The Undergraduate's Companion to African Writers and Their Web Sites Miriam E. Conteh-Morgan, 2005-10-30

Now a firmly established part of world literature course offerings in many general education curricula African literature is no longer housed exclusively with African Studies programs and is often studied in English French Portuguese Women's Studies and Comparative Studies departments This book helps fill the great need for research materials on this topic presenting the best resources available for 300 African writers These writers have been carefully selected to include both well known writers and those less commonly studied yet highly influential They are drawn from both the Sub Sahara and the Maghreb the major geographical regions of Africa The study of Africa was introduced into the curriculum of institutions of higher learning in the United States in the 1960s when the Black Consciousness movement in the United States and the Cold War and decolonization movements in Africa created a need for the systematic study of other regions of the world Between 1986 and 1991 three Africans won Nobel literature prizes Soyinka Mahfouz and Gordimer and the visibility of African writers increased They are now a firmly established part of world literature courses in many general education curricula throughout North America African Writers is meant to serve as a resource for introductory material on 300 writers from 39 countries These writers were selected on the basis on two criteria that there is material on them in an easily available reference work and that there is some information of research value on free Web sites Each writer is from the late 19th or 20th century with the notable exception of Olaudah Equiano an 18th century African whose slave narrative is generally considered the first work of African literature All entries are annotated Es'kia Es'kia Mphahlele, 2002 The essays and public addresses of scholar teacher philosopher and activist Es'kia Mphahlele are presented in this collection spanning 40 years of recent African history The intellectual and distinctly South African perspective exhibited in these writings is enriched by humor and autobiographical anecdotes Subjects addressed include African literature and literary criticism education in a democratic South Africa relations between Africans and African Americans negritude African identity and African humanism A critical introduction full biography bibliography and brief synopsis of each essay are included Black World/Negro Digest, 1964-12 Founded in 1943 Negro Digest later Black World was the publication that launched Johnson Publishing During the most turbulent years of the civil rights movement Negro Digest Black World served as a critical vehicle for political thought for supporters of the movement Ezekiel Mphahlele Ursula A. Barnett, 1976 Down Second Avenue Es'kia Mphahlele, 2013-07-30 Es'kia Mphahlele's seminal memoir of life in apartheid South Africa available for the first time in Penguin Classics Nominated for the Nobel Prize in 1969 Es'kia Mphahlele is considered the Dean of African Letters and the father of black South African writing Down Second Avenue is a landmark book that describes Mphahlele's experience growing up in segregated South Africa. Vivid, graceful and unapologetic, it details a daily life of severe poverty and brutal police surveillance under the subjugation of an apartheid regime. Banned in South Africa after its original 1959 publication for its protest against apartheid, Down Second Avenue is a foundational work of literature that continues to inspire activists today. For more than sixty-five years, Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English-speaking world. With more than 1,500 titles, Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines. Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up-to-date translations by award-winning translators.

Foundational African Writers Bhekizizwe Peterson, Jill Bradbury, Hugo Canham, Innocentia J. Mhlambi, Victoria J. Collis-Buthelezi, Sikhumbuzo Mngadi, Simon Gikandi, Thando Njovane, Anne-Maria Makhulu, Obi Nwakanma, Athambile Masola, James Ogude, Christopher E.W. Ouma, Stéphane Robolin, Crain Soudien, Tina Steiner, Thuto Thipe, Andrea Thorpe, 2022-06. The essays in this collection were crafted in celebration of the centenaries in 2019 of Peter Abrahams, Noni Jabavu, Sibusiso Cyril Lincoln Nyembezi and Es'kia Mphahlele, all of whom were born in 1919. All four centenarians lived rich and diverse lives across several continents. In the years following the Second World War, they produced more than half a century of foundational creative writing and literary criticism and made stellar contributions to institutions and repertoires of African and black arts and letters in South Africa and internationally. The range of the centenarians' imaginations, critical analyses and social interventions spanned disciplinary divides. This volume in the same spirit draws on approaches that are equally transdisciplinary. Two aims thread through the contributors' reflections on the complexities of black existence and of intellectual and cultural life in the twentieth century. The first is the exploration of some of the centenarians' key texts and cultural projects that shaped their legacies. In doing so, the volume's contributors trace a number of divergent intellectual and aesthetic lineages in their works and organisational activities. The second aim is a consideration of the ways in which these foundational writers' legacies continue to resonate today, confirming their status as crucial contributors to modern African and diasporic black arts and letters.

The Literature Police Peter D. McDonald, 2010-10-14. Uncovering the tangled stories of censorship and literature in apartheid South Africa, drawing on a wealth of new evidence from censorship archives, archives of resistance publishers and writers' groups, and oral testimony. A unique perspective on one of the most repressive, anachronistic and racist states in the post-war era.

