care system contact and relationships caregiving and relationships with caregivers placements and emotional well being These five core themes embrace a wide range of crucial topics including foster youth s involvement in decisions about themselves interactions with social workers birth families foster families peers and friends the benefits and challenges of foster care the stigma attached to being in care mental health well being and belonging and developing a sense of self This essential volume is for students and scholars of child and adolescent development social work education sociology and public health Illustrated with quotes from former and current foster youth and with research based recommendations for best practices in foster care it is also for professional social workers psychologists child advocates children s therapists children s attorneys youth workers and foster parents      Life Changing Choices Just in Time for Foster Just in Time for Foster Youth,2023-04-20 All the resources and effort dedicated to improving child welfare systems have made little change in positive outcomes At Just In Time For Foster Youth we invite exploration of an alternative approach to resources for children and families that lead to measurably improved results We wrote this book because we ve continued to see a stubborn truth over the last two decades about the critical necessity of Community and Connection as the key to that lasting impact This truth has been reinforced by our own experiences and speaks to why systems resist change and fail to be empowering healthy places for young people or families despite the best intentions This book is not a lecture but a challenge for all of us to consider a different point of view It presents a mindset and model that has empowered our efforts at Just in Time and might do the same for anyone who is frustrated by the persistent trauma that seems built into the current experience of our children in care We wrote this book so you can hear their voices as we have and get to know their stories as we do Once their voices are clearly heard we hope you seek out youth stories in your community and ask others to join and listen Most of all we want this book to start crucial conversations about the old Assumptions and Choices we can change to replace historically negative outcomes with lasting positive Empowerment      Uncertain Futures Edmund V. Mech,Hewitt B. Clark,2003 Discusses the plight of youth who have aged out of the system It provides meaningful practical solutions for teaching youth to support themselves before they are forced out of care and details programs that assist youth in becoming self supporting once they do leave the foster care system     Youth in Progress ,2009 The mission of Youth In Progress is to enhance and advance the lives of today s and tomorrow s youth by supporting their sense of self and responsibility To do this they pledge to educate everyone involved in the various systems Youth In Progress members represent to the realities of this experience Contents of this paper include 1 Planning for Your Future 2 Exploring and Preparing for Careers 3 College and Career Planning Resources 4 Thinking about College 5 Paying for College Financial Aid 6 Supportive Services for Youth in College and 7 College Room and Board This paper was produced by the New York State Office of Children Family Services with the help of Youth in Progress It was written and designed under a contractual agreement between the New York State Office of Children and Family Services Bureau of Training and the Center for Development of Human Services
