displacement and pollution suggest an urgent need to re-examine the ways social and geographical spaces are perceived and valued in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. Maintaining that ecological crises are largely socially produced, Derek Gladwin considers how British and Irish literary and visual texts by Ian McEwan, Sarah Gavron, Eavan Boland, John McGrath, and China Miéville, among others, respond to and confront various spatial injustices resulting from fossil fuel production and the effects of climate change. This ambitious book offers a new spatial perspective in the environmental humanities by focusing on what the philosopher Glenn Albrecht has termed solastalgia, a feeling of homesickness caused by environmental damage. The result of solastalgia is that people feel paradoxically ecologically exiled in the places they continue to live because of destructive environmental changes. Gladwin skilfully traces spatially produced instances of ecological injustice that literally and imaginatively abolish people's sense of place or place home. By looking at two of the most pressing social and environmental concerns, oil and climate, Ecological Exile shows how literary and visual texts have documented spatially unjust effects of solastalgia. This interdisciplinary book will appeal to students, scholars, and professionals studying literary, film, and media texts that draw on environment and sustainability, cultural geography, energy, cultures, climate change, and social justice.

An Annotated Bibliography for Taiwan Film Studies Jim Cheng, James Wicks, Sachie Noguchi, 2016-04-19
Compiled by two skilled librarians and a Taiwanese film and culture specialist, this volume is the first multilingual and most comprehensive bibliography of Taiwanese film scholarship designed to satisfy the broad interests of the modern researcher. The second book in a remarkable three-volume research project, An Annotated Bibliography for Taiwan Film Studies, catalogues the published and unpublished monographs, theses, manuscripts, and conference proceedings of Taiwanese film scholars from the 1950s to 2013. Paired with An Annotated Bibliography for Chinese Film Studies (2004), which accounts for texts dating back to the 1920s, this series brings together like no other reference the disparate voices of Chinese film scholarship, charting its unique intellectual arc. Organized intuitively, the volume begins with reference materials: bibliographies, cinematographies, directories, indexes, dictionaries, and handbooks, and then moves through film history, the colonial period, Taiwan dialect film, new Taiwan cinema, the 228 Incident, film genres (animated, anticommunist, documentary, ethnographic, martial arts, teen), film reviews, film theory and technique, interdisciplinary studies, Taiwan and mainland China, Taiwan and Japan, film and aboriginal peoples, film and literature, film and nationality, biographical materials, film stories, screenplays, and scripts, film technology, and miscellaneous aspects of Taiwanese film scholarship: artifacts, acts of censorship, copyright law, distribution channels, film festivals, and industry practice. Works written in multiple languages include transliteration, romanized, and original script entries, which follow universal AACR 2 and American cataloguing standards and professional notations by the editors to aid in the use of sources.

Spiritual Ecology Leslie E. Sponsel, 2012-07-19
A prominent scientist and scholar documents and explains the thoughts, actions, and legacies of spiritual ecology's pioneers from ancient times to the present, demonstrating how the movement may offer the last chance to restore a healthy relationship between humankind and nature An internet search for Spiritual Ecology and related terms like Religion and Nature and Religion and Ecology reveals tens of millions of websites Spiritual Ecology A Quiet Revolution offers an intellectual history of this far reaching movement Arranged chronologically it samples major developments in the thoughts and actions of both historic and contemporary pioneers ranging from the Buddha and St Francis of Assisi to Wangari Maathai s Green Belt Movement and James Cameron s 2010 epic film Avatar This foundational book is unique in that it provides a historical cross cultural context for understanding and advancing the ongoing spiritual ecology revolution considering indigenous and Asian religious traditions as well as Western ones Most chapters focus on a single pioneer illuminating historical context and his her legacy while also connecting that legacy to broader concerns Coverage includes topics as diverse as Henry David Thoreau and the Green Patriarch Bartholomew s decades long promotion of environmentalism as a sacred duty for more than 250 million members of the Orthodox Church worldwide For more information visit www.spiritualecology.info

