and Purpose Living Ideas from the Philosophy of Josiah Royce Understanding Representation Jen Webb, 2008-12-01

This is an extraordinarily lucid book I am not sure that there is anyone who can do this sort of thing better than Jen Webb. It is a gift to students: extremely accessible yet complex and sophisticated in its treatment of theories and concepts of representation. Jim McGuigan, Loughborough University. Understanding Representation offers a contemporary coherent and genuinely interdisciplinary introduction to the concept of representation. Drawing together the full range of ideas, practices, techniques and disciplines associated with the subject, this book locates them in a historical context, presents them in a readable fashion and shows their relevance to everyday life in an engaging and accessible manner. Readers will be shown how to develop a sophisticated attitude to meaning and understand the relationship to truth and identity that is brought into focus by communicative practices. With chapters on linguistic and political representation, art and media and philosophical and cognitive approaches, this book guides readers through complex theoretical terrain with a highly readable and refreshing writing style. Explains the techniques and perspectives offered by semiotics, discourse analysis, poetics, politics, narratology, visual culture, cognitive theory, performance theory and theories of embodied subjectivity. Covers the new ideas and practices that have emerged since the work of Barthes, Eco and Foucault, especially communication and meaning making in the digital environment and the new paradigms of understanding associated with cognitive theories of identity and language. Teaches readers how to interpret and interrogate the world of signs in which they live. Understanding Representation provides students across the social sciences and humanities with an invaluable introduction to what is meant by representation.

The Beholder's Eye Scott Anderson, Mary Kay Blakely, Harry Crews, 2007-12-01. A collection of the very best in contemporary first person journalism compiled by the award winning former Washington Post reporter and author. Great journalists at one time or another have all been characters in their own stories: people with personalities that shaped what they saw and reported and were touched and changed by the experiences about which they wrote and innovators who borrowed the storytelling techniques of fiction. The Beholder's Eye showcases the very best of an increasing trend toward personal narrative. Mike Sager stalking Marlon Brando in the Tahitian jungle. J. R. Moehringer's quest to discover the true identity of an old boxer. Bill Plaschke's story about a woman with cerebral palsy who runs an obscure Los Angeles Dodgers Web site. Scott Anderson's story of his lifetime of covering war after war. Harrington's own tale of his interracial family's struggle to persevere and many others. Written by reporters who were willing to reveal themselves in order to bring readers insights that were deeper than supposedly objective third person stories, their articles are an invaluable resource for aspiring journalists, students and teachers of the craft of writing and any reader with an appreciation for masterful storytelling. Aims to dispel the old journalistic cliché that a journalist writing about him/herself is always self-indulgent and quite likely narcissistic. He couldn't have put together a better lineup of writers to make the point that it doesn't have to be. Not just some of the country's finest personal journalism but some of its finest journalism period. Kirkus Reviews Computer Gaming
