From Whitlam To Winston:

The (almost) Complete Gough Barry Cohen, 2001-07-01 The man can't help it. Self-parody sending up other people's expectations a love of the absurd Gough's still going strong To mark another birthday and in response to popular demand we've brought together Life With Gough and the best of Whitlam to Winston with some great newly minted Gough stories to present a bumper edition of The almost Complete Gough So once again here's a larger than life Australian infuriatingly high falutin and bizarrely prurient inflating himself above politics enjoying himself hugely at the expense of the mean spirited the pompous the ingratiating the serious and the dull Here is an agreeable and welcome mix of irreverence wit and absurdity Here is captured some of the moods and interests that had tenancy in the Whitlam mind the imperious the classical the historical the rompish the waggish and the outrageously provocative James Killen Anyone who has ever struggled to suppress mirth during a church service understands the pleasure to be found in sharing Barry Cohen's witty irreverent but affectionate anecdotes Don't tell Gough The Hon Kim Beazley

From Traveller to Traitor Tom Heenan, 2006-10-07 The radical journalist Wilfred Burchett 1911-1983 was persecuted by the Australian government during his lifetime and publicly reviled in print long after his death After a distinguished wartime career with the London Daily Express Burchett drifted to the left with the onset of the Cold War During the Korean and Vietnam wars he was condemned as a traitor for his pro Communist reports and denied an Australian passport by successive Liberal governments of the 1950s and 1960s From Traveller to Traitor is the first scholarly biography of this controversial foreign correspondent Tom Heenan explores the truth behind Burchett's reports from his travels on the other side of the ideological divide Using ASIO files from the 1950s to the 1970s and other archival material Heenan exposes the insubstantial nature of the allegations of treachery made against Burchett This book casts valuable new light on an extraordinary Australian whose story is one of the greatest political scandals in the nation's history

Latham at Large Mark Latham, 2015-03-02 Mark Latham is by his own admission the most outspoken rebellious thoroughly uncontrollable former leader in Labor Party history In these brilliantly written opinion pieces Latham pulls no punches as he scrutinises the Australian political landscape looking at everything from climate change to Clive Palmer to what went wrong with Rudd Gillard and what's now wrong with Abbott Beyond politics Latham dabbles in his other great interests such as critiquing the modern media and explaining his fascination with horse racing His hilarious Henderson Watch columns and other satirical writing also feature in Latham at Large Mark Latham has a formidable intellect and a forensic ability to get to the bottom of things This is an entertaining thought provoking sometimes scathing often humorous collection from a man who is not afraid to speak his mind There is no one else like him in Australian public life Whitlam's Children Shaun Crowe,2018-09-17 Over the past three decades progressive politics in Australia has undergone a gradual but unmistakable transformation Where the Australian Labor Party once enjoyed dominance over the political left it now shares space with the Greens at times depending on minor party support to form government and even more often to pass contentious legislation Based on over forty interviews with politicians and party figures Whitlam s Children is the first study of this increasingly important relationship in Australian politics Did previous attempts at cooperation particularly minority government under Julia Gillard deliver successful government and how do each judge the experiment in hindsight Why are certain policy areas like refugee settlement and environmental policy so stubborn and divisive And will we ever see a more lasting coalition on the Australian left to mirror the established arrangement on the Australian right While revealing a variety of perspectives even within parties the research uncovers a productive if often hostile relationship united by a series of shared values but divided by different approaches to politics elections and parliament Featuring a preface by Geoff Gallop Inside the Canberra Press Gallery Rob Chalmers,2011-10-01 Before television radio and later the internet came to dominate the coverage of Australian politics the Canberra Press Gallery existed in a world far removed from today s 24 hour news cycle spin doctors and carefully scripted sound bites This historical memoir of a career reporting from The Wedding Cake of Old Parliament House offers a rare insider s perspective on both how the gallery once operated and its place in the Australian body politic Using some of the biggest political developments of the past fifty years as a backdrop Inside the Canberra Press Gallery Life in the Wedding Cake of Old Parliament House sheds light on the inner workings of an institution critical to the health of our parliamentary democracy Rob Chalmers 1929 2011 entered the Federal Parliamentary Press Gallery in 1951 as a twenty one year old reporter for the now defunct Sydney Daily Mirror and would retire from political commentary 60 years later an unprecedented career span in Australian political history No parliamentary figure politician bureaucrat or journalist can match Chalmers experience from his first Question Time on 7 March 1951 until desperately ill he reluctantly retired from editing the iconic newsletter Inside Canberra sixty years four months and eighteen days later As well as being considered a shrewd political analyst Chalmers was a much loved member of the gallery and a past president of the National Press Club Rob Chalmers used to boast that he had outlasted 11 prime ministers and a 12th Julia Gillard described him as one of the greats of Australian political journalism upon his passing Rob Chalmers is survived by his wife Gloria and two children from a previous marriage Susan and Rob jnr Power Of Speech James Curran,2014-07-18 The subjects of this book are five fascinating prime ministers Gough Whitlam Malcolm Fraser Bob Hawke Paul Keating and John Howard and how they view Australia Until the 1960s our nation believed itself to be British Then during a decade of momentous change this concept of our national identity collapsed It was buried by the forces of cultural and political renewal by disturbing and exciting developments in Asia and by a dawning recognition that the global era of colonial power was over The result was a crisis of national meaning reflected in public debates about multiculturalism Australia s relationships with its Asian neighbours the dispossession of indigenous Australians and the nation s involvement in war In recent years our political leaders have played a conspicuous role in the controversy In The Power of Speech James Curran explores the end of the idea of British Australia and how successive prime ministers have attempted to assert personal and often competing visions of Australian nationalism in its place This highly original study of prime ministerial rhetoric exposes the sources of our most powerful leaders beliefs about Australia

