Ein Springender Brunnen Roman:

Ein springender Brunnen Martin Walser, 2002 Children and Cultural Memory in Texts of Childhood Heather Snell, Lorna Hutchison, 2013-11-07 The essays in this collection address the relationship between children and cultural memory in texts both for and about young people The collection overall is concerned with how cultural memory is shaped contested forgotten recovered and re-circulated sometimes in opposition to dominant national narratives and often for the benefit of young readers who are assumed not to possess any prior cultural memory From the innovative development of school libraries in the 1920s to the role of utopianism in fixing cultural memory for teen readers it provides a critical look into children and ideologies of childhood as they are represented in a broad spectrum of texts including film poetry literature and architecture from Canada the United States Japan Germany Britain India and Spain These cultural forms collaborate to shape ideas and values in turn contributing to dominant discourses about national and global citizenship The essays included in the collection imply that childhood is an oft imagined idealist construction based in large part on participation identity and perception childhood is invisible and tangible exciting and intriguing and at times elusive even as cultural and literary artifacts recreate it Children and Cultural Memory in Texts of Childhood is a valuable resource for scholars of children's literature and culture readers interested in childhood and ideology and those working in the fields of diaspora and postcolonial studies The Child's View of the Third Reich in German Literature Debbie Pinfold, 2001-08-23 This book examines the ways in which German authors have used the child's perspective to present the Third Reich It considers how children at this time were brought up and educated to accept unquestioningly National Socialist ideology and thus questions the possibility of a traditional naive perspective on these events Authors as diverse as Günter Grass Siegfried Lenz and Christa Wolf together with many less well known writers have all used this perspective and this raises the question as to why it is such a popular means of confronting the enormity of the Third Reich This study asks whether this perspective is an evasive strategy a means of gaining new insights into the period or a means of discovering a new language which had not been tainted by Nazism This raises and addresses issues central to a post-war aesthetic in German writing The Novel in German since 1990 Stuart Taberner, 2011-09-01 Diversity is one of the defining characteristics of contemporary German language literature not just in terms of the variety of authors writing in German today but also in relation to theme form technique and style However common themes emerge the Nazi past transnationalism globalisation migration religion and ethnicity gender and sexuality and identity This book presents the novel in German since 1990 through a set of close readings both of international bestsellers including Daniel Kehlmann's Measuring the World and W G Sebald's Austerlitz and of less familiar but important texts such as Yad Kara's Selam Berlin Each novel discussed in the volume has been chosen on account of its aesthetic quality its impact and its representativeness the authors featured among them Nobel Prize winners Günter Grass Elfriede Jelinek and Herta and Paul Amirani demonstrate the energy and quality of contemporary writing in German The

After the Nazis Michael H. Kater, 2023-01-01 A wide ranging insightful history of culture in West Germany from literature film and music to theater and the visual arts After World War II a mood of despair and impotence pervaded the arts in West Germany The culture and institutions of the Third Reich were abruptly dismissed yet there was no immediate return to the Weimar period's progressive ideals In this moment of cultural stasis how could West Germany's artists free themselves from their experiences of Nazism Moving from 1945 to reunification Michael H Kater explores West German culture as it emerged from the darkness of the Third Reich Examining periods of denial and complacency as well as attempts to reckon with the past he shows how all postwar culture was touched by the vestiges of National Socialism From the literature of Günter Grass to the happenings of Joseph Beuys and Karlheinz Stockhausen's innovations in electronic music Kater shows how it was only through the reinvigoration of the cultural scene that West Germany could contend with its past and eventually allow democracy to reemerge

Seelenarbeit an Deutschland, 2016-08-09 The last decade has undoubtedly been the most controversial in the long literary career of Martin Walser This volume presents a review of this career going far beyond short lived arguments to present an insightful overview of much of his work It considers not only major aspects of his writing covering both his literary beginnings and the most recent works but also different previously neglected features of his persona and his writing namely his activity as a university teacher and his art criticism In addition fruitful comparisons are made with other writers such as Proust Grass and Uwe Johnson At the same time recent controversies are also considered with major attention being paid to Walser's public speeches and those works of fiction which have been seen by some as demanding the end of German self-recriminations over the Nazi past This volume is unique in that much space is devoted to both sides of the argument It will provide stimulating reading to all those interested in Germany and German literature

Benkert, Michael Mayer, 2022-09-15 Terrortimes Terrorscapes Continuities of Space Time and Memory in Twentieth Century War and Genocide investigates interconnections between space and violence throughout the twentieth century and how such connections informed collective memory The interdisciplinary volume shows how entangled notions of time and space amplified by memory narratives led to continuities of violence across different conflicts creating terrortimes and terrrorscapes in their wake The volume examines such continuities of violence with the help of an analytical framework built around different themes Its first part spatial and temporal continuities of violence looks at contested spaces and ideas of national ethnic or religious homogeneity that are often at the heart of prolonged conflicts The second part on states and actors addresses the role of states as enablers of violence asymmetric power dynamics and the connection between imperialism and genocide in Africa Imagination and emotion the focus of the third part explores utopian visions and their limits that instigate or hinder and the mobilization of emotion through propaganda Finally the fourth part shows how the recollection of the past sometimes triggers new terrortimes Departing from an understanding of violence limited to certain areas and time frames this volume describes continuities of violence as overlapping fabrics woven together from notions of space time and memory

Traces Silke Arnold-de Simine, 2005 This essay collection examines the dynamics of memory organization and the way it varies among different media and modes of discourse in post unification Germany German unification has put the post war period into a historical perspective Such a rupture raises questions concerning the appropriate commemoration preservation and reinterpretation of the past The processes of reorientation after unification influenced the self perception of literary authors as well as the social role position and status of German literature They also affected the way writers viewed the competition in which they found themselves pitted against visual and electronic media as rival windows on the past In the context of several debates on German literature during the 1990s the discussion revolved not only around the adequate aesthetic representation of the historical and cultural heritage but even more so around the role of literature itself in that process The contributions look at different discourses that were and still are concerned with reinterpreting and creating new collective symbols and narrative patterns in relation to Germany's past The volume focuses on the effects of the characteristic discourses of the press literature and its different genres film the internet and memorials on the depiction and performance of memories
