From Where I Stand:

From Where I Stand Sihlangule Mmiselo Siwisa, 2015-11-21 This book is about leadership It is about the kind of leadership that bends the arc of history and builds upon heritage in order to create a living legacy The central challenge of a society that is moving away from imbalanced development is not only addressing economic inequality but also restoring a sense of confidence in the quality of thought leadership that steers the destiny of the nation We need cohesive leadership and that in turn can precipitate the kind of patriotism that emphasizes seeking common ground and consensus above dwelling on differences and petty party politicking that polarizes our nation I believe that there is a difference between history and heritage History is the sum total of all of our stories but Heritage is what we choose to appropriate out of our History to own and shape the values rituals and destiny of a particular society We do not have the luxury of cherry picking what we regard to be palatable or unpalatable within history regarding the truth and the completeness of the collective story of history For instance the Anglo Boer War and the Rise of Afrikaner Nationalism is as much a valid part of South African History as the birth and evolution of the African National Congress as the oldest and most enduring liberation movement in Africa Heritage however is what I choose to appropriate or own and subsequently celebrate out of History as being part of my own story and therefore worthy of being re told in order to build establish strengthen and sustain the value system of my own society I believe all of history is worthy of being remembered but not all that is within history is worthy of being celebrated What I choose to celebrate out of history is what I appropriate as my heritage

From Where We Stand Deborah Tall, 2016-05-05 Why does a particular landscape move us What is it that attaches us to a particular place Tall's From Where We Stand is an eloquent exploration of the connections we have with places and the loss to us if there are no such connections A typically rootless child of several American suburbs Tall set out to make a true home for herself in the landscape that circumstance had brought her the Finger Lakes region of upstate New York In a mosaic of personal anecdotes historical sketches and lyrical meditations she interweaves her own story with the story of this place and its people from the Seneca Nation of the Iroquois to European settlers to the many utopians who sensed and were inspired by a spiritual resonance here This edition includes an introduction by William Kittredge and a foreword by Stephen Kuusisto both highlighting the book's significance and Tall's exquisite skill in tracing the relationship between homelands and storytelling From Where We Stand Cynthia Cockburn, 2013-07-04 This original study examines women's activism against war in areas as far apart as Sierra Leone India Colombia and Palestine It shows women on different sides of conflicts in the former Yugoslavia and Israel addressing racism and refusing enmity and describes international networks of women opposing US and Western European militarism and the so called war on terror These movements though diverse are generating an antimilitarist feminism that challenges how war and militarism are understood both in academic studies and the mainstream anti war movement Gender particularly the form taken by masculinity in a violent sex gender system is inseparably linked to economic and ethno national factors in the perpetuation of war

I Stand Convicted R. L. Tirschel, 2005-04 The cop busted through the door and I dove out the window and into the cold night air It was 4am mid December and all I was wearing was my underwear A thin swirl of snow circled the ground three floors below With his gun in one hand the cop grabbed my leg as soon as I was out the window He held me in place and I stood perpendicular to the outside wall of the building I tried to kick off the wall with the foot that was free but I kicked the cops hand instead and he dropped his gun and loosened his grip on my leg I pulled free and flew away and as I floated in the air time played a cruel trick on me It let me fall so slow that I had plenty of time to think how bad it was going to hurt when I landed I calmly wondered if I would be alive once I hit the ground I was comforted by the thought that if I wasn't I would have made good my escape The cops would certainly have me then but at least I would be free It felt good sailing through that black void expecting what was to come Because in that period of time I was free I was as free as a bird in captivity
