F-105 Thunderchief in Action David Doyle, 2016 The Republic F 105 Thunderchief was the largest single seat single engine combat aircraft to enter production It was conceived as a supersonic low altitude fighter bomber capable of delivering a heavy nuclear payload Although never used as intended the Thunderchief did see extensive combat The F 105 carried the brunt of the US bombing campaign during the early part of US involvement in Vietnam by completing more than 20 000 sorties Although serviced and flown by brave and competent men the extremely sophisticated Mach 2 capable F 105 or Thud as the type was nicknamed was ill suited for repetitive missions in humid Southeast Asia Maintenance requirements exceeded 100 man hours labor per flight hour Further combat losses rose to almost half of the 833 unit production total Ultimately the F 105 was withdrawn from the theater F-105 Thunderchief in Action Ken Neubeck, Don Greer, 2002

combat history of the F 105 Thunderchief units during the Vietnam War detailing the strengths and weaknesses of the aircraft and the difficulties it faced during many months of dangerous combat Facing the most formidably concentrated air defences in history pilots of the F 105D flew against North Vietnamese targets day after day during the 43 months of Operation Rolling Thunder Despite its limited maneuverability and the lack of self sealing fuel tanks which made it susceptible to combat damage the bombers shot down 27 MiG fighters in 1966 67 This book illustrates the importance of the Thunderchief in the Rolling Thunder campaign including the pioneering suppression of enemy air defences SEAD methods developed by the F 105 Wild Weasel crews Discussing the aircraft s strengths and weaknesses and using first hand narratives Peter Davies captures the essence of flying the Thud against heavy defences and describes the development of wartime tactics and the heroic accomplishments of a selection of its aircrew F-105 Thunderchief MiG Killers of the Vietnam War Peter E. aspect of the Vietnam War and a testament to the jet s versatility and the skill of the pilots involved Despite its F for fighter designation the F 105 was designed and purchased to give the USAF an aircraft capable of the delivery of nuclear weapons at very high speed long range and below the radar altitudes However when the Vietnam War began it also emerged as USAF s best available tactical bomber for a limited conventional war as well Extensively targeted by MiG 17s and MiG 21s the F 105 pilots developed innovative tactics that allowed them to compete in air to air duels with their smaller more manoeuvrable enemies Illustrated throughout with extensive photographs detailing weapon loads internal features and action shots of actual engagements this volume examines the conduct of the Rolling Thunder strike missions and the tactics used for attack and defence by the attack escort fighter and radar monitoring elements within strike formations Supersonic Eagles W.

D. Davies, 2019-07-25 The F 105D Thunderchief was originally designed as a low altitude nuclear strike aircraft but the outbreak of the Vietnam War led to it being used instead as the USAF's primary conventional striker against the exceptionally well defended targets in North Vietnam and Laos F 105 crews conducted long distance missions from bases in Thailand refuelling in flight several times and carrying heavy external bombloads The MiG 17 was the lightweight highly manoeuvrable defending fighter it encountered most often in 1965-68 during Operation Rolling Thunder A development of the MiG 15 which shocked UN forces during the Korean War its emphasis was on simplicity and ease of maintenance in potentially primitive conditions Fully illustrated with stunning artwork this book shows how these two aircraft totally different in design and purpose fought in a series of duels that cost both sides dearly Air Force and Space Digest, 1970-07 Airman, 1968 Gradual Failure Jacob Van Staaveren, 2002 Gradual failure : the air war over North Vietnam 1965-1966 Jacob Van Staaveren, 2002 Of the many facets of the American war in Southeast Asia debated by U S authorities in Washington by the military services and the public none has proved more controversial than the air war against North Vietnam The air war's inauguration with the nickname Rolling Thunder followed an eleven year American effort to induce communist North Vietnam to sign a peace treaty without openly attacking its territory Thus Rolling Thunder was a new military program in what had been a relatively low key attempt by the United States to win the war within South Vietnam against insurgent communist Viet Cong forces aided and abetted by the north The present volume covers the first phase of the Rolling Thunder campaign from March 1965 to late 1966 It begins with a description of the planning and execution of two initial limited air strikes nicknamed Flaming Dart I and II The Flaming Dart strikes were carried out against North Vietnam in February 1965 as the precursors to a regular albeit limited Rolling Thunder air program launched the following month Before proceeding with an account of Rolling Thunder its roots are traced in the events that compelled the United States to adopt an anti communist containment policy in Southeast Asia after the defeat of French forces by the communist Vietnamese in May 1954 Air War, Southeast Asia, 1961-1973 Myron J. Striving for Air Superiority Craig C. Hannah, 2002 Annotation Tactical bombing Gen Jimmy Doolittle reportedly observed is breaking the milk bottle Strategic bombing is killing the cow Most nations have historically chosen between building tactical and strategic air forces rarely has a state given equal weight to both The advantages of tactical air power are obvious today as small wars and petty tyrants bedevil us but in a Cold War world split between continental superpowers strategic bombing took precedence with calamitous consequences In the 1960s the U S Air Force lacked the equipment and properly trained pilots to assure air superiority because the Tactical Air Command TAC had become little more than a handmaiden to the Strategic Air Command

SAC TAC focused primarily on the interdiction of enemy bombers and virtually ignored its other responsibilities. Its aircraft were designed to shoot at large lumbering bombers and not to engage in dog fights with highly maneuverable MiGs. Hannah shows how a tactical air force that won a victory in World War II deteriorated into a second rate force flying aging aircraft during the early years of the Cold War, recovered briefly over Korea, then slid into obsolescence during the 1950s. His explanation of why America's fighter aircraft did not work in Vietnam is instructive and unsettling. Hannah explains how TAC struggled through the war in Vietnam to emerge in the 1970s as the best tactical air force in the world. He side-steps politics and inter-service rivalries to focus on the nuts and bolts of tactical air power. The result is a factual, informative account of how an air force first loses its way, then finds its mission again.
