The Art of Winging It Dr. Kaushik Sridhar, 2022-11-28 In this book, you will read about my life and learn how and why traditional structures and ways of doing things have never really worked for me. Throughout my life, I've learned how to break away, make often frightening leaps, and forge my own path, flying by the seat of my pants. It's not always easy to run against the wind. You will encounter resistance. You will have doubts and doubters. You will need an inner resolve, one that can be cultivated and enhanced. Having grown up in India, Nigeria, the United States, and now calling Australia home, I have found that when it comes to forging your own path, there are no established rules. You have to make them for yourself. These ideas apply to life as well as business. This book will help you to learn how to back yourself. In developing my own rules, I've learned how to break away from expectations and unhelpful pressures and found that the only way to fly is by truly winging it.

Bad Girls, Bad Girls, Watcha Gonna Do? Cynthia Voigt, 2013-03-12 It's not easy being Mikey Elsinger and Margalo Epps in ninth grade. It seems like things are changing. Now some people want to sit at the same lunch table with them, and some even ask them for advice. What are the two friends to make of this strange behavior? Frankly, all the attention cuts into the little time they have together and distracts attention from their own interests like tennis and drama and their own problems like cheating in tennis and things not going the way Margalo plans they will in drama. In the opinion of these two bad girls, ninth grade can't end fast enough. But no matter how bad things get, one thing's for sure: They'll have each other. The final book in the acclaimed Bad Girls series, Bad Girls, Bad Girls, Watcha Gonna Do, is another funny, insightful, and realistic novel from Newbery Medal winner Cynthia Voigt.

John Ruder,2019-01-18 Tennis is not a game for the faint of heart It is one of the few sports where a player must not only keep score but also act as both umpire and referee A tennis match has no time clock no halftime no timeouts no substitutions and can last anywhere from thirty minutes to four hours During that time players may run over five miles and hit well over a thousand shots In the end both the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat rest solely upon the players shoulders So what can a player do today to win more games than not John Ruder relies on thirty five years of coaching and teaching tennis to share a Tactical Point Control System that breaks the tennis point into four distinct phases teaches competitors how to play in each phase provides a checkpoint system that allows players to discover why they are winning or losing each point and shares guidance on how to develop a game plan that enables players to better compete against opponents of all levels Winning Tennis with the Tactical Point Control System shares a simple and effective game plan that allows tennis players to excel in the game and score points against their toughest opponents 101 Youth Tennis Drills Rob Antoun,Dan Thorp,2013-08-30
