Transcultural English Studies Frank Schulze-Engler, Sissy Helff, 2009 What is most strikingly new about the transcultural is its sudden ubiquity Following in the wake of previous concepts in cultural and literary studies such as creolization hybridity and syncretism and signalling a family relationship to terms such as transnationality translocality and transmigration transcultural terminology has unobtrusively but powerfully edged its way into contemporary theoretical and critical discourse The four sections of this volume denote major areas where transcultural questions and problematics have come to the fore theories of culture and literature that have sought to account for the complexity of culture in a world increasingly characterized by globalization transnationalization and interdependence realities of individual and collective life worlds shaped by the ubiquity of phenomena and experiences relating to transnational connections and the blurring of cultural boundaries fictions in literature and other media that explore these realities negotiate the fuzzy edges of ethnic or national cultures and participate in the creation of transnational public spheres as well as transcultural imaginations and memories and finally pedagogy and didactics where earlier models of teaching other cultures are faced with the challenge of coming to terms with cultural complexity both in what is being taught and in the people it is taught to and where target cultures have become elusive The idea of locating culture and literature exclusively in the context of ethnicities or nations is rapidly losing plausibility throughout an English speaking world that has long since been multi rather than monolingual Exploring the prospects and contours of Transcultural English Studies thus reflects a set of common challenges and predicaments that in recent years have increasingly moved centre stage not only in the New Literatures in English but also in British and American studies Ay Tú! Sonia Saldivar-Hull, Geneva M. Gano, 2024-10-22 A comprehensive volume on the life and work of renowned Chicana author Sandra Cisneros Manifesting America Mark Rifkin, 2012-12-01 Manifesting America explores how Native American and Mexican American writers use various kinds of nonfiction to challenge the ideology of manifest destiny The Routledge Companion to Migration Literature Gigi Adair, Rebecca Fasselt, Carly McLaughlin, 2024-07-30 The Routledge Companion to Migration Literature offers a comprehensive survey of an increasingly important field It demonstrates the influence of the age of migration on literature and showcases the role of literature in shaping socio political debates and creating knowledge about the migratory trajectories lives and experiences that have shaped the post 1989 world The contributors examine a broad range of literary texts and critical approaches that cover the spectrum between voluntary and forced migration In doing so they reflect the shift in recent years from the author centric study of migrant writing to a more inclusive conception of migration literature The book contains sections on key terms and critical approaches in the field important genres of migration literature a range of forms and trajectories of migration with a particular focus on the global South and on migration literature s relevance in social contexts outside the academy Its range of scholarly voices on literature from different geographical contexts and in different languages is central to its call for and contribution to a pluriversal turn in literary migration studies in future scholarship This Companion will be of particular interest to scholars working on contemporary migration literature and it also offers an introduction to new students and scholars from other fields Chapter 15 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Ethnic Literary Traditions in American Children's Literature M. Stewart, Y. Atkinson, 2009-11-23 Esteemed contributors expand the range of possibilities for reading understanding and teaching children s literature as ethnic literature rather than children s literature in this ambitious collection In the Spirit of a New People Randy J. Ontiveros, 2014 Reexamining the Chicano civil rights movement of the 1960s and 1970s In the Spirit of a New People brings to light new insights about social activism in the twentieth century and new lessons for progressive politics in the twenty first Randy J Ontiveros explores the ways in which Chicano a artists and activists used fiction poetry visual arts theater and other expressive forms to forge a common purpose and to challenge inequality in America Focusing on cultural politics Ontiveros reveals neglected stories about the Chicano movement and its impact how writers used the street press to push back against the network news how visual artists such as Santa Barraza used painting installations and mixed media to challenge racism in mainstream environmentalism how El Teatro Campesino s innovative actos or short skits sought to embody new more inclusive forms of citizenship and how Sandra Cisneros and other Chicana novelists broadened the narrative of the Chicano movement In the Spirit of a New People articulates a fresh understanding of how the Chicano movement contributed to the social and political currents of postwar America and how the movement remains meaningful today Chicana/o Remix Karen Mary Davalos, 2017-07-25 Rewrites our understanding of the last 50 years of Chicana o cultural production Chicana o Remix casts new light not only on artists such as Sandra de la Loza Judy Baca and David Botello among others but on the exhibitions that feature their work and the collectors curators critics and advocates who engage it Combining feminist theory critical ethnic studies art historical analysis and extensive archival and field research Karen Mary Davalos argues that narrow notions of identity politics and aesthetics limit our ability to understand the full capacities of Chicana o art She employs fresh vernacular concepts such as the errata exhibit or the staging of exhibits that critically question mainstream art museums and the remix or the act of bringing new narratives and forgotten histories from the background and into the foreground These concepts which emerge out of art practice itself drive her analysis and reinforce the rejection of familiar narratives that evaluate Chicana o art in simplistic traditional terms such as political versus commercial or realist versus conceptual Throughout Chicana o Remix Davalos explores undocumented or previously ignored information about artists their cultural production and the exhibitions and collections that feature their work Each chapter exposes and challenges conventions in art history and Chicana o studies documenting how Chicana artists were the first to critically challenge exhibitions of Chicana o art tracing the origins of the first Chicano arts organizations and highlighting the influence of Europe and Asia on Chicana o artists who traveled abroad As a leading scholar in the study of Chicana o artists art spaces and exhibition practices Davalos presents her most ambitious project to date in this re examination of fifty years of Chicana o art production

