Faber Of Contemporary Caribbean Short Stories:

The Faber Book of Contemporary Caribbean Short Stories Mervyn Morris, 1990-01-01      A History of Literature in the Caribbean: English- and Dutch-speaking countries Albert James Arnold, Julio Rodríguez-Luis, J. Michael Dash, 2001-01-01

For the first time the Dutch speaking regions of the Caribbean and Suriname are brought into fruitful dialogue with another major American literature that of the anglophone Caribbean. The results are as stimulating as they are unexpected. The editors have coordinated the work of a distinguished international team of specialists. Read separately or as a set of three volumes the History of Literature in the Caribbean is designed to serve as the primary reference book in this area. The reader can follow the comparative evolution of a literary genre or plot the development of a set of historical problems under the appropriate heading for the English or Dutch speaking region. An extensive index to names and dates of authors and significant historical figures completes the volume. The subeditors bring to their respective specialty areas a wealth of Caribbeanist experience. Vera M Kutzinski is Professor of English American and Afro American Literature at Yale University. Her book Sugar's Secrets: Race and The Erotics of Cuban Nationalism 1993 treated a crucial subject in the romance of the Caribbean nation. Ineke Phaf Rheinberger has been very active in Latin American and Caribbean literary criticism for two decades first at the Free University in Berlin and later at the University of Maryland. The editor of A History of Literature in the Caribbean A. James Arnold is Professor of French at the University of Virginia where he founded the New World Studies graduate program. Over the past twenty years he has been a pioneer in the historical study of the Negritude movement and its successors in the francophone Caribbean.

Over the past twenty years he has been a pioneer in the historical study of the N gritude movement and its successors in the francophone Caribbean     Communities in Contemporary Anglophone Caribbean Short Stories Lucy Evans,2014-11-05 This book explores representations of community in Anglophone Caribbean short story collections and cycles of the late twentieth and early twenty first century     The Routledge Companion to Anglophone Caribbean Literature Michael A. Bucknor,Alison Donnell,2011-06-14 This Companion is divided into six sections that provide an introduction to and critical history of the field discussions of key texts and a critical debate on major topics such as the nation race gender and migration In the final section contributors examine the material dissemination of Caribbean literature and point towards the new directions that Caribbean literature and criticism are taking

A Companion to the British and Irish Short Story David Malcolm,Cheryl Alexander Malcolm,2009-01-30 A Companion to the British and Irish Short Story provides a comprehensive treatment of short fiction writing and chronicles its development in Britain and Ireland from 1880 to the present Provides a comprehensive treatment of the short story in Britain and Ireland as it developed over the period 1880 to the present Includes essays on topics and genres as well as on individual texts and authors Comprises chapters on women s writing Irish fiction gay and lesbian writing and short fiction by immigrants to Britain     Teaching the Short Story A. Cox,2015-12-04 The short story is moving from relative neglect to a central position in the curriculum as a teaching tool it offers students a route into many complex areas including critical theory gender studies postcolonialism and genre This book offers a practical guide to the short story in the classroom covering all these fields and more

Nominal and Pronominal Address in Jamaica and Trinidad Matthias Klumm,2021-09-15 This book examines the various patterns of nominal and pronominal address used in Jamaica and Trinidad the two most populous islands of the English speaking Caribbean Given that the Anglo Caribbean context has so far been largely neglected in address research this study aims to provide an in depth analysis of the linguistic means Jamaicans and Trinidadians have at their disposal and make use of to address each other A particular focus will be on variation in the speakers address behaviour with regard to their sex age social class ethnicity and regional background The study draws both on data from a self compiled corpus of postcolonial Jamaican and Trinidadian literary works and on questionnaire and interview data collected during fieldwork This book contributes to the ever growing body of research in the field of nominal and pronominal address and will be relevant to researchers interested in the fields of sociolinguistics pragmatics and World Englishes     Telling Stories ,2021-11-15 The present volume is a highly comprehensive assessment of the postcolonial short story since the thirty six contributions cover most geographical areas concerned Another important feature is that it deals not only with exclusive practitioners of the genre Mansfield Munro but also with well known novelists Achebe Armah Atwood Carey Rushdie so that stimulating comparisons are suggested between shorter and longer works by the same authors In addition the volume is of interest for the study of aspects of orality dialect dance rhythms circularity and trickster figure for instance and of the more or less conflictual relationships between the individual character or implied author and the community Furthermore the marginalized status of women emerges as another major theme both as regards the past for white women settlers or the present for urbanized characters primarily in Africa and India The reader will also have the rare pleasure of discovering Janice Kulik Keefer's Fox her version of what she calls in her commentary displaced autobiography or creative non fiction Lastly an extensive bibliography on the postcolonial short story opens up further possibilities for research
