Trauma in Jonathan Safran Foer's "Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close" Michelle Klein, 2016-08-08 Seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2.0 University of Koblenz Landau Anglistik course 20th Century Novels language English abstract Trauma seems to me being an essential topic to discuss in school as everybody sooner or later has to deal with loss or already dealt with it in the past As every student can identify with this potential challenge it is important for them to get to know different ways of dealing with trauma Foer's story even reveals that coping with trauma is able to bring people from different races and ages together Even if people's trauma is caused by different events there will be a connection between these people Moreover it would be possible to teach this topic interdisciplinary and interdisciplinary in ethics or religious education classes As everyone could be affected by trauma I determined this topic for my planned lesson The reason for choosing the subtopics namely inventing and heavy boots referring to Oskar Grandfather Schell s aphasia and the doorknobs and finally supressing and the feeling of being needed with regard to Grandmother Schell reveal concreteness for the main topic I decided to teach the topic by group work to facilitate the exchange of experiences without the danger to be exposed in front of the class I thought this is the best way as the students can talk about how they perceived the character and his or her ability to deal with the trauma they have gone through The team work is followed by a presentation and discussion of this work to ensure all students have reached the same level of knowledge Moreover it is important have the ability to emphasise with this character and change their perspectives or contribute their own experiences with loss to explain the others why somebody could show such behaviour I will analyse the topic by a characterisation following by a psychoanalytic approach For one it is important to get to know why people are behaving differently after experiencing loss and second it is illuminating for the students to become aware that trauma can be responsible for the person concerned being left with an altered personality The lesson I have planned relates to both characterisation and psychoanalytic approaches After the lesson the students should have general knowledge about trauma and its effects Furthermore it should be clear that trauma can only be overcome by going through two phases which build up upon each other

Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11

Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James s The Ambassadors to McCarthy s The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distil the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification Literature and Terrorism,2012-01-01 The years following the attacks of September 11 2001 have seen the publication of a wide range of scientific analyses of terrorism Literary studies seem to lag curiously behind this general shift of academic interest The present volume sets out to fill this gap It does so in the conviction that the study of literature has much to offer to the transdisciplinary investigation of terror not only with respect to the present post 9 11 situation but also with respect to earlier historical contexts Literary texts are media of cultural self reflection and as such they have always played a crucial role in the discursive response to terror both contributing to and resisting dominant conceptions of the causes motivations dynamics and aftermath of terrorist violence By bringing together experts from various fields and by combining case studies of works from diverse periods and national literatures the volume Literature and Terrorism chooses a diachronic and comparative perspective It is interested in the specific cultural work performed by narrative and dramatic literature in the face of terrorism focusing on literature s ambivalent relationship to other competing modes of discourse The Metareferential Turn in Contemporary Arts and Media Werner Wolf,2011-01-01 One possible description of the contemporary medial landscape in Western culture is that it has gone meta to an unprecedented extent so that a remarkable meta culture has emerged Indeed metareference i e self reflexive comments on or references to various kinds of media related aspects of a given medial artefact or performance specific media and arts or the media in general is omnipresent and can nowadays be encountered in high art and literature as frequently as in their popular counterparts in the traditional media as well as in new media From the Simpsons pop music children s literature computer games and pornography to the contemporary visual arts feature film postmodern fiction drama and even architecture everywhere one can find metareferential explorations comments on or criticism of representation medial conventions or modes of production and reception and related issues Within individual media and genres notably in research on postmodernist metafiction this outspoken tendency towards metaization is known well enough and various reasons have been given for it Yet never has there been an attempt to account for what one may aptly term the current metareferential turn on a larger transmedial scale This is what The Metareferential Turn in Contemporary Arts and Media Forms Functions Attempts at Explanation undertakes to do as a sequel to its predecessor the volume Metareference across Media vol 4 in the series Studies in Intermediality which was dedicated to theoretical issues and transhistorical case studies Coming from diverse disciplinary and methodological backgrounds the contributors to the present volume propose explanations of impressive subtlety breadth and depth for the current situation in addition to exploring individual forms and functions of metareference which may be linked with particular explanations As expected there is no monocausal reason to be found for the situation under scrutiny yet the proposals made have in their combination a remarkable explanatory power which contributes to a better understanding of an important facet of current media production and reception The essays assembled in the volume which also contains an introduction with a detailed survey over the possibilities of accounting for the metareferential turn will be relevant to students and scholars from a wide variety of fields cultural history at large intermediality and media studies as well as more particularly literary studies music film and art history

Towering Figures Sven Cvek, 2011-01-01 This volume offers a critical analysis of a segment of American literary production surrounding the September 11 2001 attacks on the United States While focusing on the writing of Jonathan Safran Foer Art Spiegelman Don DeLillo and Thomas Pynchon the author locates this work within a larger 9 11 cultural archive The book proceeds by way of a series of thematic leaps in order to unearth the active entanglement of the event with systems of meaning and power that create the conditions for its emergence and understanding The main problem of such an approach consists in articulating the three fold relation at the heart of the archive in which issues of traumatic loss affect and politics appear as central between the historical event its cultural imprint and the wider social system In order to grasp these fundamental relations the author resorts to a layered interpretive framework and engages a number of theoretical protocols from psychoanalysis and nationalism studies to philosophy of history world system theory and the heterogeneous critical practices of American Studies Coming from a non US Americanist perspective this contribution to the scholarly production about 9 11 concentrates on trauma as a problem in the conceptualization the event insists on globalization as its crucial context and argues for a historical materialist approach to the 9 11 archive