Spatial Boundaries, Abounding Spaces Mohit Chandna, 2021-06-30 Colonialism advanced its project of territorial expansion by changing the very meaning of borders and space The colonial project scripted a unipolar spatial discourse that saw the colonies as an extension of European borders In his monograph Mohit Chandna engages with narrations of spatial conflicts in French and Francophone literature and film from the nineteenth to the early twenty first century In literary works by Jules Verne Ananda Devi and Patrick Chamoiseau and film by Michael Haneke Chandna analyzes the depiction of ever changing borders and spatial grammar within the colonial project In so doing he also examines the ongoing resistance to the spatial legacies of colonial practices that act as omnipresent enforcers of colonial borders Literature and film become sites that register colonial spatial paradigms and advance competing narratives that fracture the dominance of these borders Through its analyses Spatial Boundaries Abounding Spaces shows that colonialism is not a finished project relegated to our past Colonialism is present in the here and now and exercises its power through the borders that define us

¡Chicana Power! Maylei Blackwell, 2016-06-27 The first book length study of women s involvement in the Chicano Movement of the late 1960s and 1970s Chicana Power tells the powerful story of the emergence of Chicana feminism within student and community based organizations throughout southern California and the Southwest As Chicanos engaged in widespread protest in their struggle for social justice civil rights and self determination women in el movimiento became increasingly militant about the gap between the rhetoric of equality and the organizational culture that suppressed women s leadership and subjected women to chauvinism discrimination and sexual harassment Based on rich oral histories and extensive archival research Maylei Blackwell analyzes the struggles over gender and sexuality within the Chicano Movement and illustrates how those struggles produced new forms of racial consciousness gender awareness and political identities Chicana Power provides a critical genealogy of pioneering Chicana activist and theorist Anna Nieto Gomez and the Hijas de Cuauht moc one of the first Latina feminist organizations who together with other Chicana activists forged an autonomous space for women s political participation and challenged the gendered confines of Chicano nationalism in the movement and in the formation of the field of Chicana studies She uncovers the multifaceted vision of liberation that continues to reverberate today as contemporary activists artists and intellectuals both grassroots and academic struggle for revise and rework the political legacy of Chicana feminism

Interpreting the New Milenio M. Carmen Gómez Galisteo, José Antonio Gurpegui, 2009-05-05 Interpreting the New Milenio is a collection of essays analyzing the past present and future directions of Chicano Literature Beginning with the presence of Spanish conquistadors in the U S and ending with contemporary authors such as Sandra Cisneros Interpreting the New Milenio covers well known Chicano authors as well as lesser known 19th century Hispanic writers The essays in the collection examine Chicano literature as well as its precedents as a whole so as to find the keys for the interpretation of the challenges posed by the new millennium

Bordered Writers Isabel Baca, Yndalecio Isaac Hinojosa, Susan Wolff Murphy, 2019-01-01 Examines innovative writing pedagogies and the experiences of Latinx student writers at Hispanic Serving Institutions nationwide Bordered Writers explores how writing program administrators and faculty at Hispanic Serving Institutions HSIs are transforming the teaching of writing to be more inclusive and foster Latinx student success Like its 2007 predecessor Teaching Writing with Latino a Students this collection contributes to ongoing conversations in writing studies about multicultural pedagogy and curriculum linguistic diversity and supporting students of color while focusing further attention on the specific experiences and strategies of students and faculty at HSIs Although members of Latinx communities comprise the largest underrepresented minority group in the nation the needs and strengths of Latinx writers in college classrooms are seldom addressed Bordered Writer thus helps to fill a critical gap giving voice to past and present Latinx scholars rhetoricians and students both in academic essays and in personal testimonios in four pivotal areas developmental English and bridge programs first year writing professional and technical writing and writing centers and mentored writing Across contributions the collection strives to connect all bordered writers and educators making higher education today not only stronger but also more representative of the nation s population This book is a concerted effort by a group of impassioned scholars who wish to contribute to a better understanding of the challenges

Latinx students encounter as they embark on their college careers especially in terms of the narrow monolingualistic ideologies that continue to inform the teaching of writing in colleges across the country Juan C Guerra University of Washington

