Hearer Of The Word:

Wonder as a New Starting Point for Theological Anthropology José Francisco Morales Torres, 2023-04-04 In Wonder as a New Starting Point for Theological Anthropology Opened by the World Jos Francisco Morales Torres constructs a new theological anthropology that begins with wonder He contends that the visceral experience of wonder is an opening up of the human by an excess that saturates the world This opened by ness points to a transforming receptivity as the basis of the person and to an extravagant Generosity that grounds all creation Thus wonder which is grounded in generous Excess is not only a gift but a demand it calls for a liberative praxis that resist the forces that flatten the fullness of life into what is useful and profitable and that reduce the limitless worth of fellow humans to mere commodities to be exploited and exchanged at the altar of the idolatrous Market Wonder reveals a primordial receptivity in the human person which demands of us an ethic of sustainability that does not reduce the other to commodity a vulnerability that risks being opened by the other a commitment to solidarity and liberation that resist the forces of an insatiable idolatrous Market that seeks only to steal and kill and destroy Enflamed by the Sacramental Word Vincent J. Pastro, 2010-04-15 Christian proclamation says Dietrich Bonhoeffer is the living Christ walking among the people Preachers know that Jesus is the living Word and that the Spirit of Jesus animates the preaching event Preaching is an epiclesis an invocation of the Holy Spirit over God s holy people As such it must touch their imagination Pastro proposes that preaching is the living ecclesial presence of Jesus Christ Sacramental Word of the God of the poor The Word speaks from the imagination of the poor the economic poor but also the new poor of the twenty first century entire indigenous cultures women those marginalized because of their sexuality undocumented immigrants in dominant cultures and many others All Christian preachers in every context are called to solidarity with the poor

Information Status and Noncanonical Word Order in English Betty J. Birner, Gregory Ward, 1998-05-15 This work provides a comprehensive discourse functional account of three classes of noncanonical constituent placement in English preposing postposing and argument reversal and shows how their interaction is accounted for in a principled and predictive way In doing so it details the variety of ways in which information can be given or new and shows how an understanding of this variety allows us to account for the distribution of these constructions in discourse Moreover the authors show that there exist broad and empirically verifiable functional correspondences within classes of syntactically similar constructions Relying heavily on corpus data the authors identify three interacting dimensions along which individual constructions may vary with respect to the pragmatic constraints to which they are sensitive old vs new information relative vs absolute familiarity and discourse vs hearer familiarity They show that preposed position is reserved for information that is linked to the prior discourse by means of a contextually licensed partially ordered set relationship postposed position is reserved for information that is new in one of a small number of distinct senses and argument reversing constructions require that the information represented by the preverbal constituent be at least as familiar within the discourse as that represented by the postverbal constituent Within each of the three classes of constructions individual constructions vary with respect to whether they are sensitive to familiarity within the discourse or assumed familiarity within the hearer's knowledge store Thus although the individual constructions in question are subject to distinct constraints this work provides empirical evidence for the existence of strong correlations between sentence position and information status The final chapter presents crosslinguistic data showing that these correlations are not limited to English