The Palgrave Handbook of Magical Realism in the Twenty-First Century Richard Perez, Victoria A. Chevalier, 2020-04-30 The Palgrave Handbook of Magical Realism in the Twenty First Century examines magical realism in literatures from around the globe Featuring twenty seven essays written by leading scholars this anthology argues that literary expressions of magical realism proliferate globally in the twenty first century due to travel and migrations the shrinking of time and space and the growing encroachment of human life on nature In this global context magical realism addresses twenty first century politics aesthetics identity and social national formations where contact between and within cultures has exponentially increased altering how communities and nations imagine themselves This text assembles a group of critics throughout the world the Americas Europe Africa Asia the Middle East and Australia who employ multiple theoretical approaches to examine the different ways magical realism in literature has transitioned to a global practice thus signaling a new stage in the history and development of the genre

9/11: Culture, Catastrophe and the Critique of Singularity Diana Gonçalves, 2016-10-24 Even though much has been said and written about 9 11 the work developed on this subject has mostly explored it as an unparalleled event a turning point in history This book wishes to look instead at how disruptive events promote a network of associations and how people resort to comparison as a means to make sense of the unknown i e to comprehend what seems incomprehensible In order to effectively discuss the complexity of 9 11 this book articulates different fields of knowledge and perspectives such as visual culture media studies performance studies critical theory memory studies and literary studies to shed some light on 9 11 and analyze how the event has impacted on American social and cultural fabric and how the American society has come to terms with such a devastating event A more in depth study of Don DeLillo s Falling Man and Jonathan Safran Foer s Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close draws attention to the cultural construction of catastrophe and the plethora of cultural products 9 11 has inspired It demonstrates how the event has been integrated into American culture and exemplifies what makes up the 9 11 imaginary Imagining Autism Sonya Freeman Loftis, 2015-12-01 A disorder that is only just beginning to find a place in disability studies and activism autism remains in large part a mystery giving rise to both fear and fascination Sonya Freeman Loftis s groundbreaking study examines literary representations of autism or autistic behavior to discover what impact they have had on cultural stereotypes autistic culture and the identity politics of autism Imagining Autism looks at fictional characters and an author or two widely understood as autistic ranging from Conan Doyle s Sherlock Holmes and Harper Lee s Boo Radley to Mark Haddon s boy detective Christopher Boone and Steig Larsson s Lisbeth Salander The silent figure trapped inside himself the savant made famous by his other worldly intellect the brilliant detective linked to the criminal mastermind by their common neurology these characters become protean symbols stand ins for the chaotic forces of inspiration contagion and disorder They are also part of the imagined lives of the autistic argues Loftis sometimes for good sometimes threatening to undermine self identity and the activism of the autistic community

Islands in Geography, Law, and Literature Chiara Battisti, Sidia Fiorato, Matteo Nicolini, Thomas Perrin, 2022-04-04 This collection explores the heterogeneous places we have traditionally been taught to term islands It stages a conversation on the very idea of island ness thus contributing to a new field of research at the crossroads of law geography literature urban planning politics arts and cultural studies The contributions to this volume discuss the notion of island ness as a device triggering the imagination triggering narratives and representations in different creative fields they explore the interactions between legal socio political and fictional approaches to remoteness and the state of insularity policy responses to both remoteness and boundaries on different scales and the insular legal framing of geographical remoteness The product of a cross disciplinary exchange on islands this edited volume will be of great interest to those working in the fields of Island Studies as well as literary studies scholars geographers and legal scholars Apocalyptic Visions in 21st Century Films Elizabeth A. Ford, Deborah C. Mitchell, 2018-07-11 The apocalypse on the big screen has expanded beyond the familiar end of the world movies Romantic comedies teen adventures and even children s films frequently feature apocalyptic imagery disintegrating cities extreme weather events extinctions rogue military forces epidemics zombie armies and worlds colliding

Using sophisticated CGI effects filmmakers are depicting the end of the world ever more stunningly The authors explore the phenomenon of the cinematic apocalypse and its origins in both our anxieties and our real world events and they identify some flashes of hope in the desolate landscape

Succeeding Postmodernism Mary K. Holland, 2013-04-25 While critics collect around the question of what comes after postmodernism this book asks something different about recent American fiction what if we are seeing not the end of postmodernism but its belated success Succeeding Postmodernism examines how novels by DeLillo Wallace Danielewski Foer and others conceptualize threats to individuals and communities posed by a poststructural culture of mediation and simulation and possible ways of resisting the disaffected solipsism bred by that culture Ultimately it finds that twenty first century American fiction sets aside the postmodern problem of how language does or does not mean in order to raise the reassuringly retro question of what it can and does mean it finds that novels today offer language as solution to the problem of language Thus it suggests a new way of reading antihumanist late postmodern fiction and a framework for understanding postmodern and twenty first century fiction as participating in a long and newly enlivened tradition of humanism and realism in literature
