Very Old Bones William Kennedy, 2011-12-22 It is 1958 and the Phelan clan has gathered to hear Peter Phelan's will read by the living Peter himself an artist whose paintings about members of the family have given him belated critical recognition The paintings illuminate the lives of his brother Francis the exiled hero of Ironweed and a family ancestor Malachi McIlhenny a true madman beset by demons and determined to send them back to hell Orson Purcell bastard son of Peter and half mad himself encounters his first true solace through this obsessive and close knit family he has never quite entered most especially through his Aunt Molly whose intense love affair holds secrets that only another love can resurrect It is through Orson's modern eye that we see the tragedies obsessions and clandestine joys of this singular family This is climatic work in William Kennedy's Albany Cycle riding on the melody of its language and the power of its story which is full of surprise comedy terror and earthly delight

That's What I'm Talking about Richard B. Cook, 2006-12 Collection of Previously Published Articles and Reviews The selections are tied together by the theme the nature of belief its expression and application in different contexts both historical and literary There is an emphasis upon the missionary career of St Paul both as an organizer of newly converted Gentile believers and as a former persecutor of believers who denounced him to his converts

A Mirror in the Roadway Morris Dickstein, 2007-02-25 In this collection of essays Morris Dickstein focuses on the rich interchange of ideas between writers such as Kafka C. line Carver Bellow Kennedy and the world around them the lives that formed them the places they write about the social changes they make indelibly real to us
