Holocaust Education in Primary Schools in the Twenty-First Century Claus-Christian W. Szejnmann, Paula Cowan, James Griffiths, 2018-07-09 This collection is the first of its kind bringing together Holocaust educational researchers as well as school and museum educators from across the globe to discuss the potentials of Holocaust education in relation to primary school children Its contributors are from countries that have a unique relationship with the Holocaust such as Germany Israel neutral Switzerland and Allied countries outside the UK Their research provides new insight into the diverse ways in which primary aged students engage with Holocaust education Chapters explore the impact of teaching the Holocaust to this age group school and museum teaching pedagogies and primary students perspectives of the Holocaust This book will appeal to school and museum educators of primary aged students whose work requires them to teach the Holocaust Citizenship or Civics or Human Rights Education Since the turn of the twenty first century there has been a transformation in school and museum based Holocaust education This book clearly demonstrates that primary education has been included in this transformation The Expressive Arts Fred Sedgwick, 2020-04-22 Originally published in 1993 this book addresses the issue of the place of the expressive arts in primary schools in the years around and beyond the implementation of the National Curriculum It comprises a set of case studies on the language arts painting and drawing dance drama and music that suggest ways forward in teaching these arts to children aged between four and eleven The Expressive Arts Activity Book, 2nd edition Wende Heath, Suzanne Darley, 2020-10-21 This new and updated book is packed full of tried and tested therapeutic activities for use in a range of care settings It is designed to use simple and inexpensive tools and contains both individual and group activities of varying difficulty and includes real life anecdotes that bring the techniques to life

The DRAMA BOOK for Primary School Allen Kerr, 2012-06-08 A book for teachers of primary school children which will help both the novice and seasoned professional to plan exciting lessons that fit in with the Scottish Government's new Curriculum for Excellence The themes and issues chosen for exploration in this edition reflect the broad scope of the current curriculum with its wide ranging and holistic approach to learning and teaching and all the Lesson Plans are completely suitable and relevant for continuing use under the still evolving curriculum At the end of each lesson the Outcomes Experiences as contained in the Curriculum for Excellence guidelines are given for that lesson Please refer to the appropriate section of these guidelines for the full interpretation of the codes by visiting www.curriculumforexcellencescotland.com The book retains the format of the original edition and is composed of a series of Lesson Plans or Lesson Sequences with each Plan covering a particular theme or issue Some of the lessons will enlarge and expand upon material covered in previous chapters but with more detail or different emphases Shopping for example is a more detailed exploration of a section in the Our Food Lesson Plan and is included here in response to feedback from teachers who found it to be the most popular Lesson among pupils in P1 P3 and the most requested Again the Plans are ordered in relation to the pupils age and their stage P1 to P7 within the school Once again however it should be emphasised that a class of pupils will not learn at the same pace nor work at the same level as each other Teachers therefore should utilise fully the flexibility of the Lesson Plans by adapting them to suit the ability of the pupils in their class For example a Lesson Plan suggested for P3 or P4 may also be given to P6 or P7 and vice versa with appropriate and imaginative modifications Also in the same lesson pupils may contribute at levels of varying degrees according to their individual abilities As always the shared experience of the lesson is the key issue An expanded Glossary of drama terms and definitions is included in the Book as well as further suggestions for extension work useful websites and relevant resources and materials It should be emphasised once more that this edition represents the latest stage of an evolving work in progress with infinite scope for growth and expansion as future ideas and possibilities are created by the continuing evolution

The Art of Life in South Africa Daniel Magaziner, 2016-11-09 From 1952 to 1981 South Africa's apartheid government ran an art school for the training of African art teachers at Indaleni in what is today KwaZulu Natal. The Art of Life in South Africa is the story of the students' teachers' art and politics that circulated through a small school housed in a remote former mission station. It is the story of a community that made its way through the travails of white supremacist South Africa and demonstrates how the art students and teachers made together became the art of their lives. Daniel Magaziner radically reframes apartheid era South African history. Against the dominant narrative of apartheid oppression and black resistance as well as recent scholarship that explores violence, criminality and the hopeless entanglements of the apartheid state, this book focuses instead on a small group's efforts to fashion more fulfilling lives for its members and their community through the ironic medium of the apartheid era school. There is no book like this in South African historiography. Lushly illustrated and poetically written, it gives us fully formed lives that offer remarkable insights into the now clichéd experience of black life under segregation and apartheid.

The Routledge International Handbook of Creative Learning Julian Sefton-Green, Pat Thomson, Ken Jones, Liora Bresler, 2011-07-15 The concept of creative learning extends far beyond Arts based learning or the development of individual creativity. It covers a range of processes and initiatives throughout the world that share common values, systems and practices aimed at making learning more creative. This applies at individual classroom or whole school level, always with the aim of fully realising young people's potential. Until now there has been no single text bringing together the significant literature that explores the dimensions of creative learning, despite the work of artists in schools and the development of a cadre of creative teaching and learning specialists. Containing a mixture of newly commissioned chapters, reprints and updated versions of previous publications, this book brings together major theorists and current research. Comprising of key readings in creative education, it will stand as a uniquely authoritative text that will appeal to those involved in initial and continuing teacher education as well as research, academics and policy specialists. Sections include a general introduction to the field of creative learning, arts learning traditions with sub-sections on discrete art forms such as drama and visual art, accounts of practice from artist-teacher partnerships, whole school change and reforms, curriculum change, assessment, evaluative case studies of impact and effect, global studies of policy change around creative learning.