West of Harlem Emily Lutenski, 2023-04-01 Luminaries of the Harlem Renaissance Langston Hughes Jean Toomer Wallace Thurman and Arna Bontemps among others are associated with well Harlem But the story of these New York writers unexpectedly extends to the American West Hughes for instance grew up in Kansas Thurman in Utah and Bontemps in Los Angeles Toomer traveled often to New Mexico Indeed as West of Harlem reveals the West played a significant role in the lives and work of many of the artists who created the signal urban African American cultural movement of the twentieth century Uncovering the forgotten histories of these major American literary figures the book gives us a deeper appreciation of that movement and of the cultures it reflected and inspired These recovered experiences and literatures paint a new picture of the American West one that better accounts for the disparate African American populations that dotted its landscape and shaped the multiethnic literatures and cultures of the borderlands Tapping literary biographical historical and visual sources Emily Lutenski tells the New Negro movement's western story Hughes's move to Mexico opens a window on African American transnational experiences Thurman's engagement with Salt Lake City offers an unexpected perspective on African American sexual politics Arna Bontemps's Los Angeles constructed in conjunction with Louisiana provides a new vision of the Spanish borderlands Lesser known writer Anita Scott Coleman imagines black Western autonomy through domesticity The experience of others like Toomer invited to socialite Mabel Dodge Luhan's circle of artists in Taos present a more pluralistic view of the West It was this place with its transnational and multiracial mix of Native Americans Latina/os Anglos and African Americans which buttressed Toomer's idea of a new American race Turning the lens elsewhere Lutenski also explores how Latina/o Asian American and Native American western writers understood and represented African Americans in the early twentieth century borderlands The result is a new unusually nuanced and unexpectedly complex view of key figures of the Harlem Renaissance and the borderlands cultures that influenced their art in surprising and important ways

Queering the Countryside Mary L. Gray, Colin R. Johnson, Brian J. Gilley, 2016-03-15 This collection of original essays confronts the assumption that queer desires depend upon urban life for meaning By considering rural queer life the contributors challenge readers to explore queer experiences in ways that give greater context and texture to modern practices of identity formation The book's focus on understudied rural spaces throws into relief the overemphasis of urban locations and structures in the current political and theoretical work on queer sexualities and genders It highlights the need to rethink notions of the closet and coming out and the characterizations of non urban sexualities and genders as isolated and in need of outreach Provided by publisher

With Her Machete in Her Hand Catrióna Rueda Esquibel, 2009-09-15 With the 1981 publication of the groundbreaking anthology This Bridge Called My Back Writings by Radical Women of Color Cherríe Moraga and Gloria Anzaldá ushered in an era of Chicana lesbian writing But while these two writers have achieved iconic status observers of the Chicana o experience have been slow to perceive the existence of a whole community lesbian and straight male as well as female who write about the Chicana lesbian experience To create a first full map of that community this book explores a wide range of plays novels and short stories by Chicana o authors that depict lesbian characters or lesbian desire Catri na Rueda Esquibel starts from the premise that Chicana o communities theories and feminisms cannot be fully understood without taking account of the perspectives and experiences of Chicana lesbians To open up these perspectives she engages in close readings of works centered around the following themes La Llorona the Aztec Princess Sor Juana In s de la Cruz girlhood friendships rural communities and history and Chicana activism Her investigation broadens the community of Chicana lesbian writers well beyond Moraga and Anzald a while it also demonstrates that the histories of Chicana lesbians have had to be written in works of fiction because these women have been marginalized and excluded in canonical writings on Chicano life and experience

Transnational Chicanx Perspectives on Ana Castillo Bernadine Hernández, Karen Roybal, 2021-06-15 For more than forty years Chicana author Ana Castillo has produced novels poems and critical essays that forge connections between generations challenge borders around race gender and sexuality and critically engage transnational issues of space identity and belonging Her contributions to Latinx cultural production and to Chicana feminist thought have transcended and contributed to feminist praxis ethnic literature and border studies throughout the Americas Transnational Chicanx Perspectives on Ana Castillo is the first edited collection that focuses on Castillo s oeuvre which directly confronts what happens in response to cultural displacement mixing and border crossing Divided into five sections this collection thinks about Castillo s poetics language and form as well as thematic issues such as borders immigration gender sexuality and transnational feminism From her first political poetry Otro Canto published in 1977 to her mainstream novels such as The Mixquiahuala Letters So Far From God and The Guardians this collection aims to unravel how Castillo s writing impacts people of color around the globe and works in solidarity with other third world feminisms

Racial Reconciliation and the Healing of a Nation Charles J. Ogletree, Jr., Austin Sarat, 2017-10-24 The work at hand for bridging the racial divide in the United States From Baltimore and Ferguson to Flint and Charleston the dream of a post racial era in America has run up against the continuing reality of racial antagonism Current debates about affirmative action multiculturalism and racial hate speech reveal persistent uncertainty and ambivalence about the place and meaning of race and especially the black white divide in American culture They also suggest that the work of racial reconciliation remains incomplete Racial Reconciliation and the Healing of a Nation seeks to assess where we are in that work examining sources of continuing racial antagonism among blacks and whites It also highlights strategies that promise to promote racial reconciliation in the future Rather than revisit arguments about the importance of integration assimilation and reparations the contributors explore previously unconsidered perspectives on reconciliation between blacks and whites Chapters connect identity politics the rhetoric of race and difference the work of institutions and actors in those institutions and structural inequities in the lives of blacks and whites to our thinking about tolerance and respect Going beyond an assessment of the capacity of law to facilitate racial reconciliation Racial Reconciliation and the Healing of a Nation challenges readers to examine social political cultural and psychological issues that fuel racial antagonism as well as the factors that might facilitate racial reconciliation
