institutional and policy framework while the changing geography of Europe provides a different context for policy development in pre 2004 member states One of the more important fields in which these changes are impacting is regional development The admission of the new countries changes patterns of economic and social disparities across the territory of the European Union which in turn demands that existing approaches to regional development are reconsidered An approach which has proved to be one of the most innovative is spatial planning This book brings together a team of academics and policy makers from across the new Europe involved in regional development and spatial planning Providing insights into different approaches it offers a valuable opportunity to compare experiences across European borders Industrial Policy in Europe European Network on Industrial Policy,1999 This volume explores both the theoretical basis for industrial policy in Europe and practical proposals for making industrial development happen Integration of the Greater European Spaces Council of Europe,2002-01-01 This volume contains the proceedings in English and French of the International seminar Integration of the greater European spaces about the sustainable spatial organisation of the Greater European area Topics range from geopolitical considerations to territorial impact assessment of concrete projects and comprehensive reports on the activities undertaken under various European initiatives and programmes of cross border transnational and inter regional co operation Particular attention was paid to the presentation of successful regional and local spatial development projects

European Regional Policy and Development María del Carmen Sánchez-Carreira,Paulo Jorge Reis Mourão,Bruno Blanco-Varela,2023-07-18 The shortcomings of traditional regional policies led to a major policy Thus regions have become more active in the design and implementation of policies following a bottom up approach and involving the participation of the local community in strategic planning as opposed to the traditional top down method This book addresses regional development theories and policies with a special focus on forgotten places and raises emerging questions about recent theoretical advances as well as trends and challenges in the field It examines two main and related issues the crucial role of regional actors for development and the role of Forgotten Spaces It emphasizes the spatial territorial approaches from different theoretical perspectives underlining place based approaches and compares the experiences of both successful and failed cases attempting to identify lessons and policy recommendations as well as adding empirical evidence to this field The different cases presented which focus on Forgotten Spaces allow the reader to assess the role of different actors for regional development as well as some sectoral approaches While there is a clear focus on European countries with different geographical institutional and sociocultural characteristics the book also examines good and bad examples of regional development and policies related to forgotten places from different regions worldwide including developed and developing countries The book benefits from contributions from over 20 authors from different nationalities and a rich diversity of case studies approaches and methods of discussion The authors discuss practical examples and more complex theoretical approaches involving techniques of spatial analysis spatial econometrics social networks content analysis as well as regional planning techniques The book will appeal to an interdisciplinary audience and will provide academicians politicians and policy designers with original and detailed analyses Promoting Solidarity in the European Union Malcolm G. idea of solidarity in the EU context from interdisciplinary perspectives analyzing its impact on law and policy The European Public Sphere and the Media A. Triandafyllidou, R. Wodak, Micha? Zarifis, Maria N. Gravani, 2013-10-29 This book critically reflects on the context in which lifelong learning policies and practices are organized in Europe with contributions of researchers and policy makers in the field Through a critical lens the book reinterprets the core content of the messages that are conveyed by the European Commission in the Memorandum for Lifelong Learning the most important policy document in the area which after a decade from its publication still remains the vehicle for all current developments in lifelong learning in Europe With references to research findings proposed actions and applications to immediate practice that have an added value for Europeans but which either do not appear to correspond directly to what is stipulated by the European Commission or are completely ignored as part of the lifelong learning process the book offers an analytic and systematic outlook of the main challenges in creating the European Area of Lifelong Learning In times as decisive as the ones we are going through today both in social and economic terms a critical perspective of the practices and policies adopted by the EU Member States is essential The book follows the same structure as the Memorandum in order to debate and critically approach in separate sections the core issues that Europe faces today in relation to the idea of making a European area of Lifelong Learning Labor, Employment, and Social Policies in the EU Enlargement Process Lodovico Pizzati, Bernard Funck, 2002 The process of transition to a market economy and integration into the EU has strained the labour markets of central and eastern European countries and these developments pose a number of challenges to their social policies This volume presents the contributions given at an international labour conference held in Austria in June 2001 to investigate these issues It provides the latest labour trends in EU accession countries and compares them to previous experiences of European integration It reviews existing labour market policies and social protection mechanisms and discusses alternative strategies for employment creation in the region