Really Inside BOSS Petrus Cornelius Swanepoel, 2007. Autobiographical account of the author's career with the South African security police and the state intelligence service. Includes his deployment in Namibia in the 1960s.

Still Beating the Drum, 2005-01-01. Lewis Nkosi is one of South Africa's foremost writers and critics and one of the few survivors of the exile generation dating from the Drum era. Up until now, however, no full-length study has been done on his work. This is a gap in South African literary history and criticism that this book is intended to fill Besides his well known earlier works Nkosi is still very much an active writer as the publication in 2002 of his novel Underground People shows with his latest novel due out in 2005 The timing of Still Beating the Drum a book which intends to highlight and evaluate his extensive and varied oeuvre is thus appropriate Given Lewis Nkosi's life trajectory this volume will appeal to readers interested in South African and African literature both in South Africa and abroad Intended as an important critical resource on Lewis Nkosi the book is divided into three parts Part One collects papers from scholars around the world currently working on Nkosi's work in various genres Part Two reprints key articles from different moments in Nkosi's critical writing together with hitherto unpublished recent interviews with Nkosi and Part Three provides the reader with a timeline and extensive bibliography for Lewis Nkosi both invaluable resources for scholars working on Nkosi given the scattered nature of much of his more ephemeral writings in the past Lewis Nkosi is an important figure in South African literature whose voice has been heard far and wide this book aims to collect for critical consideration some of the echoes and reverberations his voice has generated

A History of South African Literature Christopher Heywood, 2004-11-18 This book is a critical study of South African literature from colonial and pre colonial times onwards Christopher Heywood discusses selected poems plays and prose works in five literary traditions Khoisan Nguni Sotho Afrikaans English and Indian The discussion includes over 100 authors and selected works including poets from Mqhayi Marais and Campbell to Butler Serote and Krog theatre writers from Boniface and Black to Fugard and Mda and fiction writers from Schreiner and Plaatje to Bessie Head and the Nobel prizewinners Gordimer and Coetzee The literature is explored in the setting of crises leading to the formation of modern South Africa notably the rise and fall of the Emperor Shaka's Zulu kingdom the Colenso crisis industrialisation the colonial and post colonial wars of 1899 1914 and 1939 and the dissolution of apartheid society In Heywood's study South African literature emerges as among the great literatures of the modern world

The Aesthetic Life of Infrastructure Kelly M. Rich, Nicole M. Rizzuto, Susan Zieger, 2022-12-15 A critical reading of the unstable structures that organize biological and social life This timely and radically interdisciplinary volume uncovers the aesthetics and politics of infrastructure From roads and bridges to harbors and canals infrastructure is conventionally understood as the public works that allow for the circulation of capital Yet this naturalized concept of infrastructure driven by capital's restless expansion is haunted by imperial tendencies to occupy territory extract resources and organize life Infrastructure thus undergirds the living nexus of modernity in an ongoing project of racialization affective embodiment and environmental praxis Rather than merely making visible infrastructure's modes of power however The Aesthetic Life of Infrastructure brings literary methods to bear on the interpretive terrain reading infrastructural space and temporalities to show that their aesthetic and sensorial experience cannot be understood apart from histories of production and political economies Building on critical infrastructure studies in anthropology geography and media studies this collection demonstrates the field's vitality to scholars working across the humanities including in literary visual and cultural studies By querying the presumed invisibility of infrastructure's hidden life the volume's contributors revitalize ongoing literary debates about reading surface and depth How they ask might infrastructure and aesthetics then function as epistemic tools for rethinking each other And what urgency do they acquire in light of current crises that bear on death whether biological social or planetary Complicities Mark Sanders, 2002-12-25 A theoretically informed study of five major pro and anti apartheid intellectuals showing the inevitability of complex and compromised positions and the impossibility of pure ones Readings in African Popular Culture Karin Barber, 1997 This is an extraordinarily rich collection full of informative detail and excellent interpretative analysis There is not a single piece that fails to fascinate Leeds African Studies Bulletin an impressive collection of inspiring and thought provoking essays Media Development This is a book that should find its way into many syllabuses and onto the bookshelves of Africanist scholars in many disciplines Its publication marks a key turning point in scholarship on the cultures of contemporary Africa Africa Today This book surveys the popular culture of contemporary Africa including popular literature oral narrative and poetry dance drama music and visual art with special emphasis on the verbal arts The essays cover six main areas views of the field oral tradition revisited social history social criticism and interpretation women in popular culture little genres of everyday life the local and the global
