Fostering Readers Response Rethinking The Literature Curriculum:

Fostering the Reader's Response Peter Smagorinsky, Steven Gevinson, 1989-01-01 Learning to Enjoy Literature Thomas M. McCann, John V. Knapp, 2021-07-01 Students will not become enthusiastic readers of literature from a teacher simply assigning reading tasks and assessing the completion of the tasks especially when the assessment takes the form of threatened quizzes Instead as this book shows teachers have an obligation to reveal to learners the procedures that skilled readers follow as they work with and enjoy literature and a further obligation to help learners to recognize some value in tackling complex works of literature Assessment, Equity, and Opportunity to Learn Pamela A. Moss, Diana C. Pullin, James Paul Gee, Edward H. Haertel, Lauren Jones Young, 2008-04-07 Providing all students with a fair opportunity to learn OTL is perhaps the most pressing issue facing U S education Moving beyond conventional notions of OTL as access to content often content tested access to resources or access to instructional processes the authors reconceptualize OTL in terms of interaction among learners and elements of their learning environments Drawing on socio cultural sociological psychometric and legal perspectives this book provides historical critique theory and principles and concrete examples of practice through which learning teaching and assessment can be re envisioned to support fair OTL for all students It offers educators researchers and policy analysts new to socio cultural perspectives an engaging introduction to fresh ideas for conceptualizing enhancing and assessing OTL encourages those who already draw on socio cultural resources to focus attention on OTL and assessment and nurtures collaboration among members of discourse communities who have rarely engaged one another s work A Case for Teaching Literature in the Secondary School Janet Alsup, 2015-04-17 Taking a close look at the forces that affect English education in schools at the ways literature cognitive science the privileging of the STEM disciplines and current educational policies are connected this timely book counters with a strong argument for the importance of continuing to teach literature in middle and secondary classrooms The case is made through critical examination of the ongoing culture wars between the humanities and the sciences recent research in cognitive literary studies demonstrating the power of narrative reading and an analysis of educational trends that have marginalized literature teaching in the U S including standards based and scripted curricula The book is distinctive in presenting both a synthesis of arguments for literary study in the middle and high school and sample lesson plans from practicing teachers exemplifying how literature can positively influence adolescents intellectual emotional and social selves Designing Tasks in Secondary Education Ian Thompson, 2014-09-19 Engaging students in learning about their subject is a central concern for all teachers and teacher educators How teachers view and use the pedagogic potential of different tasks to engage pupils with knowledge in different subjects is central to this endeavour Designing Tasks in Secondary Education explores models for effective task design helping you translate the curriculum into the tasks and activities that you ask your students to do in order to facilitate developmental or higher level understanding of curriculum content Written by experts in the field of education from a range of subjects and including a foreword written by renowned author Professor Walter Doyle this book spans an international context and offers a refreshing alternative of how to plan and design tasks that will not only intellectually stimulate but improve teaching quality Key topics explored include Designing tasks which engage learners with knowledge Policy perspectives on task design Designing cognitively demanding classroom tasks Task design issues in the secondary subjects Designing Tasks in Secondary Education offers essential insight into task design and its importance for enhancing subject understanding and student engagement It will challenge and support all education professionals concerned with issues of curriculum design subject knowledge classroom organisation agency in the learning process and teaching quality

Talking in Class Thomas M. McCann, 2006 McCann Johannessen Kahn and Flanagan guide high school teachers in developing skills in promoting and facilitating authentic discussion in the English language arts classroom Experienced teachers know and new teachers quickly learn how challenging it is to spark and sustain effective classroom discussions How can we avoid asking leading questions that make students try to read our minds for a correct answer How can we foster meaningful focused conversation that produces deeper insights into a specific work or topic Talking in Class guides readers in developing skills that promote and facilitate authentic discussion within the English language arts classroom Speaking from their own classroom experience the authors introduce some basic considerations for planning managing and evaluating large group and small group discussions Examples of both instructional activities and classroom practices illustrate the ways that discussion prepares students for subsequent learning specifically in connection to writing and to the reading and interpretation of literature The authors also explore how discussion can connect many phases and components of the curriculum promote and support inquiry and critical thinking incorporate current popular technologies such as blogs and discussion boards and connect students to issues that are important to them and to the broader world of thinkers

Uncovering the Mythology of Secondary English Language Arts Jeremy Breton Francis, 2007

Standards in Practice, Grades 9-12 Peter Smagorinsky, 1996 This book presents five composites of teachers and students in action to portray and elaborate on the English Language Arts standards developed by the National Council of Teachers of English and the International Reading Association The book demonstrates that teaching and learning are not generic homogeneous activities that transcend time space and culture Each chapter long narrative in the book follows a classroom community through a unit of study geared to that community's unique social and cultural context with its own distinct set of values and with learners who bring these values to class The book thus reveals the situatedness of both teaching and learning It helps illustrate how every classroom teacher can adapt standards into a learner centered pedagogy that capitalizes on students strengths Contains a glossary Each chapter contains resources NKA

Illumination Rounds Larry R. Johannessen, 1992 Based on the idea that the Vietnam War is highly significant as a vehicle for studying the power of language engaging in critical thinking and probing American values in a time of crisis this book presents a rationale for exploring the literature that emerged from that conflict and offers a framework for exploring it The book outlines a large array of classroom activities and assignments designed to help students inquire and form their own conclusions and supplies extensive information on resources for teachers and students After a section on theory and research the book offers activities based on researching the war teaching poetry drama and film personal narratives teaching novels and character analysis in novels The book also includes selected and annotated resources for classroom use a list of 59 works cited and 25 student activity sheets NKA