Theatres of Compost Abby Schroering, 2025-06-30 Theatres of Compost places ecology at the center of performance scholarship and criticism and it positions performance as a key cultural process for bringing about a more just and sustainable future Examining a unique archive of agricultural performances plays theatre collectives and activist rituals that engage questions of how humans use the land and produce food this book lays out a framework for how theatre and performance contribute to a cultural shift toward ecological awareness Theatre of compost is performance that directly engages ideologies of exploitation mass production and accumulation Instead of discarding the forms themes methodologies and histories that have perpetuated ecological destruction the case studies in this book show that what has come before can be composted broken down and reconstituted as the fertile foundation for a more livable life in the Anthropocene Theatres of Compost will appeal to the new but quickly growing subfield of performance and ecology As the climate and ecological crises worsen more scholars and students in theatre and performance will be searching for ways to make their work meaningful and relevant This book will be a helpful resource for graduate level courses in performance studies performance and ecology and the environmental humanities

Religion, Space, and the Environment Sigurd Bergmann, 2014-02-04 Religions often nurture important skills that help believers locate themselves in the world Religious perceptions practices emotions and beliefs are closely interwoven with the environments from which they emerge Sigurd Bergmann s driving emphasis here is to explore religion not in relation to but as a part of the spatiality and movement within the environment from which it arises and is nurtured Religion Space and the Environment emerges from the author s experiences in different places and continents over the past decade At the book s heart lie the questions of how space place and religion amalgamate and how lived space and lived religion influence each other Bergmann explores how religion and the memory of our past impact our lives in urban spaces how the sacred geographies in Mayan and northeast Asian lands compare to modern eco spirituality and how human images and practices of moving in with and through the land are interwoven with the processes of colonization and sacralizing and the practices of power and visions of the sacred among other topics Ecological Solidarities Krista E. Hughes,Dhawn B. Martin,Elaine Padilla,2019-10-30 Operating on the premise that our failure to recognize our interconnected relationship to the rest of the cosmos is the origin of planetary peril this volume presents academic activist and artistic perspectives on how to inspire reflection and motivate action in order to construct alternative frameworks and establish novel solidarities for the sake of our planetary home The selections in this volume explore ecologies of interdependence as a frame for religious theological and philosophical analysis and practice Contributors examine questions of justice climate change race class gender and coloniality and discuss alternative ways of engaging the world in all its biodiversity Each essay poem reflection and piece of art contributes to and reflects upon how to live out entangled differences toward positive global change Constructive and practical global and local communal and personal Ecological Solidarities is an innovative contribution to the discourses on relational and liberative thought and practice in religion philosophy and theology It will be welcomed by scholars of World Christianity and theology as well as seminary students activists and laity interested in issues of justice and ecology Environmental and Ecological Sustainability Through Indigenous Traditions Binay Kumar Pattnaik,2024-07-26 This book explores the environmental and ecological wisdom inherent in some of the indigenous traditions of traditional communities from developing societies like Argentina Brazil India Mexico Sri Lanka and Thailand It throws light on how these discrete and unrecognized traditions have enabled communities to live in harmony with nature for ages Despite the best efforts of the modern states through policy making intensive R D for eco friendly technologies and products social and environmental impact assessment studies SEIAS and cost benefit analysis CBA of projects environmental and ecological degradation continues mostly in developing societies which house large number of traditional communities This book explores their traditions consisting of world views or cosmologies eco savvy customs indigenous knowledge systems involving community based occupations and practices skills and crafts and so on This book shows that when interpreted in consonance with scientific environmentalism these traditions reveal their inbuilt environmental wisdom mirroring sacredness of nature that have instilled built in conservation practices are key to sustainability The conception of indigenous traditions that subsume environmental and ecological sustainability as well as cultural identity is studied in the book from the vantage of multi disciplinary perspectives This book reflects two streams of thought i stream of social anthropology arguing for the inbuilt strength of indigenous traditions that necessitate empathetic understanding with their own rights for recognition and survival and ii stream of indigenous knowledge systems being technically effective only necessitate validation and certification by modern scientific knowledge system for wider use The book is of great use to policy makers and non government players in addition to researchers and academicians working in the area of sustainable development and indigenous traditional communities Awakening Spirits Richard Reading,Brian Miller,Amy Masching,Rob Edward,Michael Phillips,2010-06-01 This illustrated collection offers fascinating insight on restoring the wolf population to the Southern Rockies Detailed reports by wildlife biologists geographers legal and policy experts and conservationists provide a comprehensive look at not only the ecological imperatives but also the history legal framework and public attitudes affecting the future of wolves Life as Spirit Keith Ka-fu Chan,2018-08-21 Paul Tillich is exceptional in modern theologians that his distinctive and abundant understanding of the concept of life and spirit has the potential to engage with other disciplines such as biology psychology cosmology and social science and that his ontological understanding of life as spirit which is so crucial in the ecological consideration is so complex and subtle that enables powerful and critical inter religious dialogue in environmental ethics This book argues that despite the fact that Tillich did not engage in ecological and environmental theology directly his abundant personal experience of nature mysticism and intellectual understanding of the idea of nature rooted in his Lutheran and German idealist heritages and more importantly his ontological pneumatological holistic and multi dimensional conception of unifying and differentiated reality perfectly and organically coupled with the theonomous vision of theology of culture nature and morality is profoundly ecologically oriented

