Stigmas and Attitudes Towards Persons With Disabilities Phasha, Nareadi Tlakale, 2025-09-25 Inclusion requires changed mindsets and actions towards every member of society particularly towards the historically marginalized and people with disabilities Their inclusion has been a major problem due to numerous factors such as conceptions about disability and what it constitutes as they often come with stigma and stereotypes Current sources often present disability conceptions in general terms as if they apply to all categories of disabilities making it difficult to extract correct information about each disability Disability is not a homogenous category Conceptions about each category may differ among cultures and communities Uncovering conceptions about each category is a crucial step towards creating positive living and safe educational environment for people with disabilities Global Stigmas and Attitudes Towards Persons With Disabilities discusses conceptions about different disabilities children or family members with a disability and organizations for people with disabilities It demonstrates how negative conceptions influence service provision in various sectors and perpetuates their exclusion in education and society Covering topics such as stereotypes support services and promoting dignity this book is an excellent resource for sociologists caregivers educators policymakers advocates business owners researchers academicians and more Managing Global Offshoring Strategies Jacob Pyndt, Torben Pedersen, 2006 Addressing the challenges associated with managing global offshoring strategies this book aims to put a face on some Danish companies as they engage in offshoring projects It is aimed at bachelor master and MBA students taking courses on global strategy It is also useful in conjunction with a set of articles on global strategy issues How Seniors Are Saving the World Thelma

Reese, BJ Kittredge, 2020-06-10 Articles appear frequently about individuals whose age is noted as a feature of their activism but the activism of seniors as a growing and influential part of the population is often otherwise overlooked The speed of change the expansion of the senior demographic the growth of citizen participation and the constant visual images reminding us of these factors tell us that it is time to look to seniors who are putting their time and energies into helping others and helping the world Whatever one's political view there is consensus in recognizing that we are living in a time of tremendous change when traditionally trusted institutions and cultural mores are questioned and seriously challenged It is a time when more and more individuals feel a need to do something something about issues that concern them something that makes them aware of the need for a sense of control in a world in chaos something that makes them aware of their own strength power and the value of the wisdom that comes with age In a time when social media make shallow clicktivists of so many the people profiled here are true activists Their dedication crosses all societal lines ethnic political religious and socio economic Some have always considered themselves activists Some find that this stage of life brings a new perspective that results in the need to do more than say They tell us in their own words the what why and meaning of their specific activism and show others how to do it Their stories are inspiring for people of all ages The Experience of Hearing Loss Vinaya

Manchaiah, Berth Danermark, 2016-12-12 Hearing loss is a common chronic condition which is often poorly recognized but can have multiple negative impacts not just on the lives of those directly affected but also those living with them People with impaired hearing may begin a long and uncertain journey involving a number of key stages from emerging awareness and help seeking to diagnosis adjustment and self evaluation Based on a model of person centered audiological rehabilitation this book explains why it is important to understand both patients own experiences and those of their communication partners over time It focuses particularly on the human dynamics of hearing loss exploring the broader consequences of hearing loss for the individual family members and wider society In particular the book gives insight into the patients and their communication partners experiences and perspectives through clear and telling first hand narrative accounts examines how people understand their own hearing loss reflect on their experiences with hearing aids both positive and negative and evaluate treatment options considers the changes needed to conversations in order to include all communication partners whether with impaired hearing or not and discusses consequences of hearing loss using the International Classification of Functioning Disability and Health ICF With its explicit aim to increase awareness of the need to include the patient and close relatives in the process of rehabilitation this new text makes an important contribution to further improve evidence based practice in the field of audiological rehabilitation An ideal text for audiology ENT and nursing students of all levels

Older Clients: Key Strategies for Success Marc Agronin, 2010-07-19 Basic strategies and tips for doing effective therapy with elderly clients What is it like to be 106 years old What are the mental health needs of someone this old and for that matter all elderly Can we as clinicians and caregivers ever really understand old age and provide for their needs adequately How can we prevent the physical problems they face from overwhelming the patience and care that we give What are the most effective therapeutic tools that underlie all successful therapy work with older clients Caring for the elderly is complex challenging work Often they are wrestling with a unique set of medical psychiatric and social challenges all set against the backdrop of their approaching mortality The therapist's job is to successfully navigate these challenges without dwelling on the inevitability of physical decline and to provide the most compassionate valuable treatment possible It is with this guiding principle in mind that Marc Agronin a dedicated geriatric clinician with years of on the ground experience offers a sensitively written and eminently practical guide that addresses the therapeutic challenges and uncovers the top strategies for compassionate and effective work with the elderly Therapy with older clients Agronin argues requires a sensitivity to the tension between the body's physical decline and its simultaneous capacity for mental growth and maturation Therapists must learn to handle these seemingly opposing forces with varying client types and in different settings and reconcile their own fears of aging disability and death At times this therapeutic relationship can be difficult medications are often not as effective as they are in younger clients and the elderly often view change at such a late stage of life as pointless However Agronin encourages therapists to work with creativity and passion persisting in their efforts by retooling their approaches shoring up patience and remembering that the very presence of a caring listener can bring a spectacular transformation to even the most debilitated individuals An understanding of aging alone does not make an effective therapist and Agronin offers key strategies illustrated through real life case examples for dealing with countertransference performing age guided evaluation working with caregivers and handling end of life issues He explains the impact of aging on the major psychiatric disorders providing direction on how to cultivate empathy and understanding for a range of age specific challenges Agronin offers a compassionate insightful narrative that explores the nuances of successful rapport building and problem solving that can enrich the lives of the elderly In doing so he gives readers a better understanding of what it means to grow old and how cultivating a respectful productive relationship one that is inspired with curiosity and energized with creativity can bring joy and affirmation to older clients
