Parliament,New Zealand. Parliament. House of Representatives,1907 The Economics of Rural Organization Karla Hoff,Avishay Braverman,Joseph E. Stiglitz,1993 A key to understanding why some rural development policies succeed and some fail is found in this book The editors contend that established economic models are inadequate to interpret the behavior of rural markets and nonmarket institutions This book investigates economic institutions and contractual arrangements in credit labor and land markets and analyzes their implications for the behavior of the rural sector Drawing on 15 short case studies five overview and nine theoretical chapters explore some of the most pressing problems facing developing countries how to promote financial integration of the rural sector how to rationalize the use of land and water and how to design and administer tax and transfer policies The book contributes to theory empirical methodology and the solution of concrete policy questions The Musical Times and Singing-class Circular ,1915 The Politics of Property Rights Institutions in Africa Ato Kwamena Onoma,2009-12-28 Why do some political leaders create and strengthen institutions like title registries and land tribunals that secure property rights to land while others neglect these institutions or destroy those that already exist How do these institutions evolve once they have been established This book answers these questions through spatial and temporal comparison of national and subnational cases from Botswana Ghana and Kenya and to a lesser extent Zimbabwe Onoma argues that the level of property rights security that leaders prefer depends on how they use land However the extent to which leaders institutional preferences are translated into actual institutions depends on the level of leaders capacity Further once established these institutions through their very working can contribute to their own decline over time This book is unique in revealing the political and economic reasons why some leaders unlike others prefer an environment of insecure rights even as land prices increase The Arab in Israeli Drama and Theatre Dan Urian,1997 The Author uses of extensive examples showing how theatre politics and personal perceptions intertwine presenting us with a model for further discussion and study of similar social and artistic phenomena in other cultures