Facing North Volume 1 David Goldsworthy, 2012-11-27 Facing North is the first substantial history of Australia s relations with Asia since Federation Volume 1 chronicles Australian Asian relations from 1901 to the 1970s and Volume 2 in preparation will carry the story through the last decades of the century just ended Both make extensive use of official government sources and of the private collections of ministers and public servants Debate about engagement with Asia is not a recent phenomenon Ever since Federation Australians in public life have expressed diverse views on our foreign policy and on areas with major domestic consequences such as immigration In this volume Australia faces up to many changes in Asia Japan an expanding military power during the 1930s becomes an economic partner during the 1950s The Pacific war and decolonisation open Australia s regional horizons and the Vietnam war necessitates active engagement with Southeast Asia Failure to recognise China during the 1950s and 1960s shifts after 1972 to a vigorous search for relationship Other key developments include the initiation of the Colombo Plan in the 1950s and gradual abolition in the 1960s and 1970s of the White Australia Policy The story is not a simple one of smoothly evolving engagement The challenges presented by Asian realities have evoked complex responses which this history analyses and clarifies It explains the major changes in official Australian policies towards Asia together with the broader cultural challenges Facing North tells us what was done in the past and why It is essential reading for anyone who wants to better understand Australia s present relations with Asian countries and our future choices

seemed to bring out the worst in Winston Churchill Often enough to form a discernible pattern Australia found itself on the wrong side of the very qualities his strength of will singleness of purpose his refusal to give way in things great or small large or petty the power of his imagination to set grim reality at defiance his mastery of the English language that made Winston Churchill as the philosopher Isaiah Berlin described him the saviour of his country the largest human being of his time Winston Churchill was a titan of the 20th Century universally acknowledged as one of the greatest leaders of his age Yet his relationship with Australia was a fraught one tainted by the military failure of the Gallipoli campaign in the First War and the disaster of Singapore in the Second Churchill the patrician descendant of dukes could not appreciate Australia's dearly held egalitarianism while Churchill the imperial statesman was impatient and at times intolerant of Australia's growing urge towards independence The relationship between the two would span the first 50 tumultuous years of the 20th Century from the Boer War through to opening salvos of the Cold War and act as a fascinating backdrop to Australia's maturity from a collection of autonomous colonies to full nationhood Written with extraordinary narrative verve and relying on exhaustive research and a true insider's knowledge of the political world this is history written at its compelling best Winner of the Walkley Award for Non fiction 2008 Values in Cities James Lesh, 2022-09-23 Examining urban heritage in twentieth century Australia James Lesh reveals how evolving ideas of value and significance shaped cities and places Over decades a growing number of sites and areas were found to be valuable by communities and professionals Places perceived to have value were often conserved Places perceived to lack value became subject to modernisation redevelopment and renewal From the 1970s alongside strengthened activism and legislation with the innovative Burra Charter 1979 the values based model emerged for managing the aesthetic historic scientific and social significance of historic environments Values thus transitioned from an implicit to an overt component of urban architectural and planning conservation The field of conservation became a noted profession and discipline Conservation also had a broader role in celebrating the Australian nation and in reconciling settler colonialism for the twentieth century Integrating urban history and heritage studies this book provides the first longitudinal study of the twentieth century Australian heritage movement It advocates for innovative and reflexive modes of heritage practice responsive to urban social and environmental imperatives As the values based model continues to shape conservation worldwide this book is an essential reference for researchers students and practitioners concerned with the past and future of cities and heritage The Foreword and Chapter 1 Introduction of this book are available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Gatekeepers R.A.W. the urgent doesn't crowd out the important. It comes down to finely tuned coordination. It is about winning support in cabinet caucus and country. The Gatekeepers offers unparalleled insights into how things really work at the centre of Australia's governing networks from those who have worked as chiefs of staff under prime ministers from Fraser to Rudd. Power and International Relations Desmond Ball, Sheryn Lee, 2014-11-25. Coral Mary Bell AO who died in 2012 was one of the world's foremost academic experts on international relations, crisis management and alliance diplomacy. This collection of essays by more than a dozen of her friends and colleagues is intended to honour her life and examine her ideas and through them her legacy. Part 1 describes her growing up during the Great Depression and the Second World War, her short-lived sojourn in the Department of External Affairs in Canberra where she was friends with some of the spies who worked for Moscow and her academic career over the subsequent six decades, the last three of which were at The Australian National University. Most of Coral's academic career was spent in Departments of International Relations. She was disdainful of academic theory but as discussed in Part 2 she had a very sophisticated understanding of the subject. She was in many ways a Realist but one for whom agency in terms of ideas, the beliefs and perceptions of policy makers and institutions including conventions and norms of behaviour essentially determined events. Part 3 is concerned with power politics including such matters as Cold War competitions, crisis management, alliance diplomacy and US and Australian foreign policies. She recognised that power politics left untrammelled was inevitably catastrophic and was increasingly attracted to notions of Concerts of Power. Coral would be touched by this collection of essays about her professional and personal life. The contributors offer honest professional and insightful reviews of her many academic achievements and especially her ideas, many of them the forerunners of others' work that makes her one of the very best international relations and strategic thinkers. Dr Pauline Kerr, Asia Pacific College of Diplomacy, The Australian National University. It's a rare thing in an international relations expert to possess a balance of theory and experience, history and imagination, realism and hope. Coral had this and she had a 19th century prose style to match it.

Through her writing she explained the chaos of international events and human affairs in simple and clear language to her baffled compatriots For the rest of the world she brought an antipodean temperament and perspective to the great questions of our time she was our George Kennan in thick glasses blue floral dress white sneakers and a string of pearls Minh Bui Jones The Lowy Interpreter 5 October 2012
