Excerpt from Elizabeth Cary Agassiz a Biography A few words in regard to the circumstances under which this book has been written are necessary In the spring of 1917 the Council of Radcliffe College appointed Mrs William G Farlow Miss Alice M Longfellow and Professor William E Byerly a committee to which Professor Fred N Robinson was later added to arrange for the publication of a biography of Mrs Louis Agassiz the first President of the college in order that the future students might have some knowledge of her character and of what Radcliffe owes to her It was decided that the earlier portion of the memoir treating of Mrs Agassiz s youth and married life 1822 73 should be written by Miss Emma F Cary her youngest and only surviving sister and the remainder 1873 1907 by myself From the time when the biography was first planned Miss Cary devoted herself to its preparation and gave it constant thought It was to be not only the crowning labor of her long life which already numbered eighty three years but also a final tribute of devotion to a dearly loved sister Her friends earnestly hoped that she might live to see the book completed but she had made only a preliminary selection of letters and had written merely a few sections of her narrative when in August 1918 her work was ended by her death About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Elizabeth Cary Agassiz Lucy Allen Paton,1974-01-01 *Elizabeth Cary Agassiz. The Poetics of Natural History Christoph Irmscher, 2019-09-08 Winner of the 2000 American Studies Network Prize and the Literature and Language Award from the Association of American Publishers Inc Early American naturalists assembled dazzling collections of native flora and fauna from John Bartram s botanical garden in Philadelphia and the artful display of animals in Charles Willson Peale s museum to P T Barnum s American Museum infamously characterized by Henry James as halls of humbug Yet physical collections were only one of the myriad ways that these naturalists captured catalogued and commemorated America s rich biodiversity They also turned to writing and art from John Edward Holbrook s forays into the fascinating world of herpetology to John James Audubon s masterful portraits of American birds In this groundbreaking now classic book Christoph Irmscher argues that early American natural historians developed a distinctly poetic sensibility that allowed them to imagine themselves as part of and not apart from their environment He also demonstrates what happens to such inclusiveness in the hands of Harvard scientist turned Amazonian explorer Louis Agassiz whose racist pseudoscience appalled his student William James This expanded full color edition of The Poetics of Natural History features a preface and art from award winning artist Rosamond Purcell and invites the reader to be fully immersed in an era when the boundaries between literature art and science became fluid Viewpoints in Biography Katherine Tappert,1921 "Keep the Damned Women Out" Nancy Weiss Malkiel,2018-05-29 A groundbreaking history of how elite colleges and universities in America and Britain finally went coed As the tumultuous decade of the 1960s ended a number of very traditional very conservative highly prestigious colleges and universities in the United States and the United Kingdom decided to go coed seemingly all at once in a remarkably brief span of time Coeducation met with fierce resistance As one alumnus put it in a letter to his alma mater Keep the damned women out Focusing on the complexities of institutional decision making this book tells the story of this momentous era in higher education revealing how coeducation was achieved not by organized efforts of women activists but through strategic decisions made by powerful men In America Ivy League schools like Harvard Yale Princeton and Dartmouth began to admit women in Britain several of the men s colleges at Cambridge and Oxford did the same What prompted such fundamental change How was coeducation accomplished in the face of such strong opposition How well was it implemented Nancy Weiss Malkiel explains that elite institutions embarked on coeducation not as a moral imperative but as a self interested means of maintaining a first rate applicant pool She explores the challenges of planning for the academic and non academic lives of newly admitted women and shows how with the exception of Mary Ingraham Bunting at Radcliffe every decision maker leading the charge for coeducation was male Drawing on unprecedented archival research Keep the Damned Women Out is a breathtaking work of scholarship that is certain to be the definitive book on the subject Alma Mater Helen Lefkowitz Horowitz,1993 An examination of the founding and development of the Seven Sisters colleges Mount Holyoke Vassar Wellesley Smith Radcliffe Bryn Mawr and Barnard Alma Mater focuses on the ideas behind their establishment and the colleges architectural academic and social histories as well as those of their twentieth century successors Sarah Lawrence Bennington and Scripps Biography by Americans, 1658-1936 Edward H. O'Neill,2016-11-11 This volume is the most comprehensive bibliography of purely biographical material written by Americans It covers every possible field of life but by design excludes autobiographies diaries and journals Democracy in the Making Arthur S. Meyers,2012-11-08 In 1908 a remarkable direction in community learning began in Boston and spread across the country becoming the Open Forum lecture movement These locally planned trans denominational lectures followed by periods for questions were characterized as the striking of mind upon mind This study recovers the movement and shows what can be applied to our time George W Coleman brought a deep commitment to free speech in developing the Forum and Mary Caroline Crawford was essential in implementing it Understanding this initiative broadens our awareness of personal and community courage and democratic planning We can regain this informed reflective respectful approach and achieve an America to be a democracy in the making Entangled Knowledge Klaus Hock, Gesa Mackenthun,2012 The intimate relationship between global European expansion since the early modern period and the concurrent beginnings of the scientific revolution has long been acknowledged. The contributions in this volume approach the entanglement of science and cultural encounters many of them in colonial settings from a variety of perspectives. Historical and historiographical survey essays sketch a transcultural history of knowledge and conduct a critical dialogue between the recent academic fields of Postcolonial Studies and Science; a series of case studies explores the topos of Europe's great inventions, the scientific exploitation of culturally unfamiliar people and objects, the representation of indigenous cultures in discourses of geographical exploration as well as non-European scientific practices. Entangled Knowledges also refers to the critical practices of scholarship; various essays investigate scholarship's own failures in self-reflexivity arising from an uncritical appropriation of cultural stereotypes and colonial myths of which the discourse of Orientalism in historiography and residual racist assumptions in modern genetics serve as examples. The volume thus contributes to the study of cultural and colonial relations as well as to the history of science and scholarship.