Ecological Revolutions Carolyn Merchant,2010 With the arrival of European explorers and settlers during the seventeenth century Native American ways of life and the environment itself underwent radical alterations as human relationships to the land and ways of thinking about nature all changed Thi Creation Set Free Sigurd Bergmann,2005-11-23 In view of the destruction of the sources of life ecology is no longer a marginal issue In Creation Set Free Sigurd Bergmann creatively rethinks the discipline of theology in light of the ecological crisis He is concerned throughout to see the cosmos as something involved in redemption rather a mere stage for the human salvific drama After critically and constructively summarizing previous initiatives toward an ecological theology Bergmann opens up an extraordinary dialogue between these initiatives and church father Gregory of Nazianzus Through the neglected topics of sociality motion suffering and the Spirit the author brings to light Gregory's thought on the liberation of creation Finally Bergmann connects ecological issues and patristic tradition with contemporary liberation theology Spiritual Ecology Chief Oren Lyons,Thomas Berry,Thich Nhat Hanh,Chief Tamale Bwoya,John Stanley,David Robert Loy,Mary Evelyn Tucker,Brian Swimme,Sr. Miriam MacGillis,Wendell Berry,Winona LaDuke,Vandana Shiva,Susan Murphy Roshi,Satish Kumar,Joanna Macy,Geneen Marie Haugen,Eleanor O'Hanlon,Jules Cashford,Bill Plotkin,Sandra Ingerman,Pir Zia Inayat-Khan,Fr. Richard Rohr,Shephali Patel,Lyla June Johnston,2016-09-01 The Zen Master Thich Nhat Hanh was asked what we need to do to save our world What we most need to do he replied is to hear within us the sound of the earth crying Our present ecological crisis is the greatest man made disaster this planet has ever faced its accelerating climate change species depletion pollution and acidification of the oceans A central but rarely addressed aspect of this crisis is our forgetfulness of the sacred nature of creation and how this affects our relationship to the environment There is a pressing need to articulate a spiritual response to this ecological crisis This is vital and necessary if we are to help bring the world as a living whole back into balance The first edition of this book published in 2013 fostered the emergence of the Spiritual Ecology Movement which recognizes the need for a spiritual response to our present ecological crisis It drew an overwhelmingly positive response from readers many of whom are asking the simple question What can I do The 2016 expanded edition offers new chapters including two from younger authors who are putting the principles of spiritual ecology into action working with their hands as well as their hearts It also includes a new preface and revised chapter by Llewellyn Vaughan Lee that reference two major recent events the publication of Pope Francis s encyclical On Care for Our Common Home which brought into the mainstream the idea that the ecological crisis is essentially a spiritual problem and the 2015 Paris Climate Change Conference which saw representatives from nearly 200 countries come together to address global warming including faith leaders from many traditions And in Autumn 2021 we have issued a new edition with a new updated preface from editor Llewellyn Vaughan Lee who has also rewritten his chapter The Call of the Earth Bringing together voices from Buddhism Sufism Christianity and Native American traditions as well as from physics deep psychology and other environmental disciplines this book calls on us to reassess our underlying attitudes and beliefs about the Earth and wake up to our spiritual as well as physical responsibilities toward the planet It s hard to imagine finding a wiser group of humans than the authors represented here all of them both thinkers and do ers in the greatest battle humans have ever faced
