A. Shippey,1992 Will novels and stories be relevant in the next millennium when the boundaries between illusion and reality and observer and observed may dissipate in a whirl of images signals and data This essay collection divines the prospects of fiction in the information age by examining cyberpunk literature A movement less than a decade old cyberpunk is driven by deep concerns about society ethics and new technology and has been defined as the literature of the first generation of science fiction writers actually to live in a science fiction world These essays were first presented at the 1989 annual J Lloyd Eaton Conference on Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature the field s most prestigious international gathering They address concerns common not only to cyberpunk and traditional science fiction scholars critics and writers but to their counterparts outside the genre as well

Interdisciplinary in perspective the essays consider the origins of cyberpunk the appropriation of its conventions by the mass media the literature's paradoxical retrogressive iconoclastic nature cyberpunk's affinities to and deviations from both traditional science fiction and postmodernist literature the parameters and components of the cyberpunk canon and the movement's future course Some essays are theoretical but all are grounded in works familiar to serious science fiction readers Neuromancer Frontera Deserted Cities of the Heart Islands in the Net Great Sky River the Mirrorshades anthology and others cyberpunk TV and cinema like the Max Headroom programs Blade Runner and Tron and precursory literature including Frankenstein Le Roman de l'avenir Ralph 124C 41 and A Clockwork Orange Useful for its views on a volatile science fiction subgenre Fiction 2000 is also valuable for what it tells us about the fate of mainstream literature
